PERSONAL SERVICE

Gift of

Roger S. Baskes

PERSONAL SERVICE in piano buying is of great importance. It is especially important where the instrument costs over a hundred dollars. And it is especially important where the article is bought for long service—like a piano.

PERSONAL SERVICE IN PIANO BUYING is unexcelled at the store of the Cable Piano Co. It makes an ordinary business transaction a real pleasure and is one of the little features which our customers enjoy and talk about.

MR. JACOB MALKES has been connected with the Cable Piano Co. for sixteen years. You will find his personal service in helping you select the best piano for your money of the greatest value. And he will not only save you money, but point out the qualities which will make your instrument render lifetime satisfaction.

Foreword

THE SENTINEL PUBLISHING CO. takes pleasure in issuing the CHICAGO JEWISH COMMUNITY BLUE BOOK. The task has been laborious and costly, but the publishers are rewarded with the knowledge that the BLUE BOOK will prove of timely aid to many anxious to secure information at short notice regarding any organization here listed.

¶ In the following pages will be found data regarding Chicago's Jewish organizations of various kinds, religious, philanthropic, educational and social—covering date of organization, founders, scope of work undertaken, officers, and members.

¶ The BLUE BOOK is a mirror of the busy, diversified and useful life of Chicago's Jews. Few of the organizations herein described will be found not doing some helpful humanitarian work, even when the prime purpose is to furnish recreation to their members.

¶ Confident of having the gratitude of the Chicago Jewish Community, the publishers send forth the BLUE BOOK in the hope that it may awaken pride in the great variety of activities going on, and that, as a consequence, many will be influenced to join themselves to the various worthy labors undertaken.

ASSOCIATED JEWISH CHARITIES

The Associated Jewish Charities of Chicago came into existence at a public meeting held in Sinai Temple vestry rooms, April 12, 1900.

The first officers of the Associated were: President, Edwin G. Foreman; vice-president, Harry Hart; treasurer, Isidor Baumgartl; secretary, Julian W. Mack. Directors—Mrs. Hannah G. Solomon, George Frank, Louis B. Kuppenheimer, A. G. Becker, Simon W. Straus, Edwin F. Meyer and Leon Mandel.

The subscribers to the Associated have grown from 600 in 1900, to 6,700. The yearly subscriptions have grown from $100,000 gathered in 1900, to $609,000 raised during 1916-17.

The Associated is the Central organization for the collection and distribution of the funds for the maintenance in whole or in part of the following institutions and agencies: Michael Reese Hospital, Jewish Aid Society (including the B'nai Brith Free Employment Bureau, Bureau of Personal Service, Relief Department and West Side Dispensary), Jewish Training School, Chicago Home for Jewish Orphans, Home for Aged Jews, Home for Jewish Friendless and Working Girls, Jewish Home Finding Society, Chicago-Winfield Tuberculosis Sanitorium, Maxwell Settlement Association, Woman's Loan Association, Helen Day Nursery, Chicago Association of Women for Summer Work, Chicago Lying-In Hospital and Dispensary, the Jewish Consumptives Relief Society, the National Jewish Hospital at Denver, Colo.; the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid Society of New York, and the Leo N. Levi Memorial Hospital Association of Hot Springs, Ark.

The Associated occupies an entire building, the Central Administration Building, at 1800 Selden Street, dedicated November 18, 1915, especially erected for its purposes, which houses also the offices of most of its subsidiary agencies.

HOME FOR AGED JEWS

(Affiliated with the Associated Jewish Charities)

For years the project of establishing a home for aged Jews in Chicago was agitated by the Israelitische Altenheim Verein, an organization established for that specific purpose.

With an offer of $50,000 from Abraham Slimmer of Waverly, Iowa, on condition that a like amount be raised in Chicago, a new organization was formed April 6, 1891, with Morris Rosenbaum as president.

The amount stipulated by Mr. Slimmer to be raised in Chicago was quickly gotten together, the chief donors being Mrs. Eliza Frank, who gave $10,000; Nelson Morris, H. A. Kohn, Jacob Rosenberg and Mrs. Henrietta Rosenfield, who gave $5,000 each; Morris Rosenbaum and Joseph Rosenbaum, who subscribed $1,000 each, and others. The Israelitische Altenheim Verein turned over $3,000 which it had in its treasury.

The building on the northwest corner of Drexel avenue and 62nd street, where the home is located, was dedicated and opened Sunday, April 30, 1893. E. Frankenthal was chairman of the building committee and S. B. Eisendrath drew the plans. Seven applicants were at once admitted and at the end of the year the number at the home was 44.

Morris Rosenbaum served as President for many years.

The first Superintendent was Mrs. B. J. David.

CHICAGO-WINFIELD TUBERCULOSIS SANITARIUM

(Affiliated with the Associated Jewish Charities)

The Chicago-Winfield Tuberculosis Sanitarium at Winfield, Ill., was dedicated and opened in February, 1909, since which time it has ministered to close to 1,000 patients. Its admits cases of incipient tuberculosis.

Statistics of this model institution show that from seventy-five to eighty per cent of the patients are completely restored to health, and that from ten to fifteen per cent show marked improvement, leaving less than ten per cent without hope in their dread malady.

Patients remain at the sanitarium for an average period of six months.

MAXWELL SETTLEMENT ASSOCIATION

(Affiliated with the Associated Jewish Charities)

The Maxwell Settlement Association conducts the Maxwell Street Settlement, the first Jewish center in Chicago, opened November 18, 1893, at 185 Maxwell street in the heart of the crowded Russian Jewish district of Chicago. The settlement at present is at 1214 South Clinton street.

Jesse Lowenhaupt and Jacob J. Abt were the first residents. The former lived at the settlement until December, 1896, and the latter until February, 1898. Moritz Rosenthal, member of the well-known law firm of Moses, Rosenthal & Mayer, was a resident from February, 1894, to April, 1897. Other well known residents were Aaron E. Rosenthal and Joseph Weissenbach.

The work of the settlement grew so rapidly that shortly after its establishment, 15 non-resident workers were required to carry on its efforts, including instruction in English to adults, aid in securing admission in various higher schools of learning, etc.

Many a successful professional man and woman now prominent on the West Side was given a start and inspiration to persevere at the Maxwell Street Settlement.

JEWISH TRAINING SCHOOL

(Affiliated with the Associated Jewish Charities)

The Jewish Training School was dedicated and opened October 19, 1890. It was established as a model school for the children of the Jewish poor on the crowded West Side, where the qualities of self-reliance and self-help could be instilled and where vocational training could be given. It was one of the first vocational training schools to be established in the United States. Instruction is given free of charge.

Several years passed before agitation for a school of this character in the Chicago Jewish Community began to bear fruit, but after a meeting held in Sinai Temple, in 1888, at which Leon Mandel offered to contribute $20,000, and others also promised to give substantial aid, including Max A. Mayer, who gave $10,000, and Emanuel Mandel, H. A. Kohn and Charles S. Schwab subscribed $5,000 each, active work was started at once, resulting in the opening of the school on the date mentioned.

When the school was opened 1,600 applied for admission, but there were accommodations for only half that number. However, 1,100 were enrolled and given instruction by 20 paid teachers and 5 volunteers.

The school has four departments, kindergarten, primary, grammar and trade school. Children from 3 to 15 years of age are admitted. Charles H. Schwab served as first president, and Dr. Joseph Stolz as first secretary of the Training School. Professor Gabriel Hamberger was the first principal. Henry L. Frank was president of the school for twenty years. Leo Fox has been treasurer for twenty-six years. Lessing Rosenthal has served as chairman of the school board for eighteen years, and

Lessing Rosenthal,

CHICAGO HOME FOR JEWISH ORPHANS

(Affiliated With the Associated Jewish Charities)

The Chicago Home for Jewish Orphans, 6208 Drexel Avenue, was created by the Orphans' Home Society, a group of earnest and hard-working Jewish women of Chicago, who were active in the work of the United Hebrew Charities, and who labored for years to awaken Chicago to the need of having a home for Jewish orphans in Chicago. Previous to 1894, Chicago's Jewish orphans were sent to the Cleveland Orphan Asylum.

A charter incorporating the Orphans' Home Society was obtained March 16, 1893. The incorporators were Mesdames M. Hecht, A. I. Radzinski, L. Newberger, E. C. Hamburger and August Vondort.

Work of organization was formally begun at a public meeting held April 7, 1893, when many were interested in the project. More members were obtained rapidly and by the end of the year the membership was 400.

October 7, 1894, a home was opened at 3601 Vernon Avenue, with Rev. A. A. Lowenheim and Mrs. Lowenheim in charge, as superintendent and matron. The home soon was filled to capacity with 30 children.

With a donation of $24,000 from Abraham Slimmer of Waverly, Iowa, on condition that a like amount be raised in Chicago, and with property donated by Mr. Henry Siegel and others, building was begun in 1897 on a site chosen on Drexel Avenue and 62nd Street.

The four-story and basement, fire-proof construction now occupied by the Home was dedicated Sunday, April 23, 1899, and immediately occupied by the 34 orphans of the Vernon Avenue Home. The various rooms of the new building were equipped by different organizations and individuals, including the Baron Hirsch Ladies' Aid Society, the Free Sons of Israel, the Deborah Verein and others.

In March, 1900, Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Deutelbaum, were brought from the Cleveland Orphan Asylum and given charge of the institution.

Since 1900, the support for the Chicago Home for Jewish Orphans has been provided by the Associated Jewish Charities.

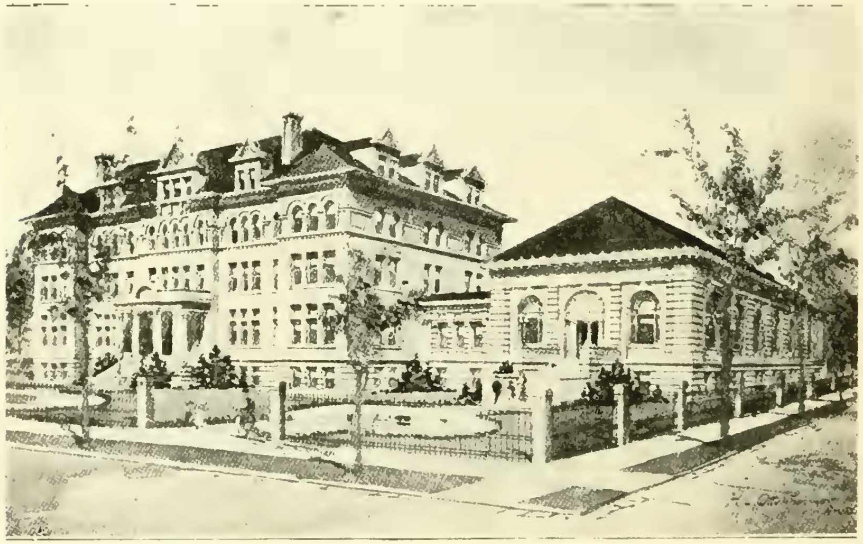

Mr. Charles H. Schwab faithfully served the Home as president for a long period of years, beginning with April, 1895.

With a gift of $24,000 made by Louis B. Kuppenheimer in memory of his deceased wife, Clara Schwab-Kuppenheimer, announced November 13, 1905, an Annex was built to the Home at the corner of 62nd street, which is now used for an assembly hall and other purposes.

The capacity of the Home is 250. Children between the ages of 5 and 11, sound in body and mind, are admitted, including the children of insane parents.

Since its inception, 23 years ago, 714 children have been sheltered. 244 are in the Home at the present time.

The chief aim of the Chicago Home for Jewish Orphans is to replace as fully as possible to the child, both the parent and the home. It sends its wards to the public schools, augmenting the public school curriculum by instruction in Jewish studies, manual training, vocal and instrumental music, gymnastics, dancing, swimming and domestic science. It seeks to give all its wards the benefit of a grammar school education, and where talent and character justify it, even a higher education. In the past fiscal year, 35 children attended high school, 14 attended business college and 1 was graduated from the Chicago Teachers' College with the highest average in her class. One boy attended a technical college. All the fourteen who attended business college are now able to earn their own living. To the orphan child this economic education is paramount.

BEACONSFIELD CLUB

The Beaconsfield Club was organized in 1894 to advance the social and political standing of the Jews in the old 19th Ward, now the 7th and 8th Wards. The Club took an active part in the candidacy of Simon Shaefer for the Legislature and Moses Barnett, candidate for Alderman of the 7th Ward.

The political feature of the Club, however, was soon abolished and instead a social and benevolent policy was adopted.

The Club progressed by giving public dances and picnics and soon became prosperous. The interest derived from the Club's funds in the bank was devoted to charity every six months, the recipients being the Marks Nathan Jewish Orphan Home, Michael Reese Hospital and the B. M. Z. Donations were also made to San Francisco at the time of the earthquake, to Dayton, Ohio, after its flood disaster, to the Denver Consumptive Home and the Winfield Sanitarium. $300 was contributed at the time of the Kishineff Massacre.

The Club has donated $200 annually to the Orthodox Federated Charities since its formation.

Members in case of illness receive $6 per week benefit for 20 weeks in one year. $100 is given dependents in case of death. Members also participate in a $150 distress benefit yearly.

The Club meets every second and fourth Thursdays at the Douglas Park Auditorium. Each year it gives a series of free entertainments for the benefit of the members and their ladies. It took an active interest in the Bazaar given by the B. M. Z. and the Marks Nathan Orphan Home, where it had charge of the candy booths. At the bazaar given by the reorganization committee of the Maimonides Hospital, June 16-24, 1917, the Beaconsfield Club was again active in the candy booth and by its good work helped to make the bazaar a great success.

WOMAN'S LOAN ASSOCIATION

In the year 1894 Miss Minnie Low and Miss Jennie B. Norden proposed to Mrs. I. J. Robin, Mrs. H. Pirosh, Mrs. D. J. Seilin and Mrs. L. Forges that a benevolent society be organized in the Jewish settlement for the immediate alleviation of needy families. A club was promptly formed by the above ladies and chartered under the name of the Woman's Aid Society.

Each of the members being rich in experience in relief and communal work, some in the city of Chicago and others trained in the fields of charity work of European cities understood how to apply their methods to the greatest benefit of their co-religionists, and before long had won the recognition, not only of their beneficiaries, but of many friends, who had occasion to come in contact with these willing workers, and were anxious to join their band. The membership grew within a short time to 50, when it was closed at that number.

Two years later some of the officers of the society attended a lecture of Professor Ahren, an English sociological worker, who dwelt upon the form of aiding the poor in advancing them moneys as temporary loans, which would have a tendency to make the recipient preserve his self-respect and make him anxious to repay the pledge instead of accepting same as gifts, which prove humiliating to the more respectable poor, and have the effect of making the careless poor more dependent.

Some of the members present were so impressed by the suggestions brought forth by the lecturer that at the next meeting of the society the advisability of forming a loan society was discussed, and after lengthy and careful deliberation, adopted. The first loan, amounting to $5.00, was made in the year 1897 in the office of Mrs. Robin's drug store, corner Jefferson and Liberty streets.

Mrs. Pirosh was the first president of the now duly organized Woman's Loan Association, Mrs. Robin was chairman, and Mrs. Seilin and Miss Norden members of the loan committee. The available capital was $87.00. Loans of from $5.00 to $25.00 were made and the work of the society was carried on in this manner for two years.

In order to increase the funds for this undertaking, which quickly developed into a recognized business, the society gave a dance in October, 1897, sending out attractive invitations to friends, with the request to contribute as many pennies as the donor had years. The result was satisfactory and entertainments and theatre parties followed with equally good results.

At the time the Associated Jewish Charities was formed, the Woman's Loan Association was asked to affiliate with that body. An appropriation of $500.00 yearly was granted, with the understanding that all "affairs" be eliminated. In 1908, during the panic, the Associated Jewish Charities increased their appropriation to the Woman's Loan Association to $2,100.00 per year.

In the meantime the amount of loans was gradually increased from the $25.00 limit to $100.00, and in some very needy cases to $150.00.

In 1914 the Woman's Aid offered the Woman's Loan Association a fund of $500.00 at their disposal, in memory of their departed co-worker, Fannie Adler, and the following year the Jochannah Lodge made a similar appropriation available for the Association.

In the twenty years of their activity as a loan medium, the Woman's Loan Association has assisted many a struggling peddler over the abyss of helplessness to a sound and sometimes prosperous foundation, has aided tailors and shoemakers to establish themselves and become independent, has helped numerous small merchants out of sad predicaments, has been instrumental in uniting husbands with their wives and children from across the seas and of establishing homes for them with fewer difficulties than the average immigrant has to contend with, has made it possible for students to complete their education, for widows to raise their children in their own homes, for aged immigrants to preserve their self-respect and dignity to which they were accustomed in their European home town, before mysterious fate had tossed them over to these shores and forced them to begin their economic struggles anew.

The Woman's Loan Association loans money to needy and deserving persons, especially where such loans are consistent with preventive charity. Money is advanced in amounts from $5.00 to $150.00, and is payable in twenty weekly installments, without interest. As security a judgment note is given by the borrower and one guarantor; for amounts above $75.00 two guarantors are required. Though in some cases payments are very slow, the books of the society stand as proof of the honesty and respectability of our poorer classes, the losses being about one to one and a half per cent of the total amounts advanced.

In some years as much as $33,000.00 has been loaned. In the past two years requests for loans have diminished, and the society has been able to grant all worthy applications; besides, for the last two years it was not necessary to ask the Associated Jewish Charities for the usual annual appropriation, and in October, 1916, the Society was even able to refund to the Associated the sum of $1,000.00. In 1916 loans were made to the amount of $26,000.00. In May, 1917, the Association had outstanding about $18,000.00.

The running expenses are comparatively small, as, with the exception of the investigator, the society has no paid workers. A committee of ten members is in attendance every Monday evening from 7 to 11 o'clock at the office, located in the vestry rooms of the First Hungarian Congregation, at Polk street and Marshfield avenue.

As proof of the effectiveness of this work it may be stated that many a former borrower has been accepted to guarantee loans for new borrowers, and they invariably do so with gratitude and pride. Repeatedly borrowers who have achieved success through money advanced have returned and volunteered to guarantee for others.

Since its inception the society has undergone very few changes. The membership, being limited to fifty, every one is proud of being associated with such useful work, and surprisingly few vacancies occur. Likewise each of the committee guards sacredly the privilege of service, and permits only sickness, absence from the city or other unavoidable circumstances to hinder the performance of such duties as are intrusted to her. Every Monday night, with the exception only of legal Jewish holidays, has been dedicated to this cause by the committee, the majority being the first leaders.

Mrs. Pirosh, the present chairman of the loan committee, has held this office for the past eight years, and was the first president. Mrs. I. J. Robin, present president, held the chairmanship for the first eleven years. Miss Norden has served on the committee continually, and as secretary of the loan committee for the past fifteen years, and Mrs. Seilen has the distinction of being the first and only financial secretary and has been elected for life. Mrs. M. L. Aren has repeatedly served as secretary, treasurer and president; Mrs. Werb has held the offices of president and treasurer; Mrs. Contarsy has been vice-president for a number of years and formerly was treasurer; the Misses Farrol, Jacobson and Lebensohn have held different offices, and are active on the loan committee. Mrs. Klaff has been vice-chairman of the loan committee for a number of years.

Other members have rendered their services equally as faithfully and willingly, and in case of absence of a committee member, they joyfully volunteer their evenings.

YIDDISH LITERARY DRAMATIC CLUB

The Chicago Yiddish Literary Dramatic Club, organized in 1907, is one of many similar organizations scattered throughout the United States whose purpose is the promotion of Jewish cultural work. It aims to elevate the standards and improve the quality of the Yiddish theater and the Yiddish press. In May, 1915, at a convention held in Cleveland, Ohio, a federation of all Yiddish literary and dramatic clubs of the United States and Canada was formed. The headquarters of the federation are to be in Chicago. David Pinsky heads the federation, and Mr. J. Katz, secretary of the Chicago club, is secretary of the national organization. On the administrative or executive committee are Messrs. S. Rubinstein, H. Oreskis, M. Mason and J. Ruer, all of the Chicago branch.

The Chicago society is to issue a monthly publication devoted to the work of the national body. A publication society is planned for the future which will bring out the finest Yiddish literature and encourage the work of writers who refuse to commercialize their efforts. Theatrical companies also are to be organized and go on tour from Chicago.

The Chicago club meets every Tuesday in the social room of the Chicago Hebrew Institute.

CHICAGO HEBREW INSTITUTE

The Chicago Hebrew Institute was incorporated November 12, 1903. It was started by members of the Kadimoh Gate, a Zionist organization.

Dr. Robert L. Halperin was elected first president, and D. P. Pollock first secretary. Offices were first established at 458-60 Ashland Boulevard.

May 1, 1907, a four-story house and basement at 224 Blue Island Avenue, was leased for three years, and the Institute was formally opened with classes, etc., in September of that year. Harry A. Lipsky was in charge.

The following year the buildings and grounds of the Sacred Heart Convent on Taylor between Lytle and Throop streets, comprising eight acres and two city blocks, were purchased by Nathan D. Kaplan, then president of the Institute, for $110,000, $75,000 of which was loaned without interest by Julius Rosenwald. These quarters were occupied in September, 1908.

In November, 1908, Dr. David Blaustein, of the Jewish Educational Alliance of New York, was invited to take charge. He remained until the spring of 1910.

In February, 1910, shortly before Dr. Blaustein resigned, the Institute was so badly damaged by fire that it was leveled to the ground. Since that time, a smaller building at the rear, has been used. Plans are under way for an Administration Building to cost $400,000.

June 6, 1915, a new gymnasium, costing $135,000 was dedicated. The value of the Institute's property exclusive of the building is $600,000.

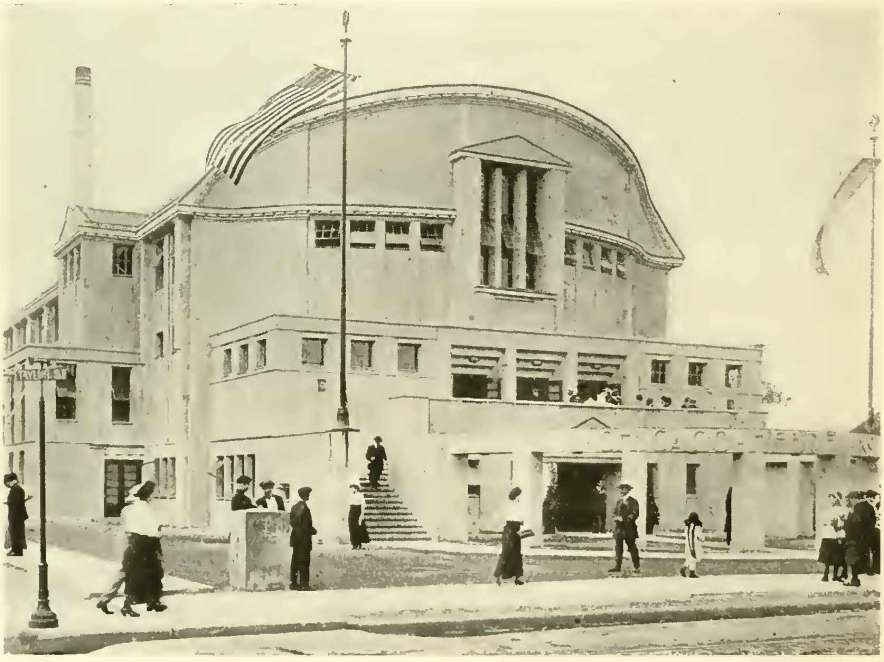

Julius Rosenwald was president of the Institute from 1910 to 1912 when he was followed by Jacob M. Loeb.

Mr. Philip Seaman, present superintendent, has been at the Institute since November 3, 1913.

DEBORAH BOYS' CLUB

The Deborah Boys' Club was opened in 1903 at 1813 Indiana avenue, as a shelter and home for dependent and delinquent Jewish boys between the ages of 14 and 18. The boys remain at the club for periods ranging from six months to three years, during which time they are fitted to take their place in the business and social world.

The Club moved in 1908 from the Indiana avenue home to 4044 Prairie avenue. Since 1913 the club has been at 5930 South Park avenue.

INSTITUTE WOMAN'S CLUB, C. H. I.

December 1, 1911, a group of pioneers on the West Side organized a club for the purpose of co-operating with the Chicago Hebrew Institute. From the handful of women who founded the club, it has grown steadily until now there are 250 active members who feel a personal interest for the welfare and growth of the organization.

The Institute Woman's Club assists in the holiday festivities at the Institute by presenting the Sabbath School classes either with candy or appropriate pictures. It also co-operates with the Institute in its social affairs. One large party with many unique features is given each season under its auspices to which the public is invited. Members attend the weekly dances held at the Institute as well as the lectures and Sunday afternoon concerts.

One line of work which the Institute Woman's Club has founded and fosters is the piano school. It has donated three pianos to the Institute. In the school at present almost 100 students are enrolled and two teachers are employed regularly. Recitals and public examinations (at which prizes are given) are held annually for the purpose of stimulating the pupils' interest and love for the best in music. The Woman's Club also donates scholarships to those pupils who show exceptional talent or whose parents are too poor to pay the small fee required.

During its six years of existence the Woman's Club has not only been an invaluable ally of the Institute, but has also been imbued with the exalted motive of the mother institution—to open wide the door of opportunity to all who may care to enter and avail themselves of its wonderful advantages making for the religious, moral, social and intellectual upbuilding of humanity.

ZION CONGREGATION OF WEST CHICAGO

Largely as a result of the stream of Jewish immigration from Germany (influenced by the European upheaval in the forties), the Jewish population of Chicago so materially increased between 1837, when the first Jew arrived here, and 1864, that there was need of a fourth congregation in the city. The west side already at that time held some of the progressive, influential and prosperous Jews of Chicago. Several public meetings were convened in June, 1864. At the second meeting, attended by about fifty men, a permanent organization was effected, under the name of Zion Congregation of West Chicago. Henry Greenebaum and Bernhard Felsenthal, through whose efforts the movement had been launched, were elected first president and rabbi, respectively. The Einhorn prayer book was adopted for all occasions of worship. The first services were held in a Baptist Church on the west side Sept. 30 (Rosh Hashonah), 1864. A house located on Desplaines street, between Madison street and Washington boulevard, later was purchased and turned into a Temple.

Under the leadership of Dr. Felsenthal, Zion Congregation became a prominent factor in the spiritual and educational progress of the Chicago community, and in the development of Reform in America. In 1869, pressed by the necessity of procuring larger quarters for the congregation, the members erected a new building at the corner of Sangamon and Jackson streets, and in 1884 built the present commodious Temple at Ogden avenue and Washington boulevard. At this time Rabbi Max Heller, now in New Orleans, Louisiana, was elected assistant to Rabbi Felsenthal. He remained in the position for two years. In 1886 Dr. Felsenthal retired, and in the following year Rabbi Joseph Stolz was elected his successor.

About seven years later a number of Zion Temple members who had moved to the south side of the city organized the Isaiah Congregation, taking Rabbi Stolz with them.

Zion Temple is spoken of as the "mother of Isaiah." This child-birth was extremely painful to the mother. Her resources were drained to the point of exhaustion, but, with the aid of a few loyal workers, she managed to pull through the critical period. Dr. Hirsch came to the assistance of the struggling congregation by lecturing at the Friday evening services for a period of two years, while Joseph K. Arnold officiated at the Saturday service and conducted the school.

From 1898 to 1900 Mr. Arnold was full rabbi in charge. In 1900 Jacob S. Jacobson was elected rabbi of the congregation, and held office until 1908. From 1908 to 1913 Rabbi Israel Klein was in charge. Rabbi Samuel S. Cohon, elected in 1913, is the present incumbent of the Zion pulpit.

The following men have held the office of president: Henry Greenebaum (1864-1873), David Simon (1873-1881), M. M. Hirsch (1881-1883), Henry Greenebaum (1883-1884), L. Buxbaum (1884-1886), A. Gottlieb (1886-1887), Max Goodkind (1887-1889), Michael Greenebaum (1889-1891), Jacob Schram (1891-1897), Rudolph Gerber (1897-1904), L. W. Abt (1904-1905), Benjamin Wolf (1905-1906), Alex. Cassriel (1906-1907), Harry Goldstein (1908-1909), Max Samuels (1909-1910), Frank Herst (1910-1911), Bernard Stein (1911-1912) and Benjamin Wolf (1912—).

In the course of time, the personnel of Zion Congregation changed. The new influx of immigrants in the '80s brought great masses of Jews from Russia and other countries. While most of the Jews from Eastern lands are unqualifiedly orthodox, great numbers of them crave for a more progressive expression of Judaism. Thus Zion Temple is no longer connected with one European spot. Its membership is drawn from the Jews of Germany, Austria, Hungary and Russia. This is the true crucible in which the various elements of Jewry are assimilated into a more spiritual Jewish union.

JEWISH EDUCATIONAL CENTRE

The Jewish Educational Centre, the Community House of the South Side Hebrew Congregation, was organized in September, 1915, for the purpose of fostering intensive Jewish education by means of the study of the Hebrew as a language and its classics among the Jewish children of the South Side.

The lack of Hebrew schools on the South Side was manifest ever since the Jewish community attained large proportions in that section of the city. The Orthodox Congregations did not attempt to establish schools in connection with their synagogues. The Jewish Sunday school was the only means by which the Jewish children could obtain such knowledge of Biblical history as it imparts. The Jewish Educational Centre aims at an intensive study of Hebrew, so as to enable the Jewish youth to reach out to the original sources of Jewish literature.

The charter members are: Dr. Albert B. Yudelson, founder; Nathan D. Kaplan, Seymour Cohen, A. Janowitz, Mrs. Benjamin Davis, Israel Cowen, Fred Bernstein and Mrs. Julius Stone. The school was opened at the completion of the building in which it is located, northeast corner 59th street and Michigan avenue, October 23, 1916. Sessions are held daily after public school hours from four to six. The language of instruction is Hebrew. No translation of the Hebrew into any other language is made. The teachers demonstrate objects to the students, naming the objects in Hebrew, thereby enabling the children to acquire a knowledge of spoken and written Hebrew as a language. Jewish history and religion is also taught. The Centre has a membership of 80.

"HOFFMAN"

AIM

The aim of The Hoffman Preparatory School is to prepare young men and young women for entrance to colleges, universities, and technical and professional schools, in the shortest time possible consistent with thorough instruction and training.

It is also the aim of this school to give young men and young women who are not desirous of entering upon a college career, a general education which will prove of practical value to them in their future activities.

LOCATION

The Hoffman Preparatory School is located in the heart of the North-West Side, at 1537-1541 North Robey Street, easily accessible from any section of the city. The Robey Street "L" station is opposite the school; the Milwaukee Ave., North Ave. and Robey Street cars pass by the school or are within a short distance of it.

EQUIPMENT

The school is provided with every modern appliance of light, heat and ventilation. The laboratories are fitted with all the utensils necessary for the instruction of the student. Each student has an assigned place at an experimenting table and is provided with a complete outfit for practical experimentation in the respective sciences.

FEDERATED ORTHODOX JEWISH CHARITIES OF CHICAGO

The Federated Orthodox Jewish Charities of Chicago dates from 1913 after considerable work had been done to bring home to Chicago's West Side the need of federation. The Associated Jewish Charities provides one-fourth of the annual operating expenses.

The Federated Orthodox Charities serves as the central organization through which all that the community contributes for orthodox charitable purposes is economically collected, administered and distributed among the following affiliated organizations, all of whom have agreed to abolish individual collections:

B. M. Z. Orthodox Jewish Home for the Aged.
Marks Nathan Jewish Orphan Home.
Jewish Consumptives' Relief Society
Federated Relief Society.
Hebrew Sheltering Home of the Chicago Federated Charities.
Moses Montefiore Hebrew Free School.
Shaarei Torah School.
Northwest Hebrew Free School.
Hebrew High School.
Northwest Free Burial Society.

Through these institutions, the Federated provides shelter, food, clothing and education for 250 orphans, cares for 136 old and feeble men and women amidst pleasant and pious surroundings, provides 250 consumptive families with food, clothing, medical supplies and other relief, instructs over 2,000 children in Hebrew and the Jewish religion, gives higher courses in Hebrew and Talmud to 85 advanced pupils, maintains a home to feed and lodge immigrants and the transient poor, attends to the burial of the poor in Jewish cemeteries, and visits poor families in their homes and gives relief. Disbursements for 1916 were $142,367.58.

The offices of the Federated are in Room 224, Central Administration Building, 1800 Selden street.

CONGREGATION OHAVO AMUNO BETH HAMEDROSH HACHODOSH

Congregation Ohavo Amuno Beth Hamedrosh Hachodosh is a consolidation of two orthodox synagogues, Beth Hamedrosh Hachodosh, organized in 1872, and Ohavo Amuno, formed later. In 1892 the two congregations joined forces. In 1905, the synagogue at 3019 Wabash avenue, where the congregation now worships, was built.

Rabbi Eliezer Anixter (died in 1914) was rabbi of the congregation for over 40 years.

The congregation is in splendid financial condition. It has no debts and owns two well-kept cemeteries at Waldheim. The membership is 63, including several of Chicago's oldest Jewish settlers, among them being Mr. L. Goodstein and Mr. S. M. Jess.

JEWISH CONSUMPTIVES' RELIEF SOCIETY OF CHICAGO

The J. C. R. S. was organized September 13, 1904, by Mrs. I. J. Robin, who served as president for ten years. Its object is "to raise and expend funds for the prevention of tuberculosis and to furnish relief to persons afflicted with tuberculosis, to provide medical care and suitable food and to better the condition of the patients to insure successful treatment; to co-operate with other organizations having for their object the welfare of persons suffering from tuberculosis; and to own, build, establish and maintain a sanitarium for the housing and treatment of consumptives in the curable as well as in the advanced stages."

The plan to establish a sanitarium where advanced consumptives will be accepted is about to be realized. The location of the new sanitarium covering ten acres, is at 50th and Belmont avenues.

Funds are raised by means of donations and the payment of $4.00 annually by members.

Last year milk, eggs and butter were provided for 500 patients. Other supplies provided were clothes, shoes, bedding, outdoor sleeping equipment, screening and awning curtains for porches, ice, coal and household aid, such as laundry work and personal service, involving an expenditure last year of $10,000.

The J. C. R. S. is affiliated with the following organizations: Bureau of Personal Service, Chicago Bureau of Registration, Chicago Central Council of Social Agencies, Chicago Winfield Tuberculosis Sanitarium, Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations, National Conference of Charities and Corrections, National Conference of Jewish Charities and Corrections, Social Workers' Exchange, Travelers' Aid Society, Illinois Committee on Social Legislation, Illinois State Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis and the Visiting Nurses' Association.

The office of the society is in room 245, 1800 Seldon street.

B'NAI B'RITH FREE EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

(Affiliated With the Associated Jewish Charities)

The B'nai B'rith Free Employment Bureau is conducted under the auspices of the Jewish Aid Society and the Central B'nai B'rith Council.

The offices of the Bureau are in Suites 110-111, Central Administration Building, 1800 Selden Street.

During the past year the Bureau registered 5,844 applicants, sent 7,583 to employers and procured work for 4,161 (an average of 16 per day). The cost was $1.95 per capita. The earnings of those placed are estimated at $200,000 during the year.

Owing to the efficient effort of the Bureau a transformation has taken place, the plea of applicants for work having given way to repeated requests of employers for help.

NEARLY all the enjoyment we get out of life comes from the association with the opposite sex. Where can you meet those of the opposite sex as beautifully, and as attractively, as at a Dancing Party? The writer cannot see how people can live through life without being able to dance. The attentions from the opposite sex will be increased hundredfold if you are a dancer. ¶ Your chances of getting acquainted are greatly increased if a dancer. ¶ Dancing does more towards keeping one young, good looking, healthy, and good natured, than all other elements combined. You will never find a person very fond of dancing possessed of a grouchy disposition. The dance habit will improve your disposition.

YOUNG WOMEN'S AUXILIARY, J. C. R. S.

The Young Women's Auxiliary of the Jewish Consumptive Relief Society was organized in February, 1905, by a group of young women known as the "Laughing Philosophers." Under the inspirational leadership of the late Dr. Theodore B. Sachs and the careful guidance and sympathetic understanding of Mrs. I. J. Robin, the President of the parent organization, the club grew very rapidly.

It meets on the fourth Sunday of each month at Sinai Social Center, 4622 Grand boulevard. At these meetings programs are given, embracing such interests as: Lectures, musicales, socials, dramatics, dances and readings. All talent represented at meetings is secured without cost to the society.

At all meetings the purposes of the organization are kept before the members through reports on its varied endeavors. So keen is the interest that a call for volunteers is usually met by a cheerful and ready response on the part of the members in spite of the fact that with a few exceptions all are employed in other lines of activities.

Personal Service in the homes, the hospitals, the sanitarium and the superintendents' office.

A recent innovation is a series of monthly entertainments conducted at the Oak Forest Infirmary under the auspices of the Auxiliary members.

For many years an annual affair has been given, from which a large sum of money has been derived.

The Auxiliary is at present bending all its efforts for the material advancement of the Building Fund of the proposed Sanitarium by stimulating the zeal and loyalty of the present body and working for additional members.

Representatives of the Auxiliary attend meetings of conferences and kindred organizations, bringing back detailed reports which create opportunities for comparison and enlightenment.

Strong in the resolution to continue the good work so ably initiated, the Young Women's Auxiliary of the Jewish Consumptives' Relief Society anticipates years of unparalleled success.

INDEPENDENT ORDER FREE SONS OF ISRAEL

The I. O. F. S. I. was originally organized in Chicago January 18, 1849. It is a fraternal and insurance organization. During its life, it has paid out over $9,000,000 in insurance benefits to the widows and orphans of deceased members.

The Order is subdivided into two districts. New York and surrounding territory forms the first district, and Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Kansas, Indiana and Missouri comprise the second district, with home quarters in Chicago. The second district dates from 1872, its first lodge being Abraham Lincoln Lodge, instituted August 20, 1872, through the efforts of Isidore Van Baalen who had been a member of one of the eastern lodges.

Since its organization in this district, two subsidiary organizations have been formed —the Free Sons Cemetery Association and the Hospital and Relief Association.

MOTHERS' AID OF THE CHICAGO LYING-IN HOSPITAL AND DISPENSARY

The Mothers' Aid has been in existence for thirteen years. It was organized in 1904 by Mrs. Mark (Ida De Lee) Neuman, who died March 21, 1914. It originally numbered nine members. It was incorporated in 1906. Mrs. Neuman served as president from 1904-1911 when she was succeeded by Mrs. Joseph Fish, who ably directed the organization until 1917. Mrs. Hugo Hartman is the present president. Its membership now is 760.

The Mothers' Aid co-operates with the Chicago Lying-In Hospital and Dispensary which was established to raise the standard of obstetric teaching and practise in the middle west. It furnishes the hospital with supplies, its work last year consisting of finishing 578 pieces. A Junior Auxiliary, organized in May, 1907, supplies garments for incubator babies.

The greatest work undertaken by the Mothers' Aid was the raising of $85,000 for the building of an annex to the main hospital, known as the Mothers' Aid Pavilion. Here the best aid and care that can be given suffering, helpless motherhood is extended.

In spite of the fact that the increase of membership has been phenomenal, and the Mothers' Aid is today one of the largest Jewish women's organizations in the community, the cause which it was called into being to serve is so noble and so important that more members are being sought until at least 1,000 are enrolled. The work of the Mothers' Aid makes a peculiar appeal to all women and there should be little difficulty in securing a great increase in membership.

Officers, 1917-18

B. M. Z. ORTHODOX JEWISH HOME FOR THE AGED

In the summer of 1899 as a result of the efforts of Abraham Wolpe, Morris Cohn and others, an organization was formed to finance and complete a home to be known as Beth Moshav Z'keinim, the initials alone being ordinarily used for these Hebrew words, which mean literally, a house of rest for the aged.

A charter was obtained September 7, 1899. January 5, 1900, lots facing Albany and Ogden avenues, opposite Douglas Park, an ideal location, were purchased, and auxiliary organizations were formed throughout Chicago to make a campaign for a building fund.

The ground was dedicated September 30, 1900.

In the summer of 1901, Abraham Slimmer, then living in Waverly, Iowa, came forward with an offer to donate $20,000, on condition that a building be erected to cost not less than $40,000.

The corner-stone was laid November 3 and 10, 1901, and on Sunday, October 19, 1902, the building was completed and dedicated. The cost of the structure was $69,000.00.

The Home was opened for inmates Sunday, May 3, 1903. Mrs. Benjamin Davis was the first matron, and Mr. Davis the first superintendent.

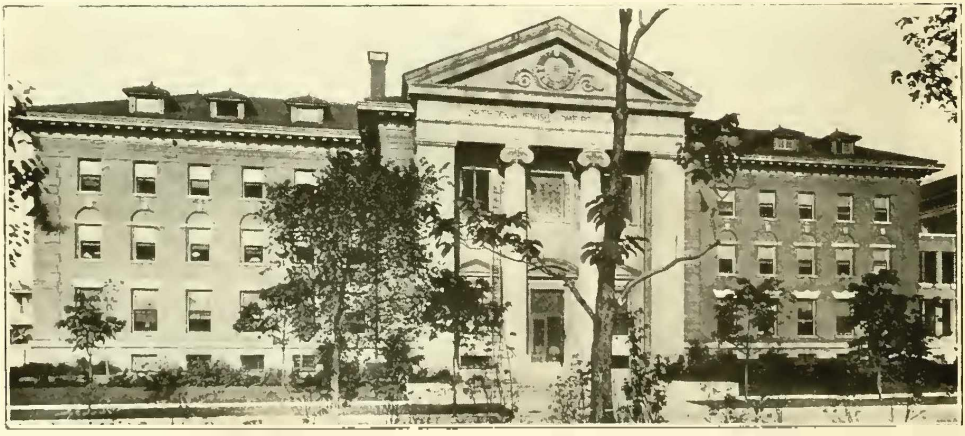

In 1906 additional land to the extent of 300 feet was purchased adjoining the Home on the south upon which an Annex for the blind and infirm was built in 1911, Julius Rosenwald contributing $12,500 and Abraham Slimmer $10,000.

Harris Cohn was first president. Mrs. Julius Stone, past secretary, has done splendid work for the institution.

Today the B. M. Z. Home is known as one of the strongest and most capably managed institutions in the community. It cares for 136 inmates, 70 men and 66 women. There are 18 couples. The average age is 80.

FIRST HUNGARIAN CONGREGATION, AGUDATH ACHIM

The First Hungarian Congregation, Agudath Achim, was founded October 25, 1885. The charter members were: Rev. I. Feuerlicht, A. Frisch, M. Schoen, S. Goodfriend, S. Weil, B. Cohn, Mr. Goldner, Mr. Federgreen, A. Newman, Mrs. Tobias, Mr. Grossman, Mrs. Sameth, I. Schwarer and Mr. Hark. Rev. I. Feuerlicht served as first president and officiated at the services, which were held in a private room on Halsted street.

The first Temple was built in 1857 at the corner of Maxwell and Jefferson streets. The present house of worship, dedicated in 1902, is located on the corner of Marshfield avenue and Polk street. Here a day school is conducted for boys, and a Sabbath and Sunday school for girls.

Rabbi Moses Fisher has been with the congregation for 15 years.

The membership at present is 150.

MICHAEL REESE HOSPITAL

(Affiliated with the Associated Jewish Charities)

The Michael Reese Hospital, 29th street and Groveland avenue, was made possible by an offer June 15, 1879, to the United Hebrew Charities, by Henry L. Frank and his brother, Joseph Frank, nephews of Michael Reese, to whom the latter (who died while on a trip to Europe in 1878) had left a trust fund to be devoted to philanthropic purposes in Chicago.

The offer of the Frank brothers was supplemented by an offer from Mrs. Henrietta Rosenfeld, sister of Michael Reese, to whom he had left another trust fund for philanthropic purposes.

On a lot on 29th street and Lake avenue was erected a three-story brick structure which was dedicated and opened October 23, 1881. This structure was replaced in 1905 by the present modern fireproof building, erected at a cost of over $700,000. The old hospital, including the lot, cost $48,321.47. The new building was dedicated in 1907.

The Michael Reese Hospital is at present a constituent institution affiliated with the Associated Jewish Charities, which provides 20 per cent of the funds needed for yearly maintenance.

The cost of maintenance for 1915-16 was $330,154.21, of which $178,879.69 was paid by 9,971 patients treated during that period. Of these 5,109 were Jewish free patients. Gentile as well as Jewish patients are treated at the hospital.

The first superintendent of the hospital was Max Solomon who was succeeded by Rabbi M. Ungerleider. Dr. Ungerleider served until 1907, when the practise of selecting skilled physicians with administrative experience was adopted.

ORIENTAL HILLEL LODGE No. 72, I. O. B. B.

With the growth of the B'nai B'rith movement in Chicago, the suggestion was made in 1912 that forces should be united in the interest of more efficient endeavor. This wise counsel was followed by consolidating, March 11, 1913, Hillel Lodge, which was instituted January 28, 1866, by District Grand Lodge No. 2, and Oriental Lodge, which was formed in 1871.

The charter members of Hillel Lodge were Henry Greenebaum, the first president; Isaac Greenebaum, Abraham Newberger, Mayer Hirsch, Gabriel Rubel, Moses Goodman, Solomon Rothschild, Levi J. Unna, Dr. B. Felsenthal and Michael Newgass. Moses Goodman is the only living charter member of Hillel Lodge.

Of the charter members of Oriental Lodge, A. P. Levi and Isidore Salinger are still living.

The membership of Oriental Hillel Lodge is 1,911.

MARKS NATHAN JEWISH ORPHAN HOME

The Marks Nathan Orphan Home was made possible by a gift of $15,000 left by Marks Nathan, at his death, to be used for a kosher hospital or an orthodox orphan home.

May 13, 1906, the first home at the corner of North Wood and Blucher streets, was dedicated and in 1908 an addition was built and a frame building adjoining was bought to take care of the growing applications for admission.

These quarters, too, becoming cramped and the neighborhood rendered undesirable, a site for a new home was purchased on Albany avenue and Carlisle place, facing Douglas park.

In November, 1912, the orphans were transferred to the new home, 1552 South Albany avenue.

In 1916 a fine playground on land adjoining, and back of the home, was laid out.

Since 1909 Jewish orphans of orthodox parents have been admitted from places outside of Chicago.

The Marks Nathan Home is thoroughly orthodox in every particular, in the food served, in the services held in the home's synagogue, where the boys are required to wear hats and prayer-shawls, etc. The capacity of the home is 250 children.

Jacob Levy was the first president. He was succeeded in 1914 by Mr. Charles J. Herron, who has served continuously since.

Saul Drucker was the first superintendent. He was succeeded by the present superintendent, Mr. Elias L. Trotzkey, a social worker from England, in 1913. Louis Greenberg is assistant superintendent.

There are 251 children in the home, 152 boys and 99 girls. The cost per child per year is $177.85.

The yearly maintenance of $60,000 is provided by the Federated Orthodox Jewish Charities and from direct income, but a heavy mortgage of over $40,000 hangs over the home, which the officers are making herculean efforts to remove, with painful success.

PLAYERS' CLUB

The Players' Club of the Chicago Hebrew Institute was formed in 1913 with the object of enabling the people of the neighborhood to see better plays than those offered at the cheap playhouses in the vicinity operated for revenue only. It has been making progress towards erecting on the grounds a people's theater where its ideals can be realized.

The Players' Club has not only made it possible for the people of the West Side to see plays that refine and uplift, but has also developed some of the cleverest amateur actors in Chicago.

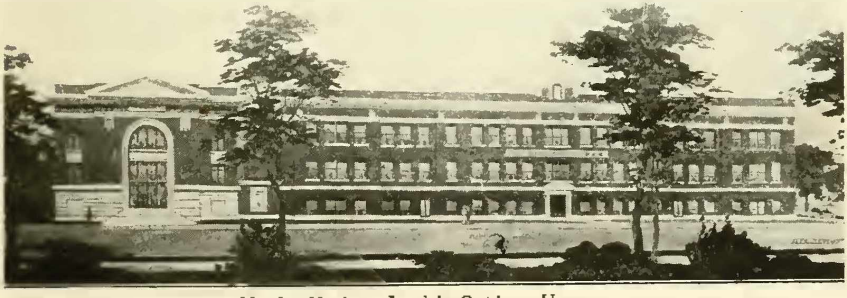

For a nominal charge admission is possible to classes held three times weekly conducted by Mr. Lester Alden, dramatic teacher. From October to November plays are staged at the institute once a month on Sunday evenings, followed by a dance.

CHICAGO INTERNATIONAL AUXILIARY, M. N. J. O. H.

The Chicago International Auxiliary of the Marks Nathan Home forms a vital part of that important institution's organization to provide for the welfare of its 254 motherless and fatherless charges, who are carefully reared in the orthodox Jewish faith.

The Auxiliary renders substantial financial support to the Home by the various affairs it gives from time to time, particularly when funds are needed for important improvements in the facilities of the Home. When the plan was adopted of providing a well-equipped playground for the orphans, the Auxiliary gave a musicale at which Miss Esther Harris, president of the Chicago College of Music, generously gave her services as well as those of her most promising pupils, and the funds thus raised, aggregating several hundreds of dollars, were turned over to the Playground Committee. On another occasion the Auxiliary furnished the home with a piano. Whenever anything is needed at the Home, the Auxiliary provides it or helps by its efforts and spirit to make it possible.

The greatest annual affair of the Auxiliary is its Charity Ball, which, besides being a great financial aid to the Home, is a brilliant social success. The proceeds of the last charity ball were used for improving the Home's hospital.

Another affair in which great numbers participate is the annual picnic. Throughout the year, frequent whists are given. At all its affairs, large or small, the Auxiliary is ever filled with love for the "tots" and finest motherly concern for their physical, mental and moral welfare.

SARAH GREENEBAUM LODGE No. 16, U. O. T. S.

The Sarah Greenebaum Lodge No. 16 is one of a chain of lodges of the United Order of True Sisters, scattered throughout the United States. There are three lodges in Chicago, the two others being the Jochannah and the Lincoln. Sarah Greenebaum Lodge was instituted October 7, 1907.

Although its chief object is the cultural advancement of its members, it engages in philanthropic endeavor, its chief work being the maintenance of Rest Haven, a home for convalescent Jewish women and girls, located at 3360 South Park avenue, which the Sarah Greenebaum Lodge instituted. The entire cost of maintenance of the home is defrayed by annual subscriptions, and donations and collections made by the members of the lodge. Besides supporting Rest Haven and administering it, members of the lodge engage in personal service work in connection with the home.

Mr. Solomon D. Komaiko, whose photograph is shown here, was born in Onixti, state of Kovna, Russia, in 1878, and came to America at the age of 22, locating in Chicago in 1903. It was then that he took up his duties here as resident manager for the "Jewish World." This connection afforded him a splendid opportunity to become active in Jewish circles and he soon interested himself in charitable work.

For many years Mr. Komaiko has been a director of the Marks Nathan Orphan Home and in a similar capacity is connected with the Orthordox Jewish Home for the Aged. Nor is Chicago alone the scope of Mr. Komaiko's interests, for he is a National director of two of this country's greatest Jewish charitable institutions, viz: The Jewish Consumptives' Home in Colorado and the Hebrew Sheltering Home of New York.

Mr. Komaiko is a Mason, a member of the Covenant Club, and Ramah Lodge of B'nai Brith, and a director of Temple Judea.

Mr. Komaiko's business is insurance and for him, some business it is, but he still finds time to contribute articles to Jewish literature. He is the author of a book of short stories of Jewish life which appeared a few years ago.

In 1910 Mr. Komaiko married Pauline Stein of West Pullman, Ill. They reside, with their two children, at 1651 South Clifton Park avenue.

JUNIOR AUXILIARY, M. N. J. O. H.

The Junior Auxiliary of the Marks Nathan Jewish Orphan Home was organized in 1912 by a dozen young men and women of the Lawndale district, for the purpose of providing the charges of the Home with "extras," outside the bare necessities of life obtainable at the home.

As time passed, the objectives of the Junior Auxiliary became more practical. For the past three years the Junior Auxiliary has provided for the higher education of the home's graduates from the grammar schools. Some are sent to high school, some to business college, others to vocational schools, and some provided with special courses in music, etc. A few have been sent to universities after graduating from high school.

The Auxiliary also arranges and finances entertainments, parties, picnics, excursions and other forms of amusement and recreation for all the children of the Home. All funds spent by the Auxiliary are raised at two dances and one lake excursion held each year, and through an annual membership fee of $3. Four hundred members belong to the Auxiliary. Last year the Auxiliary spent $2,000.

Regular meetings, open to visitors, are held the second and fourth Sunday afternoons of each month at Lawndale Hall, Ogden and Trumbull avenues.

I WILL AUXILIARY, M. N. J. O. H.

The impulse to the formation of the "I Will Auxiliary" or the "I Will Sewing Circle," as it was originally called, came in an appeal for a perauches (the covering in front of the ark containing the scrolls of the law) made during the Yom Kippur services held in 1913 in the Marks Nathan Synagogue. A glance at the once white satin covering which then did service was sufficient to show that it was not in keeping with the handsome surroundings of the new home which had just been completed nor the solemn occasions on which it was used. The appeal made an impression upon a few women attending the services, who called a meeting for the following day to see what could be done to provide the new perauches.

In the meantime others had been doing a little observing of a different kind. Deeply interested in the orphans, they noticed with sadness that the dresses worn by the orphan girls stood out in sharp contrast with those of the other children of the neighborhood who attended the services with their parents. One glance was enough to tell who were orphans and who were not. These observers at once understood how the sight of these attractive dresses filled the hearts of the orphans with yearning and brought additional sorrow into their lives at the thought that these pretty things were not for them.

At the meeting the following day it was suggested that a more worthy cause to work for than raising funds to provide a new ark covering which could be used only twice a year, during the Rosh Hashonah and the Yom Kippur services, was the provision of clothing for the orphans throughout the year. This suggestion carried the day and a sewing circle was enthusiastically formed to provide the orphans with suitable clothing. When the superintendent of the home was informed of this decision he heartily approved the practical course adopted by the new organization, which lost no time in getting its work under way.

The first gift of the sewing circle to the home was eighteen dozen pairs of stockings of which the children were badly in need. A check of $25 from Mr. Abraham J. Franks made this gift possible. This first substantial help was followed by the making of pretty little dresses from cloth obtained by Miss Celia Manasse from various firms. One evening a week was set aside when the members of the sewing circle, then consisting of not many more than a dozen women, met to convert the cloth into dainty little dresses which, while inexpensive, had the little touches that are dear to the heart of the little girl who had to be content with wash ginghams unrelieved by a bit of ribbon or lace.

The sewing circle was anxious to do so much that it became impatient with itself and, feeling that its work was not proceeding as fast as it wanted it to, and experiencing difficulties in providing an evening when all could be present, the plan of sewing was abandoned and it was decided to secure additional members of the circle who should contribute twenty-five cents each, monthly, the original members of the circle to attend to the collection personally. After hard and persistent efforts many contributors responded and the work of the circle was placed upon a secure footing.

No finer example of consecrated Jewish charity can be found anywhere than the way in which the members of the I Will Auxiliary devote their Sundays making collections in the district bounded by Albany to Crawford avenues and Grenshaw to 19th streets.

During the summer of 1914, touched by the devotion and the practical character of the work of the members of the circle, Mrs. Sol Rubin offered to provide all the children of the Marks Nathan Orphan Home with nightgowns. Each year since, Mrs. Rubin has made the same generous contribution.

The I Will Auxiliary since its organization has supplied the 250 children of the Marks Nathan Orphan Home with their underwear, complete, besides, equipping the girls with dresses and the boys with waists, and contributing towards presents to confirmants and graduates. It has also made many cash contributions to the home whenever appealed to by the authorities.

WEST SIDE DISPENSARY

(Affiliated with the Associated Jewish Charities)

The West Side Dispensary is located at Maxwell and Miller streets. Its work is divided into four departments. Last year over 69,000 were treated, and 2,623 were visited by physicians in their homes. Fifty thousand prescriptions were filled.

Ten nurses are employed, one of whom visits the Jewish patients in wards at the County Hospital.

Splendid work is done with mothers and babes in the Infant Welfare Department, and also in the Dental Department, where last year nearly 8,000 patients were treated. A new feature of this department is the making of plates and bridge work at cost.

On the Medical Staff of the Dispensary are 75 attending physicians, assisted by ten social service, infant welfare, trained and practical nurses, as well as pharmacists and an X-ray operator.

C. A. Graves is Superintendent of the Dispensary.

YOUNG MEN'S FEDERATED JEWISH CHARITIES OF CHICAGO

The Young Men's Federated is an organization of young orthodox Jews whose main object is to assist the Federated to secure subscriptions. Its members also study charity problems and administration in the various fields of philanthropy maintained by the Federated.

Besides aiding the Federated, the members of the Young Men's organization cooperate with the B'nai B'rith in its big brother work, and with the Jewish Aid Society as advisers to small families starting up in business.

THE DEBORAH

The Deborah was originally known as "The Deborah Verein," organized as a ladies' benevolent association in 1872, to assist in the work of the United Hebrew Charities of Chicago in relieving the needs of the poor Jews of Chicago.

In its earlier years its proceedings were conducted and its members spoke in German only.

In 1897 the organization was incorporated.

In 1903 it established the Deborah Boys' Club, a home for dependent and delinquent Jewish boys between the ages of 14 and 18. It has maintained this institution ever since, and has extended its philanthropic activities until it is at present one of the most active agencies working for social betterment in Chicago.

In 1912, the Deborah Dramatic Club and Dunning Committee was formed by Mrs. Hugo Brady to give programs to the inmates of Dunning and other institutions.

The first president of the Deborah Verein was Mrs. Leopold Schoenfeld who served for ten years, until 1882. Her successors have been: Mrs. Isaac Wolf, Mrs. Louis Cohen, Mrs. F. Steiniger, Mrs. Isaac Epstein, Mrs. Edward Rubovits, Mrs. A. I. Radzinski, Mrs. A. Rheinstrom, Mrs. Hugo Brady, Mrs. Joseph Wolf, Mrs. Alexander White and Mrs. Joseph Fish.

GOOD WILL WORKERS

The Good Will Workers was formed at a meeting held February 1, 1914, at the home of Mrs. S. Weinberg, 3540 W. 12th place, who called together a group of women including Mesdames L. J. Golden, O. Kallick, J. Sang, C. Cohen and H. Wolf, interested with their hostess in forming a woman's club. It was agreed at this meeting to engage in philanthropic and educational effort and to promote sociability. "Advancement, Charity and Sociability" are the watchwords of the organization.

Shortly after the Club was formed, a relief committee was named to investigate needy cases. At times, the number of cases taken care of by the Good Will Workers runs as high as 30. Some of these are given monthly allowances; in other cases the rent is paid, etc. Donations are also given from time to time to various charitable organizations.

The Good Will Workers is registered with the Social Service Bureau and is affiliated with the Conference of Jewish Women's Clubs. It was represented by Mrs. L. J. Golden and Mrs. I. D. Hirschberg at the Chicago Congress convention, held at the Auditorium Hotel May 20, 1917.

The membership at present numbers 120. Meetings are held the first and third Wednesdays of each month at the Temple Judea Community Center.

YOUNG MEN'S ASSOCIATED JEWISH CHARITIES

The Young Men's Associated Jewish Charities has as its object uniting the Jewish young men of Chicago in an organization which shall bring home to them their duties and responsibilities in connection with Jewish charities and philanthropies, more especially to interest them in assisting the Associated Jewish Charities in securing funds.

The Young Men's issues a monthly publication, the Associated Bulletin, containing articles on philanthropy and information regarding the various activities of the Associated. Speakers of note also address the members at noon-day meetings held during the winter months. A Boys' Summer Camp is conducted at Long Lake, Illinois. Here forty boys at a time are given a two weeks' outing during July and August. Through its Philanthropy Committee, the Young Men's furnishes volunteer business advisers in self-support cases when the need arises.

JEWISH EDUCATIONAL ALLIANCE

The Jewish Educational Alliance, "an American institution with a Jewish atmosphere," located at 1248 North Wood street, was opened to the public in 1913. It is the leading social center of the Northwest Side.

With an initial capital of only $1,000, the three-story building now occupied by the Alliance was purchased in 1911 at a cost of $21,000. $6,000 was required to remodel the building for its purposes. Although handicapped by three mortgages, the heroic men and women who were determined to bless the Northwest Side with a cultural agency, labored on and paid off over $10,000 of the indebtedness in two years and a half, besides the running expenses, aggregating an equal amount.

The sacrifice shown in meeting these obligations is illustrated in the case of one of the most devoted members of the executive board who, confronted with the necessity of buying a new suit, selected a cheaper-priced garment than he intended getting and was accustomed to wear, and sent the difference to the board to pay one of the many outstanding bills. Some of the founders actually neglected their business and made heavy demands on their health to help the Alliance establish itself firmly.

Since November, 1916, with a trained social worker in charge, 24 educational departments have been conducted. Particular attention is paid to the children for whom eight different lines of activity are provided which are participated in by 400 children. Over 1,000 take advantage of the advantages offered to adults and those of intermediate age. 65 clubs and societies meet regularly at the Alliance, with a total membership of 5,000.

The complete list of activities is as follows:

English class for foreigners.
Civics and citizenship bureau.
Public speaking class.
Sabbath and Sunday school.
Hebrew for adults (language and literature).
Jewish history class.
Piano school.
Evolution class.
Sociology class.
Elocution class.
Current topic class.
Kindergarten.
Library.
Children's dramatic class.
Gymnasium—adults and children.
Dancing class.
Social dancing.
Story telling class.
Children's sewing class.
Domestic science class.
Camp Fire Girls.
Play room.
Nature study and gardening.
Lecture—Jewish and English.
Concerts.
Alliance orchestra.
Alliance choral society.

The Alliance strives to be and succeeds in being a veritable melting-pot for parent and child, alien and citizen, radical and conservative, young and old. It aims to prevent rather than cure social ills.

TEMPLE SHOLOM

Temple Sholom was originally known as the North Side or North Chicago Hebrew Congregation, founded in 1867. The name was changed in 1911.

Thirty-two charter members formed the nucleus of the North Side Hebrew Congregation, of whom the most active were:

Moses Eisendrath, B. Gradle, Wolf Levy, Samuel Glickauf, Julius Jonas, N. M. Plotke, S. Swartchild, P. Weinred, Nathan Eisendrath, Henry Regensburg, Michael Cohen, S. Dreschfield, H. Friedman, Cossman Eisendrath and Herman Goldsmidt.

The first home of the congregation was on Superior street near Wells, where a frame synagogue, costing $6,000, was erected. The synagogue was dedicated Sept. 27, 1867. The first Rabbi was Rev. A. Ollendorf, who remained with the congregation for two years. The first president was Moses Shields. Samuel Glickauf, to whom the congregation owes much, served as treasurer at the beginning of its life.

In 1870, Rev. A. Norden was brought from Baltimore to take charge of the pulpit, which had remained vacant for a year and a half after the resignation of Rev. Ollendorf.

The fire of 1871 was disastrous to the struggling congregation, which was practically wiped out, only $800 remaining with Mr. Glickauf, who labored to reorganize the institution, succeeding in 1875, when he was chosen president. Dr. Norden was recalled and the congregational life was resumed, various Christian churches being used for the holding of services.

With the proceeds of a fair held in 1882, a lot on the corner of Rush street and Walton place was purchased and a one-story structure was erected, which was dedicated Aug. 22, 1884. This property was sold in 1892 and with the proceeds and other funds raised, a handsome temple was erected on La Salle avenue and Goethe street. The cost of the temple was $40,000, and the lot was purchased for $25,000.

Rabbi Norden continued actively until 1898, when he was pensioned and succeeded by Dr. Abram Hirschberg, the present incumbent.

In 1911 the new Temple on Pine Grove avenue, where the Congregation worships at present, was occupied, and the old temple was sold.

Temple Sholom's burial ground is at Rosehill.

CHICAGO RABBINICAL ASSOCIATION

The Chicago Rabbinical Association was founded in the fall of 1873 by Dr. Bernard Felsenthal who sought to unite all the Rabbis of Chicago of the liberal persuasion into an organization for fellowship and common endeavor in the community.

Dr. Felsenthal was president, and Dr. A. Norden, treasurer of the organization from its beginning until 1901. Dr. Emil G. Hirsch succeeded and served until 1913. Since 1913 Dr. Jos. Stolz has been president, Dr. Schanfarber, vice-president, and Dr. Felix A. Levy, secretary.

The Association at present consists of 19 reform and conservative Rabbis of Chicago and adjoining cities who meet once a month to hear papers prepared by the members, to assist in endeavor in the community or elsewhere rightfully claiming its assistance, and to plan various forms of institutional work participated in by its members.

In April, 1917, under the auspices of the Association, a Spring conference on religion, the first held in Chicago, was arranged by Rabbis Levy and Cohon.

BUREAU OF PERSONAL SERVICE
(Affiliated With the Associated Jewish Charities)

The Bureau of Personal Service consists of four departments: Legal Aid, Institutional, Mental Hygiene and Child Welfare.

Through the Legal Aid department the Jewish people are represented in the following courts: Juvenile, Criminal, Superior, Circuit, County (including the Court for the Insane), Probate, Federal and Municipal, including Domestic Relations, Boys', Small Claims and Morals Courts. A worker is daily at the Maxwell street police station to intercept complaints by prospective Jewish litigants. The department undertakes the collection of wage claims, settlement of personal injury cases, and arbitration of domestic and neighborhood difficulty cases.

Attached to the Institutional Department are workers who visit the State, County, City and private charitable institutions, housing Jewish adults and minors. These institutions include State prisons, reformatories, training schools for boys and girls, jails, hospitals for the insane, institutions for the feeble-minded, deaf, dumb and blind, and municipal institutions, including the House of Correction, Chicago Refuge for Girls, City Training School for Boys, Parental School of the Board of Education, etc.

The work of the Mental Hygiene Department is to keep informed of every Jewish patient admitted to an institution, and to appear at every hearing in the Court of the Insane in the interest of each Jewish patient.

The Child Welfare Department works in the Juvenile Court, looking after the needs of the delinquent boys and girls of all ages and of neglected and dependent children in special cases.

During the past year over 6,000 cases were handled, 13,000 calls were made and $30,000 was collected for support, wage and money claims, personal injury damages, etc.

The office of the Bureau is in the Administration building, at 1800 Selen street. Miss Minnie F. Low is superintendent.

Supervising the work of the Bureau is the following committee: Chairman, Oscar M. Woolf, Dr. Gerson B. Levi, Mrs. David Monash, Alfred C. Meyer, Gustave Hochstadter, Jesse Lowenhaupt, Toby Rubovits.

JEWISH HOME FINDING SOCIETY OF CHICAGO
(Affiliated with the Associated Jewish Charities)

The Jewish Home Finding Society's work is divided into three departments, one furnishing and supervising the expenditure of funds for destitute Jewish widows who have dependent children; one placing out to board privately dependent children in need of shelter, and the third supervising the permanent adoption of children.

Last year 218 mothers were supported, 688 children being thus raised and protected, and 409 children were placed in homes. Eight children were placed for adoption. The number desiring to adopt children is greater than the Home Finding Society is able to accommodate.

The offices of the superintendent, Miss Helen Friend, are at 1800 Selden street.

CHICAGO SINAI TEMPLE SISTERHOOD

Chicago Sinai Temple Sisterhood was organized in 1914. Its aims are the promotion of sociability among the women members of Sinai Congregation, arranging for overflow meetings at holidays, stimulating the work of Sinai Social Center, co-operating with the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, with which it is affiliated, and generally furthering the interests of the Congregation, particularly its Sabbath School work.

Mrs. Martin Barbe was the first president, the other initial officers being: vice-presidents, Mesdames M. A. Weinberg, E. Mandel and J. Ringer; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. Friedlander; recording secretary, Miss Myra Buxbaum; treasurer, Mrs. J. Regensburg.

Meetings are held once a month at Sinai Social Center.

HARDMAN
—TIRES—

What Does "STAMINA" Mean in a Tire?

Stamina! In men it's back bone, power to endure. It's the thing that makes champions. In tires it amounts to the same thing. You'll find plenty of it in Hardman's. Each and every tire is chuck full of it.

Stamina is born in men, but it must be built into tires.

Hardman "Sure Grip" 5000-mile tires are BUILT BY HAND under a more rigorous and precise system of supervision, we dare say, than exists in any other tire factory in the world.

Only the finest, selected, square-woven 17½ oz. Sea Island fabric and the toughest of choice Para Rubber is used.

Stamina! It's crowded into every square inch. That's why Hardman's wear and wear and WEAR. If you have yet to use Hardman tires you are going to be surprised at the excess mileage they deliver, and you will find the list "cheaper per mile."

CHICAGO SINAI CONGREGATION

Chicago Sinai Congregation was incorporated July 20, 1861, by 26 members of K. A. M. Congregation, including Elias, Henry and Michael Greenebaum, Gerhard Foreman, Isaac Greensfelder and others who withdrew from K. A. M. in order to help found in Chicago a more progressive Jewish congregation. It was the first radical Reform Temple in Chicago.

The first meeting at which the project of establishing the congregation was first formally broached was held in the office of Greenebaum Bros., at 46 Clark street, June 20, 1858. Other meetings followed and on April 7, 1861, a constitution was adopted. The name Sinai was chosen in honor of Dr. David Einhorn, who initiated Reform Judaism in the United States among the early German Jewish families and who advocated it in a publication entitled "Sinai."

Chicago Sinai Congregation first worshiped in a frame building once used by the Christian Church, on Monroe street between Clark and La Salle streets, which was purchased and remodeled. The first services were held here in June, 1860. In 1863, the Congregation moved to the corner of Third avenue (now Dearborn street) and Van Buren street, now occupied by the Fisher building. Here a temple and school building, where a day school was conducted, were erected. Sinai lost its home in the fire of 1871, when it bought the property with a two-story frame house standing upon it, at the southwest corner of Indiana avenue and Twenty-first street, where it remained, remodeling the structure twice, in 1884 and 1897, until it moved in the fall of 1911 to its present palatial home, erected at a cost of $500,000 at the southwest corner of Grand boulevard and Forty-sixth street.

Sinai has had only four rabbis in its long history. These are Bernard Felsenthal, Dr. Chronic, brought to Chicago from Koenigsberg, Dr. Kaufman Kohler (1871-1879), and the present noted incumbent, Dr. Emil G. Hirsch, who was elected rabbi

K. A. M. CONGREGATION

K. A. M. Congregation (Kehillath Anshe Maarabh, more commonly called Kehillath Anshe Maariv, the congregation of the men of the west) was the first Jewish synagogue not only in Chicago and Illinois but in the northwest. It dates from 1847 and had its beginning from a meeting held at the store of Rosenfeld & Rosenberg, on Lake street, October 3, 1847. The congregation officially dates from October 4, 1847, when a constitution was adopted and signed by the members, the earliest Jewish settlers in Chicago.

K. A. M. Congregation first worshiped in rooms on the third floor of a building on the corner of Lake and Wells streets. Here it remained for three years when it moved to a structure it had built upon a lot on Clark street, between Quincy and Adams street (the site of the postoffice at present), which was formally dedicated June 13, 1851. Three years later this structure was moved to a lot purchased by the congregation on the northwest corner of Wells and Adams street, where the first Jewish day school in Illinois was established. With the movement of its members further south, the congregation moved to the northwest corner of Wabash avenue and Peck court, where a temple was built which was one of the few buildings spared during the Chicago fire of 1871. It was burned to the ground in the great fire of 1874, however, after which the congregation bought the church and property of Plymouth Church at the corner of Indiana avenue and 26th street, where it remained until 1890, when, disposing of this site to B'nai Sholom Temple, it erected its present magnificent temple at the corner of Indiana avenue and 33rd street, at a cost of $110,000.

The first rabbi of K. A. M. Congregation was Rev. Ignatz Kunreuther. Dr. Liebman Adler began a long service in 1861. Dr. Tobias Schanfarber, K. A. M.'s rabbi at present, was elected in 1901.

The first president of K. A. M. was Morris Leopold, whose successors have been as follows: Levi Rosenfeld, Abraham Kohn (under whose administration a new constitution, that of 1855, was adopted and the congregation was incorporated), Samuel Cole, Elias Greenebaum, Benedict Schossman, M. M. Gerstley (who served from 1861 until 1891), and Henry M. Hart 1891-1915). Joseph M. Schnadig, present incumbent of the presidential office, succeeded Mr. Hart.

K. A. M. has had three cemeteries in its history. Its first burial ground was in what is now Lincoln Park which was sold to the city in 1882. The bodies buried here were in 1856 transferred to a more suitable site on Belmont avenue and Green Bay road (Clark street). July 16, 1888, Jacob Rosenberg, vice-president of K. A. M., presented to the congregation 20 acres of ground at Dunning Station, valued at $10,000, where Mt. Maariv Cemetery is at present located.

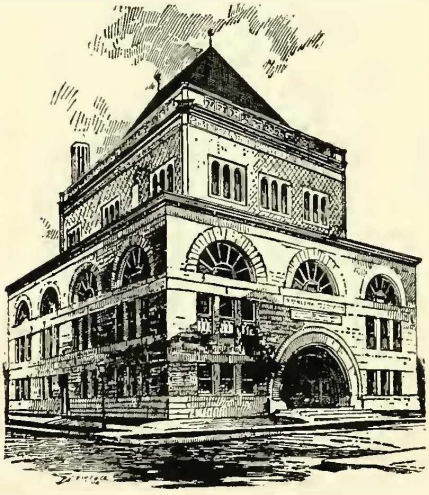

K. A. M. celebrated its golden jubilee November 4, 1897, when it reached its fiftieth anniversary.

Louis Eugene Hamburg

The above is a splendid likeness of Lewis Eugene Hamburg, Chicago's well known funeral director.

Mr. Hamburg, the son of Colonel E. and Celia Hamburg, was born in Birmingham, England, coming to America at the age of ten. In his younger years he held various positions of trust, interesting himself generally in Jewish activities through which he has gained an extensive acquaintanceship here in Chicago. In 1892 he was married to Caroline Lavenstein.

Mr. Hamburg is a 32nd degree Mason, a member of the Free Sons and Odd Fellows and 32 other organizations, besides being a life member of the Press Club.

In 1900 Mr. Hamburg engaged in the undertaking profession and in 1910 built the beautiful chapel at 4649 Prairie avenue, with a seating capacity of 300. Mr. Hamburg's services as a funeral director have been sought more frequently in Chicago's Jewish community than any other engaged in the profession here. They extend to all parts of Chicago. His chapel accommodations are adequate and thoroughly in keeping with the dignified service he is so capable of rendering. The Hamburg establishment use Pierce Arrow cars exclusively.

K. A. M. AUXILIARY

The K. A. M. Auxiliary was called into life with the coming of Rabbi Tobias Schanfarber to the pulpit of K. A. M. sixteen years ago—in 1901. The K. A. M. Auxiliary has cradled and given impetus to many of the movements which are city—and even nation-wide. However, it has considered the development of the social side of congregational life of primary importance because it has always felt that the closer welding together of congregational family life meant the strengthening and deepening of love for things Jewish.

In 1907 the Auxiliary opened a Jewish mission Sabbath School on the west side directed by Dr. Zepin, now head of the Synagog and School Extension Department of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations. The term Jewish Mission Sabbath School was purposely adopted to offset the work done by the Christian mission schools in the neighborhood.

In the K. A. M. Sabbath School, the Auxiliary has established a lecture course on Jewish history for the children, given with stereopticon views, the object of the lectures being to provide the children with beautiful representations and objective visualization of the stories of the bible as well as the customs and ceremonies of the Jewish people.

The Auxiliary was also, in the main, responsible for the establishment of the Miriam Club, a home for Jewish working girls where comforts are provided for the girls at the smallest outlay.

The Auxiliary has been doing effective personal service work at the Cook County Hospital. A committee especially appointed for that purpose pays regular visits to the sick at the Cook County Hospital and looks after their needs and wants. During the holiday seasons the inmates are visited and provided with things needed for the holidays. The Auxiliary holds regular monthly meetings in the vestry rooms of the Temple, at which programs of an intellectual, religious and spiritual character are given, always of a very high order.

The Auxiliary is a very important adjunct of the K. A. M. Congregation. On several occasions it has beautified and renovated the temple. The congregation recognizes the spirit of co-operation which the auxiliary fosters in its religious and educational efforts, and feels that it is a vital factor in congregational life.

Mrs. Isaac Block, Mrs. Wm. G. Froehlichstein, Mrs. J. M. Schloss, Mrs. Henry Gerstley and Mrs. Tobias Schanfarber have at various times served as president of the Auxiliary.

MIRIAM CLUB

The Miriam Club was founded in July, 1905, by Mrs. Tobias Schanfarber, wife of the rabbi of K. A. M. Its object was to provide Jewish working girls who would otherwise have to live in private boarding houses of the cheaper sort where loneliness and temptations might have a disastrous effect upon their morals and their ambition, with a real home where they should be sure of having ample facilities, at reasonable rates, and refining influences.

The club's first quarters were at 434-36 Bowen avenue, where accommodations were provided for 36 girls. These quarters soon became too small and adjoining apartments on either side were rented. These also becoming filled, a branch was opened in November, 1911, at 4501 Forrestville avenue, which was discontinued when larger quarters with accommodations for 58 girls were taken at 4815 Champlain avenue, where the club is located at present.

Since occupying the present quarters there has always been a waiting list.

Mrs. Betty Fuchs served as matron at the Bowen avenue home from 1908-14.

ISAIAH CONGREGATION

Isaiah Congregation was formed October 24, 1895, by members of Zion Temple who had moved from the west side to the south side and desired to worship at a more convenient location.

Dr. Joseph Stolz has been rabbi from the beginning, the former members of Zion Temple taking him with them.

Isaiah's first services were held at Oakland Club Hall, Ellis avenue and 39th street, January 4, 1896. A feature of these services was an address by Dr. Jenkin Lloyd Jones. The congregation worshipped at the Oakland Hall for three years. For a few months before occupying its own building at 45th street and Vincennes avenue, it met in the Oakland Methodist Church on Oakwood boulevard and Langley avenue.

March 17, 1899, the new temple, erected at a cost of $50,000, was dedicated by Dr. Isaac M. Wise of the Hebrew Union College. Dr. Wise also laid the cornerstone the year before, September 11. At the dedication the liberality of Isaiah was shown in the invitation to five leading Christian ministers in Chicago who delivered addresses. These were: Drs. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, A. R. White, W. W. Fenn, S. J. McPherson and A. McIntyre. The rabbis of all Chicago's reformed congregations also spoke at the dedication.

After the retirement of Henry Greenebaum as president, Adolf Kraus was elected to that office and has continued to head the congregation ever since.

LINCOLN LODGE No. 22, U. O. T. S.

Lincoln Lodge No. 22, United Order True Sisters, was organized November 20, 1915.

Mrs. Leon Kreeger, president of one of the eastern lodges appealed to the Grand Master to have another branch in Chicago on account of the overflow of applications to the Jochannah Lodge. She was granted permission, provided she could start the new organization with 100 members. It was started with a membership of 103 members and met at the Sinai Temple. Today the membership consists of 153.

The purpose of this lodge is to promote a sisterly feeling among its members. During the last year they have been doing sewing for the poor, Red Cross work, civics, philanthropic work, and helped sell brooms made by the blind. The first officers were: Monitress, Mrs. Johannah Loeb; president, Mrs. Leon Krieger; Vice-President, Mrs. S. Spitz; treasurer, Mrs. Cohn; financial secretary, Mrs. M. Mendelson; recording secretary, Mrs. A. Oliff; corresponding secretary, Mrs. D. E. Ricardo; guardian, Mrs. S. Rice; warden, Mrs. S. Strasberg; mentor, Mrs. Leo Stein.

ISAIAH WOMAN'S CLUB

The Isaiah Woman's Club, with a membership of 717 and constantly growing, is one of Chicago's largest and most serviceable women's organization. It is dedicated to the wider and more concrete practice of Judaism as a vital force for social betterment. It has been in existence for a period of twenty-one years. Meetings are held monthly at Isaiah Temple.

Twenty active committees work along religious, educational, and philanthropic lines without as well as within the congregation. Of these committees the most important are: The Religious Committee, which helps to promote regular attendance at divine services, labors for a spirit of religious consecration in the home, and, assisted by the School Committee, provides suitable entertainments for the children of the Sabbath School on the most important historic Jewish festal occasions, particularly on Succoth, when flowers and fruit are distributed, and fosters choral societies and post-confirmation classes; the Personal Service Committee (chairman, Mrs. Abraham Weil, assisted by fifty-five active workers), which alleviates suffering, working in conjunction with the Jewish Aid Society; the Institutions Committee (chairman, Mrs. Henry Klein), which visits various institutions regularly, particularly Oak Forest, where it supervises the celebration of all Jewish holidays (on Pesach, food is provided for the entire week); and the Hebrew Union College Scholarship Committee

Mrs. L. Goldsmith, Pres.

(headed by the national chairman, Mrs. Joseph Stolz), which contributes $300 annually for a scholarship to a deserving student at the Hebrew Union College, this amount being raised by contributions of members in commemoration of sad or joyful family events or as a substitute for flowers at funerals or anniversary gifts.

A beautiful custom established by the Isaiah Woman's Club is the decoration of the pulpit weekly with flowers which are later sent to the home of the sick and the sorrowing.

The Isaiah Woman's Club is a member of the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, and is also affiliated with the following important organizations: Illinois Federation of Woman's Club, Second District Federation, Chicago Peace Society, Juvenile Protective Association, and the Immigrants' Protective League.

BETH-EL CONGREGATION

On the eve of the great fire, October 9, 1871, which consumed the greater part of the city of Chicago, Beth-El Congregation was founded by a handful of Jews on the Northwest side, ten or twelve sturdy men who had left their old homes on the Rhine and on the Moldau. Although half of the city was destroyed, the frightful conflagration only strengthened them in their resolve to build an altar for the God of Israel upon American soil.

These sturdy pioneers, most of whom lived on Milwaukee Avenue in a few dark rooms partitioned off from the stores in which they displayed their merchandise, went to their work with determination and holy zeal. They soon bought an old rickety church building, on May and Huron Streets, for their new Congregation which they called "Rodef Sholom," paying down a few hundred dollars, the rest to be paid in installments. A year later the "Lord hurled a great wind" against the little frame building on the corner, and it was lifted from its base and flung out on the street, where it was found next morning smashed into thousands of splinters. But neither fire nor storm could discourage these loyal sons of Israel. They soon gathered new strength and bought another frame church across the street from where the first one stood, and converted this into "Beth-El Congregation."

Beth-El struggled on for years on May and Huron Streets. The first minister, Mr. Herman Eliassof, was followed by Rabbis Lippmanshon, Bein and Danek, the latter serving for ten years, when an early death called him from his labors. At intervals the Rev. Daniel Gottlieb volunteered as reader and minister.

The present incumbent of Beth-El pulpit, Rabbi Rappaport, assumed his charge in July, 1891, when in the Congregation were still many of the early workers, including Abe and Simon Klee, David Levy, Solomon Richter, Moritz Tausig, Meyer Veit and Simon Kauffman, all of whom have since passed out of life except the last named. The Roedelheim tephilah was still in use as of old and but for the family pews the ritual was entirely orthodox.

With the introduction of organ and choir the door for other reforms was soon opened. The Roedelheim was replaced by the Wise Prayer Book, with German prayers, but every step forward was marked by caution and care.

Soon after the World's Fair the tendency to move West began. Moreover, the little frame building on May Street got to be too small, and a site for a new synagogue was purchased on Crystal Street, where the present Temple of Beth-El was built in the midst of a growing Jewish community. Here the Talith and the hats were discarded. Friday evening services, with the Union Prayer Book, were introduced, and time and time again there was scarcely enough standing room for the crowds wishing to attend these services. Alongside of the Temple, Mohner Hall was built for Sunday School rooms and meeting halls for the old and young people, influenced by Rabbi Rappaport. Beth-el was the first in Chicago to introduce this new style of having a separate building with light, cheerful rooms for Sunday School purposes. So also was Beth-El the first one among the Chicago Jewish congregations to act according to Rabbi Rappaport's urgent persuasion to have a well-equipped gymnasium, athletic sports, weekly dancing for the young people, etc., which were introduced along with purely literary and educational clubs. But this feature has had to be discontinued owing to the fact that the members supporting the Temple have moved away again from the neighborhood and the expense of maintenance is too heavy a burden for the Congregation.

Dr. Rappaport has completed 25 years of his ministry as the Rabbi of Beth-El Congregation.

WOMAN'S SOCIETY OF ZION CONGREGATION

The Woman's Society of Zion Congregation is one of the most active of Chicago's Jewish women's organizations. It was organized in April, 1899, by Mrs. Hannah Simon with the object of giving the congregation financial support, and helping to make its work effective, especially in the Sabbath School, and for the social benefit of its members. Standing out in an unusually capable group of presidents is Mrs. Mo. Samuels, who occupied the office in 1901.

Besides Mrs. Simon, the following women have served as president of the Woman's Society of Zion Congregation: Mrs. Levy, Mrs. A. Stein, Mrs. Samuels, Mrs. Louis Deegan, Mrs. M. Hoffman, Mrs. Frank Herst, Mrs. Y. Roth, Mrs. Sam Cohn and Mrs. Samuel Cohon.

Its activities include monthly programs for the members, periodic entertainments for the Sabbath School children, participation in all celebrations and functions given by the congregation, and co-operation with the other Jewish women's organizations affiliated with the Conference of Jewish Women, of which the Woman's Society of Zion Congregation is a member, and important civic and social welfare agencies. The organization is a member of the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods.

So firm is the bond existing among the members that it has withstood the strain of Chicago's distances and ceaseless changes of residence.

The success of Zion Congregation is due in no small measure to the unrelaxing efforts of its Woman's Society, which, besides rendering material support, keeps alive an enthusiastic and loyal Jewish spirit in the congregation.

B'NAI SHOLOM TEMPLE ISRAEL

B'nai Sholom Temple Israel represents a consolidation in April, 1906, of two congregations, B'nai Sholom, the second oldest congregation in Chicago (formed in May, 1852), and Temple Israel.

B'nai Sholom was organized as a strictly orthodox congregation. It first worshipped in rooms over the clothing store of Solomon Harris, first president, on Clark Street, between Washington and Madison Streets. Here services were conducted by Rev. Alexander.

In 1855 rooms were engaged over Kendall's bakery, at Dearborn and Washington Streets. The congregation next moved to Clark Street and Jackson Boulevard, where the Grand Pacific Hotel is at present.

In 1864 a lot consisting of 75 feet of frontage was purchased on Harrison Street, near Fourth Avenue (La Salle Street), upon which a handsome synagogue, the finest in Chicago at that time, was erected at a cost of $20,000. This structure was burned to the ground in 1871.

After renting a Christian church on Wabash Avenue near Harmon Court, the congregation occupied its new synagogue on Michigan Avenue, between 14th and 15th Streets. In 1886, this temple and ground were sold to the Beth Hamidtosh Hagodol U-bnai Jacob congregation, and B'nai Sholom moved to K. A. M.'s temple at the corner of Indiana Avenue and 26th Street, vacated when K. A. M. established itself in its present location at Indiana avenue and 33rd street.

In May, 1902, B'nai Sholom celebrated its golden jubilee.

Temple Israel was organized as a "People's Synagogue" on Sunday after Yom Kippur, 1896, by Dr. Isaac S. Moses. Services were held at first in Oakland Music Hall and later in the Baptist Memorial Church. The first synagogue was at 44th Street and St. Lawrence Avenue, dedicated on Friday before Rush Hashonah, 1898, and occupied until July, 1913, when the ground and synagogue were sold to the orthodox congregation, Beth Jacob. From July, 1913, to February, 1914, services were held in Sinai Temple Saturday mornings and the holidays were observed in the First Presbyterian Church at 41st Street and Grand Boulevard.

The new Community House on Michigan Avenue and 53rd Street was completed in February, 1914, and the new Temple was dedicated April 24-26, 1914.

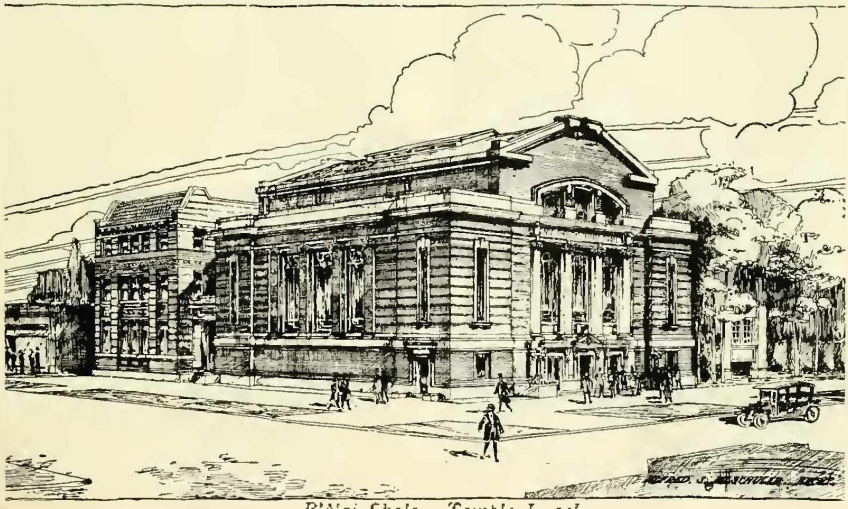

The Rabbis of B'nai Sholom have been as follows: Rev. Alexander, M. Loewenthal, S. Kohn, M. Havre, A. J. Messing, Henry Gersoni, Kaufman and A. J. Messing.

Dr. Moses served Temple Israel from its founding to 1900. He was succeeded by Rev. Edward F. Baker who remained until 1902. From 1902-06, Dr. Emil G. Hirsch officiated at Friday evening services, Rev. S. Frey conducting the Saturday morning services and the Sunday School. Dr. Gerson B. Levi was called from Helena, Ark., February, 1906.

When B'nai Sholom and Temple Israel consolidated, Dr. A. J. Messing, rabbi of the former, was pensioned and Dr. Levy was made the spiritual leader of the combined congregation. Simon Richter, president of B'nai Sholom, was chosen president, and S. Schweitzer, president of Temple Israel, was elected to the Executive Board.

INDEPENDENT SISTERS OF CHARITY

On March 15, 1905, seven women met and discussed the need of organizing a society which should aid suffering mothers and care for and clothe new-born babies. It was one of the first Jewish organizations in Chicago to give its exclusive attention to maternity work. The society has branched out since and today boasts a membership of 550 women.

Besides giving money, fuel, baby clothes, bedding, blankets, etc., to unfortunate mothers who do not possess these necessary supplies, families are united, employment is secured and many are started up in small enterprises.

The funds of the organization are obtained from a tax of 25 cents a month on members, an annual ball and other social functions, and a tag day.

SISTERHOOD OF B'NAI SHOLOM TEMPLE ISRAEL

B. S. T. I. Sisterhood was formed in 1906 with the joining of the Ladies' Social Society of B'nai Sholom (organized in 1859) and the Ladies' Society of Temple Israel.

Previous to amalgamation, each organization gave its entire attention to helping the Temple to which it was attached, and especially to furthering Sabbath School work. With the joining of forces, the scope of work undertaken was broadened and affiliation was effected with important social agencies. Today the Sisterhood is affiliated with the following organizations: League of Cook County Clubs, Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations, Permanent School Extension Committee, Chicago Housewives' League, Traveler's Aid of Chicago and Illinois, National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, and Reading to the Adult Blind.

When the beautiful new Community House on East 53d street and Michigan avenue was completed, the Sisterhood provided the furnishings. At the Community House, a broom factory is conducted and opportunity to work is provided the adult Jewish blind.

Many benevolences are aided by the Sisterhood, including: Palestinian Welfare, Jewish War Relief, Annual Matzos and Hebrew Union College Scholarship Funds, and the Council Home at Western Springs.

Last year a bed was endowed by the Sisterhood in Rest Cottage in memory of Rabbi Emeritus, Dr. A. J. Messing.

The Sisterhood is the second largest in Chicago, with a membership of over 500.

Mrs. Ignace J. Reis was the first president, serving from 1906-1911. She was succeeded by Mrs. Louis Livingston, who occupied the office from 1911-15. Mrs. Samuel Schweitzer followed in 1915.

Meetings are held at the Community House the first Tuesday of each month from October to June, beginning at 2 o'clock.

SOUTH SIDE HEBREW CONGREGATION

The South Side Hebrew Congregation (Kehillath Anshe Dorom) was organized Sept. 10, 1888, with a membership of 24 families. The ritual was to be Orthodox, the only innovation being that men and women worship together, and that a Sunday School be conducted by the Congregation. The charter members were: L. Marks, L. Rosenbaum, Louis Levin, N. Levy, F. A. Somerfeld, A. Josiephie, S. Mendelsohn, M. S. Cohen, H. Silver, A. L. Katlinsky, A. Swarts, H. Levy, M. Cohen, M. Brunewasser, John Markus, L. Brenner, M. H. Ephraim, M. Ephraim, Geo. M. Rosenbaum, Ben Davis, Isaac Levy and Jacob Stern.

For ten years the Congregation worshiped at the South Side Turner Hall, on State and 31st streets. Rabbi M. Ungerleider was the Minister of the Congregation up to 1899. L. Rosenbaum was the first president. He held office for many years.

During 1899 the Congregation leased 50 feet of ground at 3433-35 Indiana avenue, upon which the synagogue was erected and completed a year later. Rabbi S. N. Deinard was called to the pulpit the same year, and remained until September, 1902.

Dr. Albert B. Yudelson assumed the Ministry of the Congregation in October, 1902, and remained its Rabbi until December, 1915.

In 1914 the Congregation purchased four lots at the northeast corner of Michigan avenue and 59th street. In May of the following year a cornerstone was laid for the school building, which the Congregation planned to erect prior to the building of the synogogue proper. This building is known as the Jewish Educational Center, where the Congregation now worships, and where the educational and social work is also conducted. The structure is fireproof. It consists of two stories and a basement. In the latter is a large dining room seating 300 people, two kitchens and other compartments, as well as boiler rooms, etc. On the main floor is an auditorium seating 640 people, a ladies' parlor and social rooms. On the second floor are eight class rooms and a chapel, where daily services are held.

Classes in Hebrew are conducted daily after public school hours under the direction of the Jewish Educational Center in the South Side Hebrew Congregation building.

Here are also held the meetings of the South Side Jewish Men's Club, The Sisters of Aid and a number of other clubs.

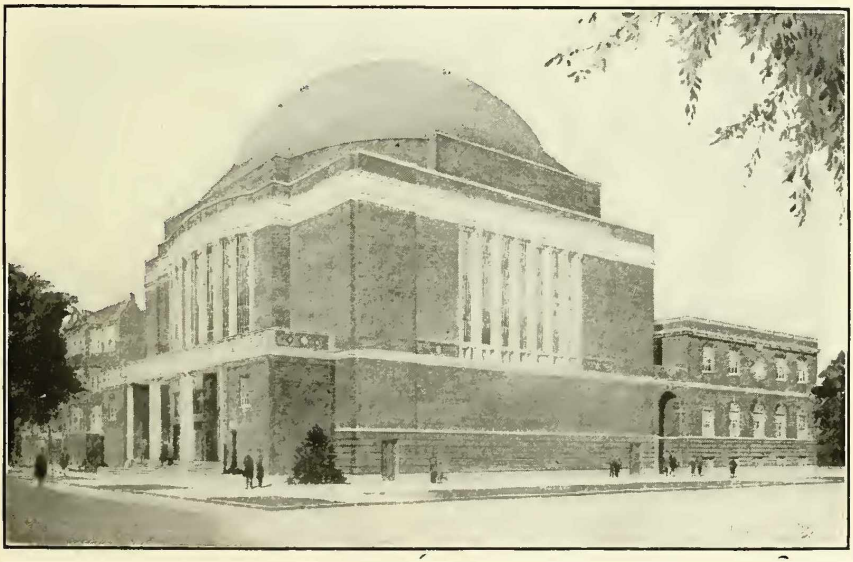

Plans are now being completed for the synagogue, which is to be erected soon on the remaining ground at the corner, which is 96 feet by 110 feet.

The Congregation has recently elected Rabbi Joseph Margolies of the Theological Seminary of America.

The congregation's cemetery is at Waldheim.

Vice-President—Sol Lewis.
Treasurer—Wm. L. Price.

HEBREW LITERARY SOCIETY

The Hebrew Literary Society was organized as the "Dorshei Safrut Heibrith" January 12, 1883, to cultivate Hebrew learning.

In 1893, consolidation was effected with another Hebrew Cultural Society, the Sofo Bruro (the chosen language). It was then that the English name, Hebrew Literary Society, was adopted.

William Rivkin was first president, and Peter Wiernik, first secretary, of the consolidated society.

For a time the society met in the Hebrew Institute, but it lost its library in the fire which destroyed the Institute in 1910.

The present building, at 810 S. Ashland avenue, was bought in 1912.

Officers

President—Meyer Abrams.
Vice-President—H. Schechtman.
Secretary—N. Fineberg.
Fin. Secretary—Rev. H. Milkowsky.
Treasurer—H. Wilk.
Trustees—W. Kaplan, D. Krengel and P. Blumenthal.
Librarian—P. Teits.
Superintendent—H. Gudowsky.

EMANUEL CONGREGATION

Emanuel Congregation, formed by 14 members in October, 1880, first worshiped in a rented hall at the corner of Blackhawk and Sedgwick streets. In 1886 the building of the Swedish church on Franklin street was bought for $10,500.

Congregation Or Chodosh was amalgamated with Emanuel in 1894, and three years later the Baptist church on Belden avenue and Halsted street was rented, while the new temple was being erected on a lot on the southeast corner of Burling and Belden avenues. In 1905 the present structure at 701 Buckingham place was built and dedicated by the present rabbi, Dr. Felix A. Levy.

In 1916 a fire destroyed the greater portion of the synagog which has since been rebuilt and enlarged. The present structure, including Temple, Religious School and Center, was finished and dedicated in the spring of 1917.

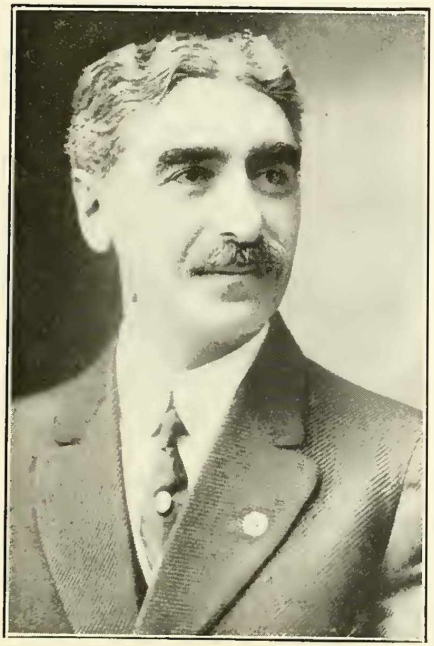

The spiritual leaders of Emanuel have been: Rev. Mr. Austrian, Rabbi E. Brown, Rev. Julius Newman, Dr. Emanuel Schreiber, who came in November, 1899; Leo

Temple Emanuel

Mannheimer, who served for part of 1907-1908, and Dr. Felix A. Levy.

Zacharius Sinzheimer was the first president. His successors have been Adolf Kraus, Leopold Sonnenschein, I. Latzar, Emanuel Redlich, after whom the congregation is named, S. Espen, Herman Meyer and Herman Selz, who has served since 1913.

The congregation has grown to over two hundred members during the incumbency of the present rabbi. There are 250 children in the religious school. Affiliated with the congregation are a Sisterhood with 400 members, a Young People's Auxiliary with 200 members and a Junior Alliance with 60 members.

SUWALK CLUB OF CHICAGO

The Suwalk Club of Chicago was organized January 25, 1914, to provide a meeting place for and to promote the social and intellectual interests of all Chicagoans who were born in the province of Suwalk, Lithuanian Russia, and their descendants born in the United States. It is an interesting example of the natural way of adaptation to American life without breaking the old ties too sharply and suddenly. It preserves the best features of a community life with an historical background. Women as well as men, the young as well as the old are encouraged to mingle on terms of good fellowship and mutual acquaintance and assistance. It does its best work in enabling the newer arrivals to find friends and guidance, and material support, if necessary, while they are learning the ways of the new land to which they have come to better their lot.

The intellectual character of the affairs given by the Suwalk Club is of a very high order. Most of the members are scholarly in their tastes and well-informed in matters of philosophy, history and literature. The discussions held frequently at the Club are of a very stimulating character.

And yet, the last thought of the Suwalk Club is to be ranked as a "high brow" organization. A spirit of gayety exists in its ranks and the social affairs frequently given are of a most pleasant character.

JEWISH AID SOCIETY

(Affiliated with the Associated Jewish Charities)

The Jewish Aid Society, established in 1900, is the most important branch of the Associated Jewish Charities. Its work is divided into four departments: Relief Department, Bureau of Personal Service, B'nai B'rith Free Employment Bureau, and West Side Dispensary. The general board in charge of its various activities is as follows:

Kohn, Alfred C. Meyer, Dr. Sidney Strauss, Morton D. Cahn, Oscar M. Wolff, Toby Rubovits, Mrs. Henry Kuh, Mrs. David Monash, Sidney L. Schwarz.

Relief Department

The Relief Department expended $156,961.01 for relief and self-support from May, 1916, to May, 1917. Special stress is placed on self-support, for which purpose sewing-schools for dependent mothers and a room for broom-making for blind men, are maintained. Miss Frances Taussig is superintendent of the Relief Department.

ANSHE EMES CONGREGATION

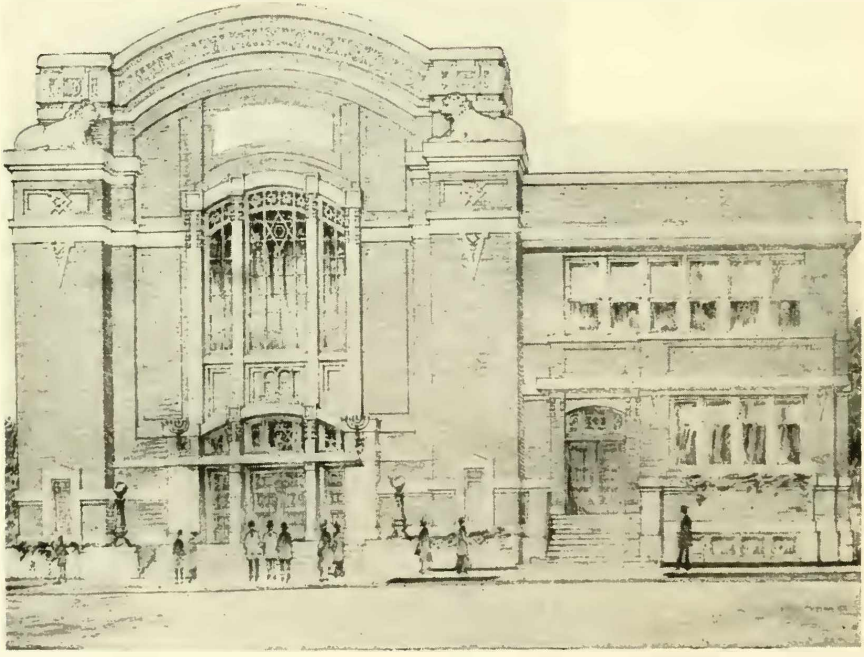

Congregation Anshe Emes was organized in 1878. The purpose actuating its founders was the establishment of a traditional mode of worship which should, at the same time, meet with the requirements of modern conditions. For thirteen years the striving pioneers had to be content with temporary quarters in Phoenix Hall, located at 202 West Division Street.

On September 3, 1893, the dedication of a new synagogue, at 1363 Sedgwick Street, opened a new chapter in the history of the Congregation. The acquisition of a permanent home placed the organization upon a more solid foundation and the dignified position of a recognized conservative Jewish Congregation. The then new synagogue was not very large or pretentious, but, withal, handsome and attractive, and, for almost a quarter of a century, served as a center for active Jewish religious endeavor to a great many of our people on the lower North Side of the city.

However, the constant shifting of population, which is the inevitable result of rapid growth in large cities, has strongly affected, also, this organization. Many of its members removed to locations further north and the entire neighborhood in Sedgwick Street had changed to such an extent that a few years ago the active workers of Anshe Emes began planning to move the seat of the congregation further north. Consistent with such plans, ground for a new house of worship was purchased on Gary Place, near Broadway, in the spring of 1914.

As the contemplated project of building a new home for the congregation became mature, it was realized that besides a place of worship it was also necessary to provide a Community House where religious training for the children and wholesome social activities for the young people could be given. With this fact in view, the congregation has erected on its new site, 627-633 Gary Place, a three-story building containing a large auditorium, library, play room and six classrooms that make ideal accommodations for educational and social activities. The building was formally dedicated in September, 1916.

A remarkable fact in the history of the Congregation Anshe Emes is its policy. From its very inception to this day it has maintained an even and consistent conservative policy. At no time has it deviated to any extreme and the tradition of its thirty-nine years of existence will serve as an inspiration to follow the road of "the golden mean" also for the future.

Services are now being held daily in the Anshe Emes Synagogue. The spiritual leader of the congregation is Rabbi Joseph Hevesh, a graduate of the Jewish Theological Seminary of New York City.

The congregation is a member of the United Synagogues of America.

The Religious School of Anshe Emes is the object of its tenderest concern. Realizing the urgent need for a more intensive religious training of the children, a Hebrew School, meeting three times a week, besides the regular Sunday morning sessions, was opened October 1, 1916. Thirty-eight pupils are enrolled at present, divided into three classes. During its brief existence the religious school has already justified the high hopes placed in its usefulness and it promises to become a strong force in the future.

A troop of the "Boy Scouts of America," composed of members from the Religious School and post-confirmation classes, does excellent work along its chosen lines.

A group of "Camp Fire Girls" is now being organized.

THE ORPHAN HELPERS' CLUB

The "T. O. H. Club," as the Orphan Helpers' Club is known in the community, was organized about twenty years ago by a small number of young Jewish girls for the purpose of assisting the Chicago Home for Jewish Orphans, then a small institution. It has rendered noteworthy aid. As the Home grew and was taken care of by larger organizations and did not require further assistance from the club, the girls undertook to enlarge their field of work. The Home, however, still receives a gift each year from the T. O. H.

Besides a large number of individual cases, investigated personally by members of the club, and which have received assistance, the following is a partial list of charitable institutions helped during the existence of the club: Home for the Friendless, Maxwell Street Settlement, Esther Falkenstein Settlement, Marks Nathan Home, Chicago Hebrew Institute, The Winfield Sanitarium, Consumptive Relief Society of Chicago and of Denver, Matzos Fund, War Relief Fund and Chicago Lying-In Hospital. Some of these are at present receiving aid.

The money disbursed has been raised by means of dances, card parties and other social affairs.

HUMBOLDT LADIES' AID SOCIETY

The Humboldt Ladies' Aid Society dates from the evening of October 29, 1908, when thirteen women gathered at the home of Mrs. Celia Polkovitz and banded themselves into an organization for the dispensing of charity. Meetings at the homes of Mrs. Sadie Danzinger, Mrs. Tillie Weidemuller and others followed, until a hall was secured for regular meetings.

The first attempt to raise funds was made at a dance given January 31, 1909. This was so successful that an affair was given in June of the same year, called a Festival Ball. At these affairs and at another ball given February 13, 1910, and two public whists, the receipts totaled $829.26.

The annual ball and a number of whists given each year provide the organization with its funds.

The Grand Charity Ball of January, 1916, netted a profit of $473.00. Between two hundred and two hundred and fifty families are aided each year, assistance being given three or four days after receiving notice.

Mrs. Celia Polkovitz, who succeeded the first president, Mrs. Sadie Danziger, held office for five years. On January 27, 1915, Mrs. Polkovitz was succeeded by Mrs. Fannie Brown.

The Aid Society has a membership of eighty-five in good standing.

ANSHE EMES SISTERHOOD

The Anshe Emes Sisterhood, organized in 1891, was the first woman's auxiliary to a conservative Jewish congregation in Chicago. During its twenty-six years of active service, it has aided Congregation Anshe Emes financially and aimed for the spiritual betterment of its members. Among its activities have been annual bazaars, Purim Balls and Chanukah entertainments, when the members of the Sister hood have been hostesses to the children of the Sunday School. Several members of the Sisterhood have also taught in the Sunday School.

Mrs. Jacob Ecker, Pres.

In 1914 when the old synagogue was found to be too small for the growing congregation and it was decided to build a new one further north, the Sisterhood contributed a handsome sum toward the purchase of lots on Gary Place near Broadway.

In February, 1916, the Sisterhood celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary. This was the last big Sisterhood affair in the old building and was a very touching and beautiful occasion. Among the charter members who were present and who recounted the doings of former days were, Mrs. Ed. Brown, Mrs. Fannie Nussbaum, Mrs. E. Arnstein, Mrs. Sol Saxe and Mrs. Anna Bymel.

In May, 1916, the Sisterhood gave a bazaar lasting a week, at the new Anshe Emes Community House.

In the fall of 1916 the Sisterhood furnished the carpets, curtains and other interior decorations for the Dedication of the Community House Building.

Events of the last year include a theatre party given at the Yiddish theatre, a grand Purim Ball and a Congregational Supper, each a splendid success.

During the last few years, the Sisterhood has made rapid progress. It has doubled its membership, it has affiliated with the Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations and many of its members have joined the Women's Auxiliary Branch of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. It is represented on the Anshe Emes School Board and by delegates at the Congregational meetings as well as at the meetings of the Anshe Emes Alliance. For the future, it is planning an ambitious program. Several of the members have been so impressed with the daily Hebrew School conducted in the classrooms of the Community House, that they have decided to start an adult Hebrew class, under the leadership of Rabbi Joseph Hevesh.

The past presidents of the Sisterhood are: Mrs. Ed. Brown, Mrs. Esther Myers, Mrs. Johanna Miller, Mrs. Carrie Levi and Mrs. Malie Dublon.

MOSES MONTEFIORE CONGREGATION

Moses Montefiore Congregation had its beginnings shortly after the disastrous Chicago fire of 1871. It was first known as Ohaveh Sholem, the name given to it by its organizer, Mr. Hymes, and its first members. Its first place of worship consisted of two rooms. Mr. Hymes served as president of the struggling congregation for many years. At first only a chazen officiated, Cantor Lesser, the congregation being too poor to afford a rabbi. One of the first trustees, David Morris, is still living and serving as trustee of the congregation. He is 77 years of age and has maintained active connection with the Moses Montefiore Congregation for the past 40 years.

The first edifice of the congregation was erected at a cost of $5,000 on two lots on Augusta street near Noble. Here the congregation remained for eight years during which it was served by a rabbi as well as a chazen.

The present temple building on Robey street near Thomas was erected at a cost of $26,000. Rabbi Agate came to the congregation with its erection and served until he was succeeded by the present incumbent, Rabbi Julius Newman, who has officiated during the past thirteen years.

MOSES MONTEFIORE LADIES' AUXILIARY

The Moses Montefiore Ladies' Auxiliary was organized Wednesday, October 27, 1902, by Mrs. Simon L. Levy, who has been secretary of the auxiliary since its organization. It was formed with a membership of 28 members and now numbers 150.

Mrs. J. Gerson has been president and Mrs. S. Herrman, treasurer, since the beginning.

Through the efforts of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Moses Montefiore Temple is the handsomest edifice of its kind on the Northwest side. During the fifteen years of its existence, the auxiliary has contributed over $8,000 to the congregation for improvements and for paying off the mortgage.

The auxiliary contributes monthly to the Jewish war sufferers and does extensive work among the poor. Members pay $3 yearly as dues. Card parties and socials are frequently held in the vestry rooms.

The auxiliary takes a keen interest in the Sabbath school where 150 children are taught, without any charge, by six teachers.

The auxiliary is affiliated with the Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations of Chicago.

MOSES MONTEFIORE HEBREW FREE SCHOOL

The Moses Montefiore Hebrew Free School, also known as the West Side Talmud Torah, was the first Talmud Torah in Chicago. It was established in 1883, shortly after the one hundredth birthday anniversary of Moses Montefiore, the great English Jewish philanthropist, was celebrated throughout the world.

The school is the largest of its kind in Chicago, furnishing a Hebrew education free of charge to 1,400 Jewish children at a total expense of over $17,000 annually. Forty per cent of this amount is raised by itself, the rest being given by the Federated Orthodox Churches.

It operates four branches located as follows: Miller and 18th streets, Jefferson and Kramer streets, Lincoln and Taylor streets, and Washburne and Miller streets.

B'NAI ABRAHAM AUXILIARY.

The B'nai Abraham Auxiliary dates from an informal meeting held November 18, 1909, in the vestry rooms of B'nai Abraham Temple, to discuss the formation of a society of members of the congregation and others interested in promoting sociability and literary activity. The suggestion came from Dr. Ungerleider, Rabbi of the Temple.

At a general meeting held on Sunday,

Ignace E. Weiss, Pres.

December 5, 1909, the Auxiliary was organized for the express purpose, as stated in the constitution then adopted, of "promoting the social, educational and moral welfare of its members and to render financial assistance to B'nai Abraham Temple."

The Auxiliary admits to membership any Jewish unmarried young man over the age of 20, and young woman over the age of 18, who are of good moral character, whether they or their parents or relatives are members of the Temple or not.

When members in good standing are married they become associate members and are exempt from the payment of dues.

Meetings are held at the Temple regularly on the third Sunday of each month. These meetings have been marked by novel features appropriate to the season of the year. Thus Thanksgiving is marked by a Thanksgiving ball, and beach parties are given in July at Clarendon Beach. Other activities include a May dance, a boat excursion in June, and a picnic in August. Hikes are also a popular feature of the Auxiliary's affairs.

The Auxiliary throws its soul also into such helpful and thoughtful endeavor as sending flowers to the sick and helpful service in time of bereavement.

The educational and aesthetic improvement of the members is provided by lectures and musicales held frequently.

LADIES' AID CIRCLE

The Ladies' Aid Circle dates from March 9, 1915, when it was formally instituted, since which time it has been very active in giving relief to needy families. It operates on the theory that, after all, small organizations looking out for the needs of those in distress are necessary in spite of the fact that philanthropy has become organized. The best methods of the organized bodies are followed, investigations being carefully made before aid is given, and at the same time the personal touch which smaller organizations are able to give, enables the Circle to reach cases that might otherwise never come to the attention of the official relief organizations.

Funds are raised at dances and whists given throughout the year.

The Ladies' Aid Circle meets the second Wednesday of each month at Sinai Social Center.

Officers, 1917-18

President—Mrs. Harry Schiffman.
Vice-President—Mrs. Abraham Rosen.
Secretary—Mrs. Joseph W. Hoodwin.
Treasurer—Mrs. John F. Locke.
Chairman of Relief—Mrs. Max Greenwald.

LADIES' CHARITY AUXILIARY, O. K. O. J.

The Ladies' Charity Auxiliary, Order Knights of Joseph, was formed in January, 1914, to aid sick and distressed members of various lodges of the order. Rapidly the sisters of the 23 subordinate lodges in Chicago are joining the auxiliary. The present membership is 60.

Meetings are held the last Tuesday of each month during the winter at West Park No. 2, and during the summer at Douglas Park Refectory.

BETH JACOB CONGREGATION

Congregation Beth Jacob was founded in 1900. The charter members were: Messrs. Moses Rosenberg, I. Iralson, H. Marcus, A. Gotlieb, Philip Rosenweig (all of whom are deceased), I. Friedman, Jos. B. Abarbanel, J. Rosenstein, Morris Abrams and A. Levinson.

The first services were held at 38th Street and Cottage Grove Avenue. Later, a house was purchased at 37th Street and Vincennes Avenue. In 1913 the present quarters at 44th Street and St. Lawrence Avenue were purchased from the B'nai Sholom Temple Israel Congregation which moved further south.

Services are held three times daily as well as on Friday evenings and Saturday mornings when special services are conducted by Cantor Isaac Zaritsky and choir. During the Sabbath day, a Chevra Mishneis studies the law of the Mishna.

Forty pupils receive daily instruction in the Talmud Torah from Rev. Nathan Fineberg.

LADIES' SOCIETY, BETH JACOB CONGREGATION

The Ladies' Society of Beth Jacob was organized in 1913 by eight women of the congregation eager to form all the women into an association to further the work of the congregation. The main spirits were Miss E. Cohen, Mrs. Rieman, Mrs. Rosenfeild, Mrs. Adler and Mrs. D. Kople.

The Ladies' Society has rendered good service in helping to provide the funds for needed repairs, and in decorating the synagogue, besides working to reduce the heavy mortgage on the property.

In 1916 the Ladies' Society organized a Talmud Torah which gives instruction to forty children. Those unable to pay are given instruction free of charge.

The society also gives relief to needy families, furnishing them with coal and advancing small sums of money when needed.

Plans are at present under way for the formation of a sewing circle.

Miss E. Cohen was the first president of the society. She served for two years and was succeeded by Mrs. Rieman. Mrs. Besser served as president for one year and was presented with a gold medal when she retired. Mrs. Herman followed. Mrs. Kople has been secretary of the society since the beginning.

LADIES' AUXILIARY, TEMPLE SHOLOM

Temple Sholom sisterhood, the Ladies' Auxiliary of Temple Sholom, was organized in 1903 to assist the Temple, if necessary, and to promote philanthropy. Its first officers were: Mrs. B. Sterne, president; Mrs. A. I. Frank, vice-president; Mrs. Jacob Mahler, secretary; Mrs. E. R. Weil, treasurer. Mrs. Mahler was obliged to retire soon after organization, on account of ill health, and was succeeded by Mrs. Herman Eisendrath.

The Sisterhood first met in the vestry rooms of the temple at La Salle and Goethe streets. The membership then was 40. The present membership is 396. Meetings are held once a month during the winter in the Social Center building of the temple at Pine Grove avenue and Grace street.

The character of the work undertaken is best indicated by mentioning some of the activities of the past year, which included, besides the holding of congregational suppers, the supplying of 49 families and 150 children, during Chanukah, with useful wearing apparel and 25 woolen blankets, and assistance to the Matzos Fund, Palestinian Welfare, the Jewish war sufferers and the Travelers' Aid.

Recently the Auxiliary established a Red Cross Unit, as a branch of the North Chicago Base Hospital Unit, with headquarters in the temple's Social Center building.

INFANTS' AID

The Infants' Aid was formed in 1914. It makes and provides baby layettes and assists needy and worthy mothers during confinement. Where necessary, nurses are provided, and groceries, milk, etc., are purchased and supplied.

Through the Jewish Aid and other organizations, outfits are furnished to the maternity wards of the Michael Reese Hospital, the Maxwell street dispensary, and blankets, diapers, etc., are sent to the Council Home at Western Springs during the summer.

During the past year 168 complete layettes were made and distributed to individual and hospital cases.

The Infants' Aid is also interested in the work of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, the Frances Juvenile Home and the Travelers' Aid Society.

From June to September, 1917, a Red Cross workroom was maintained with all-day sessions every Wednesday.

One hundred active and 40 associate members are enrolled. Meetings are held in the B'nai Sholem Temple Israel Community House, 53rd street and Michigan avenue.

B. D. O. Z. CONGREGATION

Congregation B'nai David Ohave Zedek was formed in 1885 by consolidating two Hungarian chevras, Chevra Osah Chesed ve-Emes and Chevra Sheveth Achim. The latter had held services for several years in a rented hall at 2700 West North Avenue, its leaders being D. Berger, president; Mr. Ahron, vice-president; K. Gross, secretary, and D. Goodman and A. Goodman; the former worshipped in its own shul at 754 Shober Street (Irving Avenue), its leaders being B. Hindzel, president; H. Hoffman, vice-president; D. Rothenberg, secretary, and H. Schwartz.

After consolidation, services were held in the Shober Street shul until September, 1903, when the present Temple at 1228-32 North Claremont Avenue, was dedicated.

In January, 1915, B'nai David congregation, 1215 Wood street, was incorporated with Ohave Zedek, and the present name adopted.

January 1, 1917, Rabbi Israel Elfenbein was called to the pulpit. Cantor M. Newman has been with the congregation since its inception.

June 25, 1917, it was decided to buy lots on Humboldt Boulevard near Cortland Street where an Institutional Synagogue is to be erected to be known under the old name of Ohave Zedek.

HEBREW SHELTERING HOME OF THE CHICAGO FEDERATED CHARITIES

The Hebrew Sheltering Home, the only Jewish shelter house in Chicago, provides temporary shelter and food for needy transients, the homeless and the unemployed. It has the active assistance of the B'nai B'rith Free Employment Bureau, which helps to find work for the unemployed, and it co-operates with other philanthropic agencies in its efforts to give transients the necessary attention.

The spacious and attractive structure at 1336 S. Morgan street, equipped with all proper conveniences and accessories, was opened May 21, 1916.

From its opening until December 31, 1916, 345 applicants were sheltered and cared for, 312 of whom were men, 12 women and 21 children. Disbursements totaled $4,877.11.

J. C. Badesh is Superintendent of the Shelter Home.

TEMPLE JUDEA

Temple Judea, the first reform Jewish congregation to be established in the Lawndale district, was organized in January, 1914. It was called into being to satisfy the desire for a Temple conducted along modern conservative reform lines.

Under the leadership of Rabbi A. J. Messing, the Temple grew rapidly and soon came to be one of the most respected organizations in Lawndale.

As a result of a very successful Bazaar held on a newly purchased double lot on Independence Boulevard, which netted $10,000, work was begun on the Temple's first building, its Community Center, which was finished and completed in May, 1917.

Services have been held in the Community Center since its dedication.

Dr. Messing resigned in 1917 and Dr. Rudolph I. Coffee, formerly rabbi of the Tree of Life Congregation of Pittsburg, and head of the Social Service department of the I. O. B. B., was elected in his place.

COUNCIL OF JEWISH WOMEN, CHICAGO SECTION

In making preparations for the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1891, a World's Parliament of Religions was projected. Mrs. Henry Solomon was appointed a member of the Woman's Committee on the General Board.

For almost one year she worked alone, but after securing what she considered adequate material to organize a Congress of Jewish Women, out of which a national organization might be created, she appointed the following committee: Mrs. Henry Solomon, chairman; Mrs. I. A. Moses, vice-chairman; Mrs. Henry Adler, secretary, and others.

The committee met in the winter of 1892, during which it completed plans for the Congress. Miss Sadie American was added to the committee and appointed secretary. A permanent organization was effected, a constitution formed and the following board elected: Mrs. Hannah G. Solomon, president; Mrs. Emanuel Mandl, vice-president; Miss Sadie American, corresponding secretary; Mrs. L. J. Wolf, recording secretary; Mrs. Harry J. Selz, treasurer; Directors: Mrs. Conrad Witkowsky, Mrs. Chas. Stettauer, Mrs. Chas. Haas, Mrs. A. L. Radzinski, Miss Julia Felsenthal, Mrs. Max Leopold, Mrs. Jos. Stolz, Miss Rose Kauffman, Miss Annie Einstein.

In January, 1894, the Chicago Section was organized with Mrs. Conrad Witkowsky as its first vice president. The other presidents have been Mrs. Henry L. Frank, Miss Julia L. Felsenthal, Mrs. Martin Barbe, Mrs. M. A. Weinberg and Mrs. Israel Cowen.

The Chicago Section supports the Council Home for women and children at Western Springs, Illinois. Last year almost five hundred people were given a delightful two weeks' vacation at this ideal spot.

The Council also maintains free religious schools in our congested districts and almost one thousand girls are given religious instruction who might otherwise fall an easy prey to the Christian missions which flourish in these neighborhoods.

Through the Immigrant Aid Committee the Chicago Council looks after the women and girls who come as strangers to Chicago from foreign shores. This work is done in connection with the Immigrant Aid Department of the National body.

The Social Service Committee assists the Personal Service Bureau of the Jewish Aid, giving help and hope to many needy families.

Through the Institution's Committee, entertainments are given for the unfortunates in the community.

In all movements pertaining to education, civics and legislation, committees from the Chicago Council take an active part.

The Council is affiliated with the Illinois Federation of Women's Club, Juvenile Protective Association, League of Cook County Clubs, and the Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Council was celebrated in Chicago, November 5-10, 1917.

The Chicago Section has 1,650 members, everyone of whom was eager to entertain the distinguished Jewish women from all over the country who came to Chicago and who are devoted to the noble purposes for which the Council was organized, to further the best and highest interests of humanity in fields religious, philanthropic and educational.

OESTERREICH-UNGARISCHER KRANKEN UNTERSTUETZUNGS VEREIN

The Oesterreich-Ungarischer Kranken Unterstuetzungs Verein was organized May 13, 1885, to give financial assistance to its sick and distressed, to furnish its members and their families and dependents with burial plots, and to provide for poor and homeless orphans. Two cemeteries at Waldheim are owned and operated by the society.

Besides its fraternal work among its members the Society has donated large sums of money from time to time to Jewish charities and welfare movements.

At the time of organization, it was stipulated in the constitution that membership should be confined to Jews who originated from the Austrian-Hungarian Empire and their descendants, but these bars have been let down and at present any Jewish male of good moral character is eligible to membership.

The membership at present is 400. Meetings are held the first Wednesday of each month at 901 Masonic Temple. Meetings of the board of trustees are held at the same place the third Wednesday of each month.

ANSHE KANESSES ISRAEL CONGREGATION

Congregation Anshe Kanesses Israel was formed in 1886 by uniting Congregation Anshe Russia, organized during the latter part of 1881, and Congregation Kanesses Israel, established in 1885.

The members of Anshe Russia dedicated their first building in June, 1882, on the east side of Clinton Street, 150 feet south of 12th Street. Three years later, the plans of Marks Swarts, then president, calling for an extension of the building to the corner of West 12th Place (then known as Judd Street), meeting with opposition, he organized the Kanesses Israel Congregation, for which a place of worship was secured on the northeast corner of Clinton street and 12th Place. Four lots were bought for the congregation on the southeast corner of Clinton Street and 12th Place.

In October, 1886, both congregations were consolidated and the present name adopted. A large synagogue was built on the southeast corner of Clinton Street and West 12th Place. It was dedicated in April, 1887. Here the congregation remained until June, 1912, when the property was sold to the railroads.

The present impressive synagogue at 3411-19 Douglas Boulevard, one of the finest Orthodox synagogues in the world, was dedicated September, 1913.

The doors of Anshe Kanesses Israel are open daily from 4 A. M. until late at night. Old men who are unable to work sit daily in the Beth Hamidrash and study the Talmud. They receive a weekly stipend from the congregation for this pious service.

A school for girls is maintained under the direction of Miss Anna Goldberg.

The members number 260. Ephraim Epstein is Rabbi, and H. L. Lipner is Cantor.

WOMAN'S JEWISH CONGRESS ASSOCIATION

The Woman's Jewish Congress Association was organized in May, 1916, primarily to aid the Jewish Congress Association for the Middle West in propaganda work acquainting all existing Jewish women's organizations in Chicago with the aims and purposes of the American Jewish Congress —the union of all Jewish forces to gain equal political, civil and religious rights for Jews in all countries where those rights are denied them. Mrs. J. G. Grossberg was the moving spirit in the formation of the Woman's Association.

Mrs. Edwin Romberg was the first presiding officer. She has been an ardent advocate of the Congress almost since its inception.

berg, vice-president of the Women's organization, in July, 1916.

January 8, 1917, a joint affair was given by the Women's and the Young People's associations, at Orchestra Hall, in the form of a "Pageant of Great and Famous Women," which netted a substantial sum for the work of the Congress organization.

Mrs. Edwin Romberg, Mrs. J. G. Grossberg, Mrs. Benjamin Davis, Mrs. I. Natkin and Mrs. J. Ginsburg were named a committee appointed by the Jewish Congress Association to interest the Jewish women's organizations in Chicago to send delegates to the Congress convention held May 20 at the Auditorium Hotel.

HUNGARIAN CHARITY SOCIETY, WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

The Hungarian Charity Society, Woman's Auxiliary, has been in existence for over thirteen years and, as its name implies, is the Auxiliary of the Hungarian Charity Society of Chicago, which dates back for over twenty-five years.

The membership of the Auxiliary numbers two hundred. Many of these are the wives and daughters of the members of the senior organization.

Three to four thousand dollars is spent annually, solely for philanthropic work.

The Auxiliary promotes sociability among its members and assists the Hungarian Charity Society in the management of its affairs by raising funds and investigating cases.

The funds needed to carry on the work come from members' dues, card parties and mainly from the proceeds of the annual charity ball, which is arranged and conducted by the Auxiliary.

Immediate aid is given worthy persons and families in distress, who are assisted until they can gather up the thread of existence once more. The directors personally attend to investigations.

The business education of girls of dependent families has been paid for, in order that they might become self-supporting. This money has been supplied as a loan, and the girl assisted allowed to return this amount advanced without feeling that she has received charity, but that the hand of a friend has grasped hers and she has received encouragement to go on.

There is co-operation with the Associated Jewish Charities in all philanthropic work.

Contributions are made regularly to the Matzos Fund, the Chicago Hebrew Institute, the Maimonides Kosher Hospital and the Travelers' Aid. Five dollars each month has been paid to the Jewish war sufferers since the war began.

The Auxiliary is a member of the Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations and the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

BARON HIRSCH WOMAN'S CLUB

Starting out with the proposition that however the world may differ in matters of faith and hope in a future life, "all mankind's concern is charity," the Baron Hirsch Woman's Club has bravely faced its arduous task and has founded or helped to bring into being a number of important institutions which minister to the needy in the community. Its finest endeavor has been shown on behalf of the Ruth Club, a home for Jewish working girls, located at 6001 Indiana Avenue, which it founded, and the Rest Cottage, a home for convalescent men and boys, located at 8137 Calumet Avenue, which it established and maintains. It was also among the first women's organizations to agitate and work for the establishment of the Winfield Sanitarium for the treatment of incipient cases of tuberculosis, located at Winfield, Ill. Other institutions which owe much to the Baron Hirsch women are the Home for Jewish Friendless, the Chicago Home for Jewish Orphans and the Home Finding Society.

The biggest work of the Baron Hirsch women is the operation of the Rest Cottage, the entire cost of which they defray. Although established only three years ago already over 800 cases have been handled.

The Cottage is maintained for the benefit of Jewish men and boys who are in need of a longer period of recuperation than they can afford to take at the hospitals. At the Cottage they are provided with rest, care, wholesome food and pleasant surroundings while recovering from the effects of illness or surgical operations, and allowed to remain until they are strong enough to go back to work or to resume their school work.

All the linens for the Rest Cottage are provided by the Lenora Sewing Circle, conducted under the auspices of the Baron Hirsch Club. The Sewing Circle also provides the patients of the Winfield Sanitarium with suitable clothing.

Founded in 1889 with a membership of 50, the Baron Hirsch Woman's Club and Co-Workers now numbers over 1,000, making it the largest philanthropic organization, irrespective of denomination, in the state of Illinois.

CHICAGO WOMAN'S AID

The Chicago Woman's Aid, probably the brainiest, the most progressive and the pluckiest woman's organization in the world, started as a flower mission in 1882 under the impulse and the presidency of Mrs. Henry M. Gerstley. Gradually its work has expanded and today it is one of Chicago's most active influences for civic improvement. In many important reforms it has done splendid pioneer work and has shown the way where others have followed. It opened one of the first vacation schools in Chicago and employed one of the first three vocational directors in charge of the work which, after the Aid had shown the need and the results, the Board of Education took over. It also started one of the first social centers in Chicago at the John Smyth school. This work it still conducts. Almost $8,000 has been expended by the Woman's Aid during the six years in which the center has been maintained.

The Aid also aroused Chicago to the need of public comfort stations, the experiment being made at its solicitation in the public library building.

The housing committee has done good work in having complaints of violating housing ordinances abated. It prevailed upon the city council to pass an ordinance requiring the registration of carpenter-contractors. To make its civic endeavor more effective, a civic director is now employed whose duty it is to assist the president in helping to make the club an ever-growing factor in the community.

In its philanthropic work the Chicago Woman's Aid, through its Committee on Assisting the Blind, gives its attention to adults and children bereft of sight and helps them to work out their economic salvation and soften the hardships of their darkened existence. The Woman's Loan Association is given the use of the Fannie R. Adler Memorial Loan Fund in cases where no guarantor can be found. A dietician is maintained at the West Side Dispensary and an auxiliary has recently been formed to the Chicago Chapter of the Red Cross.

The Woman's Aid participates in the work of the City Gardens Association, defraying the cost of maintaining five gardens at the Harvester Gardens to be used by five Jewish families recommended by the Jewish Aid Society.

Beside this practical endeavor, the effects of which are felt throughout the community, members of the Aid are provided with classes in art, music, education and civics, and regular programs of a high artistic and intellectual order are given at Sinai Social Center.

The presidents of the Chicago Women's Aid since Mrs. Gerstley, who served until 1884, are as follows: Mrs. Samuel J. Kline, Mrs. Joseph Beifeld, Mrs. Morris S. Rosenfield, Mrs. Sigmund Guthmann, Mrs. Montague Lessler, Miss Rachel Jackson, Mrs. Joseph W. Moses—each of whom served one year—Mrs. Henry Adler (served six years, from 1891-1897), Mrs. Murray C. Mayer, Mrs. James Witkowsky, Mrs. Edward Stransky, Mrs. Henry Adler, Mrs. Siegfried M. Kirchberger, Mrs. Jesse Lowenhaupt, and Mrs. Moses L. Purvin, from 1911-16. Mrs. James Witkowsky was twice elected president, from 1899 to 1902 and again from 1908-1909.

LADIES OF BETH-EL

The Ladies of Beth-El organized soon after Congregation Beth-El itself was organized on the historic 9th of October of the year 1871, the day of the great conflagration which consumed the greater part of Chicago.

Originally the main purpose of women's auxiliaries was to raise money and help the synagogue financially. The modern women have come to see the light of a new day and they now realize that it is of far greater importance to raise Jews for the synagogue; Jews that are such not only in name but in fact; Jews ready and willing to bring every sacrifice for their religion; Jews that will give not only their money but themselves to the service of God and humanity. Members of modern synagogue sisterhoods interest themselves in the Sabbath school work, helping to make it efficient by interesting the children to attend. Above all, however, they interest themselves in securing better attendance to the services in the temple, themselves setting the example and urging others to follow.

The Ladies of Beth-El, too, interest themselves in beautifying the temple, providing torah-mantels, altar cloths and flowers for the pulpit. They try also to inculcate in the children of the Sabbath school the deeper meaning and purpose of the Jewish holidays by arranging for harvest festivals on Succoth, a festival of Light on Chanuccah, an entertainment on Purim, a picnic and outings.

THE JOSEPHINE CLUB

As the result of a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Fish at which Miss Grace Abbott of the Immigrants' Protective League declared that over 200 Jewish immigrant girls are stranded yearly in Chicago, the Josephine Club was opened September 7, 1909, in a three-story building at 219 Wood street, near Jackson boulevard, with accommodation for forty girls. These girls, most of them unfamiliar with the language of the country, are housed and fed at a nominal charge per week, varying from $3 to $4, in accordance with earnings, until they can take their place in the community fortified against the influences that make for their downfall.

Mrs. Joseph Fish, Hon. Pres.

In view of the fact that practically all of the applicants for admission to the Josephine Club come from orthodox homes, the food served at the club is prepared in the orthodox manner, and in every way the peculiar customs and religious views of the residents at the club are respected and fostered.

The deficit caused by the low rate charged per week (half the actual cost) is defrayed by the Josephine Club organization, consisting of Chicago's leading Jewish women. These women not only defray the deficit yearly but render personal service, acting as big sisters to the immigrant girls.

The smallest detail bearing on the welfare of the residents is not overlooked by the management. In case of sickness, the personal physician of some member of the board treats the case and when special care is required, if necessary, the homes of the board members are thrown open in order that the patient may be cared for comfortably.

The social life of the residents of the club is carefully looked after. Entertainments of a wholesome and instructive character, such as recitals, musicales, dances, etc. are given at least once a month. These affairs are attended by the board members and their daughters, who mingle on equal terms with the residents.

In April, 1915, larger and more attractive quarters were taken at 515 South Ashland boulevard, where the Josephine Club is at present.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY, C. H. I.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Chicago Hebrew Institute was organized January 19, 1906, at a meeting held in the home of Adolph Loeb. The meeting at Mr. Loeb's home followed efforts made by Mrs. Louis (Rose L.) Newberger, second vice-president of the Institute at that time, to enlist support among the Jewish women of Chicago, especially those in better circumstances, living on the South Side, of the work carried on by the Institute. Mrs. Newberger served as president from 1906 to 1908. From 1908 to 1915 Mrs. Joseph Fish filled the office.

As a result of two plays given at Orchestra Hall by the Woman's Auxiliary, soon after its formation, at which $3,500 was raised, the Institute was enabled to pay the expenses of its Blue Island avenue home for the first year.

RUTH CLUB

The Ruth Club, a home for Jewish working girls, had its inception in November, 1905, at a meeting called at the home of Mrs. Sol Klein. After obtaining a charter, the first organization meeting was held at 3622 Calumet avenue, January 12, 1906. The club has safely weathered one decade and grown from the pioneer group of ten women into an organization of prominence, with a membership of 320.

The club had three homes before purchasing the present one at 6001 Indiana avenue, in 1914. This comfortable frame residence was enlarged with a brick addition, making it possible to house about forty girls. The architects, Messrs. Ottenheimer, Stern & Reichert, kindly donated their services.

It is the endeavor of the club to maintain the standard, comforts and ideals of a home. There are side porches, a large lawn and vegetable garden and a dainty sick room, isolated and quiet. This room was founded and is maintained by a generous bequest for that purpose left in memory of a dear departed member, Mrs. Nannie Minzesheimer. There are attractive bedrooms, also a library and a gymnasium used for recreation.

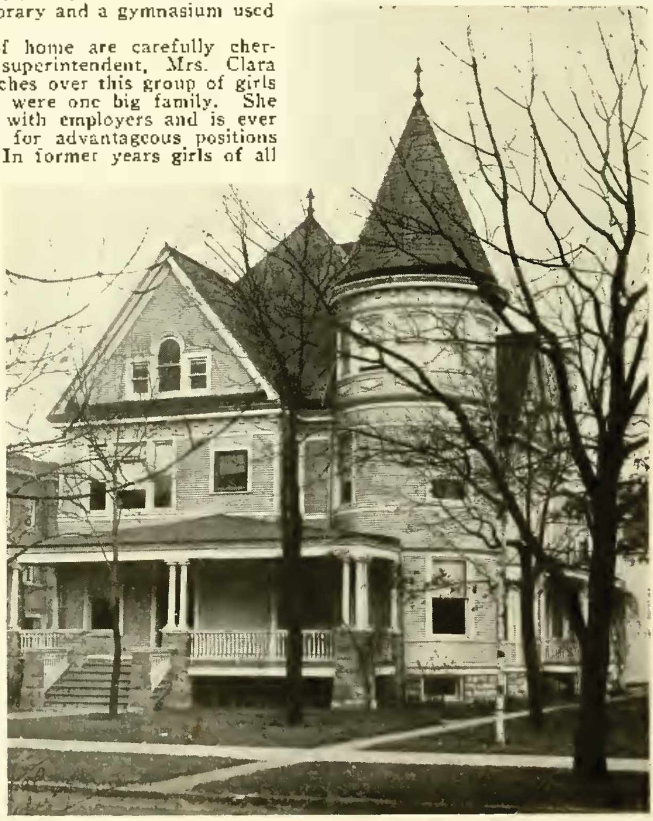

The ideals of home are carefully cherished by the superintendent, Mrs. Clara Riese, who watches over this group of girls as though they were one big family. She keeps in touch with employers and is ever on the lookout for advantageous positions for her girls. In former years girls of all ages were accepted, but in the last few years the policy has been adopted of making the Ruth Club a home for adolescent girls, with the idea that it is at this formative period that the best results may be obtained, for then it is that girls need the influence and guidance of an older and wiser person.

At present the home contains about forty girls between the ages of ten and eighteen, one-half of whom are working girls who support themselves. The remainder are school girls or those learning a trade, who have entered the club through the generosity of some one contributing to their support. The girls have regular domestic duties assigned them each day and thus rapidly become good little housekeepers.

The Baron Hirsch Woman's Club started an Educational Fund which pays the tuition and maintenance of girls learning a trade, until they become self-supporting.

Co-operation with various social agencies has brought girls to the club, but of recent years most of the applications come direct from the public.

The club wishes to lay particular emphasis on its work with the very young girls, for in this respect it probably stands unique among the organizations of the city.

Two University of Chicago students live at the Club and supervise the study and play of the girls. Two groups of Camp Fire Girls have been formed, one for the older, the other for the younger girls. Classes are offered in English, arithmetic, grammar and literature and although the work is not compulsory, the classes are well attended and the volunteer teachers do splendid work.

Much of the success of the club is due to the courage, ability and inspiration of the founder, Mrs. Emma B. Mandl, and to her able successor, Mrs. Joseph S. Meyer, who has presided with great efficiency during the past seven years.

CHICAGO JEWISH COMMITTEE FOR PALESTINIAN WELFARE

During a visit in Chicago in the fall of 1918, Miss Henrietta Szold was invited to address a small group of women at the home of Mrs. Julius Stone on her personal impressions of Palestine and its needs.

According to Miss Szold's report at that time, and those of others who had made investigations at first hand, the urgent need seemed to be for visiting nurses, of whom two had within that year been supplied to a community where twenty would scarcely suffice.

Mrs. Albert H. Loeb, Hon. Chairman

The tale of poverty, misery and disease unfolded in the weekly reports of these self-sacrificing, heroic women carried an appeal to which none could turn a deaf ear. They told of homes they had visited, consisting of one room each, often windowless, housing as many as nine persons; that chairs and beds are rare, the latter so rare that many a mother must be confined on the floor with only a few rags under her; that starvation stalks through the streets; that water is at a premium, and as a result the streets are mere sewers; that in such surroundings, with sanitary conditions unknown, the most appalling diseases result, the most prevalent of which is trachoma, than which there is no infection more tenacious, stubborn and harder to cure; that, owing to the neglect of precautions to prevent its spread and the inability of patients to have it properly treated, trachoma has been the cause of blindness in a shockingly large number of men, women and children of Palestine.

This graphic description of conditions made a most painful impression on all present, and as a result, the Chicago Jewish Committee for Palestine Welfare was called into being November 19, 1913, for the purpose of adding one or more nurses to relieve, in part at least, this great suffering. Later, the Chicago Committee decided to assume as its specific charge, maternity work in Jaffa along lines similar to those being conducted at that time in Jerusalem. The outbreak of the war halted plans for this particular work. Through the hearty co-operation, however, of all the Jewish Women's Clubs and the three hundred and seventy members of the Chicago Committee, on an average $1,200 per year has been contributed for the past three years toward general relief work in Palestine, under the direction of Miss Henrietta Szold and the Provisional Zionist Executive Committee.

Great as was the need and suffering before the war, it can readily be understood that when the slaughter is over, the distress will be beyond all compare.

The Chicago Committee for Palestinian Welfare calls on the community to help prepare to combat the devastation that war leaves in its trail.

DEBORAH JUNIORS

The Deborah Juniors, the young girls' auxiliary to the Deborah, was formed in 1903 by Mrs. Hugo Brady to co-operate with the senior organization. It has served as a valuable "feeder" to the older organization, providing it with new members from its ranks when they assume the station of matrons.

The Juniors have given their attention chiefly to institutional work, providing programs (with refreshments) regularly to the Deborah Boys' Club, Dunning Asylum, the Home for Jewish Friendless and the Home for Incurables. They also provide teachers for class, club and playground work at Stanford Park, the Henry Booth House, the Maxwell Street Settlement and other social centers.

They have assisted at the serving of penny luncheons in the west side public schools and in work of reading to the blind at assigned library stations.

The Juniors are represented on the board of the senior organization, and two Juniors accompany the senior visiting committees to the Bowmanville Parental School and the Geneva Home for Girls.

Miss Daisy Ritterband was the first president of the Juniors. The presidents since have been the Misses Ruby Radzinski, Hannah Miers, Corrine Kramer, Lillian Porges, Pauline Frank, Rose L. Woldenberg and Marion R. Stadeker.

SISTERS OF AID

The Sisters of Aid Society, the woman's auxiliary of the South Side Hebrew Congregation, was organized November 15, 1891, at the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Steiner.

It not only assists the congregation financially and morally, but also helps the poor and the needy on the South Side.

During the twenty-six years of its existence it has done splendid work in a quiet way. Besides its relief work, it maintains a room at the Chicago-Winfield Sanitarium, and responds to appeals for aid by other Jewish institutions.

November 25, 1916, the twenty-fifth anniversary was celebrated.

PROSPERITY LODGE No. 1, O. K. O. J.

Prosperity Lodge No. 1, O. K. O. J., was formed July 1, 1917. It represents a consolidation of two Chicago subordinate lodges, the Hyde Park Lodge No. 128, chartered in August, 1913, and the Englewood Lodge No. 139, organized about the same time. Both of these lodges had suffered a heavy loss in membership and a movement was begun in 1915 to consolidate the members remaining.

The membership of Prosperity Lodge at present is about 100.

Meetings are held twice a month at the Hyde Park Masonic Temple, one meeting being given over to the transaction of business and the other to educational and social features.

THE AMITY CLUB

The Amity Club is one of Chicago's most successful social societies. It was organized two years ago with 10 members. It occupies beautiful clubrooms at Fuller Park Refectory, where meetings are held regularly the second and fourth Sunday afternoons of each month.

Some of the most enjoyable and successful affairs held on the South Side have been given by the Amity Club. The affairs vary, including complimentary dances, card parties and entertainments during the winter, and excursions and hikes during the summer months.

An invariable practice of the Club is to be represented at engagements and marriages of its members, who number 42 at present.

SOUTH SIDE LADIES' PROGRESSIVE CHARITY SOCIETY

The South Side Ladies' Progressive Charity Society was organized in 1902 to aid the needy. The society was formed by Mrs. Rosenberg (now living in Cleveland), and Mesdames Marks, Tuvin, Kabaka, Priss, Chez, Neuman and others who desired to give whatever assistance they could in the very urgent field of charity in which there can never be too many workers, particularly earnest workers.

The first president was Mrs. Rosenberg, who was followed by Mrs. Landow and Mrs. Seegle. Mrs. Pereira has been president continuously since 1908.

The helping hand of this well-conducted society never closes upon a worthy case and many borderline cases are given the benefit of the doubt rather than that worthy applicants should suffer. The cases especially looked out for are, first of all, the sick and aged, then come those out of employment, for whom positions are procured. One of the best services the society does is to make loans without interest to those "down on their luck" and in danger of being dependents if not rendered timely assistance. All cases have to go through the hands of an investigating committee of the society.

Every Passover, the poor of the West Side are remembered. Last year $300 was distributed in this way.

The society also responds whenever appeals are made for contributions, such as those for Jewish war relief and other funds.

Besides membership dues, various affairs are given, such as whists, raffles, excursions, etc., from which considerable sums are realized.

CHICAGO HADASSAH CHAPTER

The Chicago Hadassah Chapter is one of thirty similar organizations affiliated with the Federation of American Zionists, scattered throughout the United States. It has been in existence for three years. The chapters have established a splendid system of district visiting nursing.

The work carried on by the Hadassahs, collectively, is Palestinian Welfare. Hadassah nurses have saved scores of mothers from the throes of childbirth, and hundreds of children from the scourge of trachoma, have bettered sanitary conditions in the Jewish homeland, where every drop of water is worth its weight in gold; and have stopped the wholesale baptism that has sought to worm its way beneath the very walls of Jerusalem. Particularly since the war began, the work of the Hadassah organization (of which Miss Henrietta Szold is the head) has been most effective. It has financed the equipment of a Medical Unit for the ravages of war.

The Chicago Hadassahs raised $1,000 for the Medical Unit at an affair at which an original playlet, "Hatikvoh," written and staged by Mrs. Jacob Abt, was produced.

The Chicago Hadassahs have also conducted a successful "Tip the Scale" campaign which collects discarded jewelry and bits of gold and silver, all of which are turned over to appraisers and converted into cash. An effective design is used in this campaign which furnishes the name used, showing a scale with one balance containing the helpless women and children sufferers of Palestine whose weight can be overcome only by gold in the other scale. This campaign still continues and constitutes one of the most important sources of raising funds.

Chicago Hadassah meetings are held once a month at the homes of the members. An interesting feature of these meetings is the study circle program which consists of papers and discussions of books and magazine articles, dealing with Zionism and Jewish life. An annual meeting, open to the public, is held in June.

Plans for the future include the organization of sewing circles where garments for infants' wear are to be made and forwarded to Palestine. While the sewing proceeds, the minds of the workers are to be improved by readings from the best Jewish literature written in Yiddish and English. Non-Hadassah members are to be welcomed in the sewing circles.

The membership of the Chicago Hadassah Chapter consists of a remarkably capable and consecrated type of Jewish womanhood.

STANDARD CLUB

The Standard Club, Chicago's most substantial Jewish social organization, was formed April 4, 1869. Curiously, its original members were as many as the year in which it was formed. July 7 incorporation papers were taken out.

The incorporators were: Jacob Newman, Louis B. Kuppenheimer, Abraham G. Becker, Joseph Gerstley, Alfred M. Snydacker, Bernard Mergentheim, Morris Selz, Emanuel Frankenthal, Moses Bensinger, Charles M. Leopold and Leopold Bloom.

Its original name was merely "The Standard," which was changed February 14, 1887, when the Club was reorganized and reincorporated, to "The Standard Club of Chicago."

The Club first met in Brunswick Hall, on Washington street, between Clark and La Salle streets. Here it remained for a short time, when it rented quarters in a building especially erected for it on Michigan avenue and 18th street, moving here in February, 1870. This building was occupied by General Sheridan and the federal troops sent to Chicago to maintain order after the great fire.

In February, 1889, it moved into its own home, just completed, at Michigan Avenue and 24th street, where it has been ever since.

The first president of the Standard Club was Emanuel Frankenthal. Philip Stein served as the first recording secretary.

Many brilliant social affairs have been held at the Standard Club and distinguished guests have been entertained by it.

A feature of its activity which attracted attention in the earlier days of its history was the "Beefsteak Club," which met monthly, each occasion being called a "broil," when notable addresses were made and discussions held upon important national and municipal questions.

RAVISLOE COUNTRY CLUB

The Ravisloe Country Club on whose links Miss Elaine Rosenthal, one of the leading women golfers of the world, sharpened her eye and measured her strokes, is one of Chicago's leading golf centers. It was incorporated August 9, 1901 its object being, as stated in the charter, "to promote and encourage athletics and outdoor sports, particularly the game of golf."

The first officers and directors were as follows: President, Simon W. Straus; vice-president, Sidney B. Cahn; treasurer, Robert C. Schaffner; secretary, Solomon Henry Stix. Directors: Eli B. Felsenthal, Norman S. Florsheim, Oscar G. Foreman, Oscar J. Friedman, Eugene Gutman, Herbert L. Hart, Isaac H. Mayer, Hugo Pam, Carl A. Stonehill, Leo Straus, Julius E. Weil.

The charter membership of 100 has grown to 325, with two life members and a large number of associate (women), junior and minor members. On the club's waiting list are 110 names.

The club grounds and buildings are located on the Illinois Central railroad, twenty-three miles from Chicago, at Homewood, Illinois. The club owns or has under lease and option to purchase about 150 acres of land. A new fireproof club house erected in 1917 furnishes ample accommodation to the members. Besides the club house, three separate buildings are maintained where members are provided with sleeping accommodations.

NORTHWEST FELLOWSHIP CLUB

One of the most representative and thriving organizations on the northwest side is the Northwest Fellowship Club which had its inception July 20, 1914. It numbers 125 members at present, all of whom are known to be "live wires" who make a success of everything they undertake.

Already many social, literary and moral achievements are to its credit and its influence compares favorably with that of Chicago's wealthiest, largest and oldest organizations of a similar character.

The success of the club is due largely to the president, Mr. Julius B. Rubenstein, who has imbued the officers and the members with his untiring and progressive spirit. His judgement and especially his genius for selecting committees accounts for the success thus far achieved and the standing in the community obtained by the Northwest Fellowship Club. Mr. Rubenstein's greatest achievement is the closing of a deal for the purchase of the pretentious building and spacious grounds at 2020 Pierce avenue, formerly the much-admired residence of Mr. George A. Dierson, which will constitute the permanent home of the Club.

In its permanent home, the Northwest Fellowship Club is due to go on "from strength to strength," adding each year an inspiring chapter to its history.

THE HEALTHERIES

17 North Wabash Avenue

WHAT'S in a name? The name "Kosher" has meant very much to conforming Jews. Their scruples will not be exercised at this Health Foods Restaurant. Absolutely no Terefah here. It is a restaurant for discriminating people, where you may select a meatless diet from foods that are not denatured; foods that truly help brain, brawn and muscle. Foods that satisfy.

Foods containing the vitamines vital to your vitality. We guarantee that no animal fats will be served. The purest vegetable fats only used in our cooking. These natural foods are naturally gently laxative, and in so many other ways help in the restoration of health. Hence we name our Restaurant "THE HEALTH-ER-IES."

Remember the address:—ON THE GROUND FLOOR, AT THE END OF ARCADE, IN THE SHOPS BUILDING, 17 N. WABASH AVE. A block and a half from the junction of State and Madison Streets; right in the heart of the Loop; and there is counter service for those who desire to take home parcels of these delicious Health Foods, which also can be obtained at our store, 19 E. Van Buren St.

CHICAGO JOINT RELIEF COMMITTEE FOR JEWISH WAR SUFFERERS

The Chicago Joint Relief Committee dates from December, 1914, when a group of prominent Jews of the West Side met to organize relief for the Jewish war sufferers in Chicago. Efforts were at once made to acquaint the orthodox Jews of Chicago and neighboring cities and towns with the unprecedented distress of their brethren abroad, committees going from house to house pleading the cause of the sufferers and asking for assistance.

In July, 1915, a stamp committee was created to distribute war relief stamps among the grocers, fish dealers, butchers, etc., of the West Side. Stamps were sold with Matzos at Passover and with seats at the synagogues during the high holidays. Business and professional men were urged to use the stamp on their letters and every possible source of revenue was tapped by this means until by the end of 1915, $16,315 had been collected by this means alone.

On January 27, 1916, the day set aside by President Wilson as Jewish Relief Day throughout the United States, mass meetings were arranged by the Chicago Joint Committee throughout Chicago and a Tag Day was conducted which netted $12,667.

In March, 1916, a union of forces was effected with the labor relief workers and the name "Joint Executive Committee of the Chicago Relief Committee for Jewish War Sufferers" was adopted.

From December, 1914, until December 31, 1916, the total of $169,834.22 was raised.

The offices of the committee are in the Schiff building, 720 West Twelfth street, Room 21. Miss S. Bella Jerusalimsky is in charge. Here all contributions are received and acknowledged, books are kept, and the work of all committees directed. The executive committee meets every Sunday morning to hear reports on all money received and disbursed and work done.

The out-of-town work is in charge of Messrs. H. Steinberg, chairman, and S. Neveleff, field secretary.

All money collected by the Chicago Joint Committee is sent to Mr. Moses E. Greenebaum of the Chicago Jewish Relief Committee, who forwards it to the Central Relief Committee of New York.

Harris Dick

Mr. Harris Dick had a mission to perform when he started out in life and he never swerved from his original intention until it had been accomplished. He is responsible for more uplift in Chicago's Jewish community than many will ever comprehend, but nevertheless it is a mission fulfilled and realized.

Many years ago Mr. Dick engaged in a business which today has grown to be a very large institution, no other than the Western Dairy Company, of which he is the head. There were struggles in the early days, to be sure, when Chicago's Jewish population was not so large, and it was then that Mr. Dick's interest in his organization was manifesting itself. Being an exceptional executive and thorough in business, he sought to instill in his men as much knowledge and acumen as possible. He undertook to train applicants personally, seeing to it that they obtained an education and in nearly every instance engaged young Jewish immigrants, men unaccustomed to our ways, and made them capable of earning a splendid living, and become a credit to themselves, all in a remarkably short time. Today there are hundreds of men who owe their success to the fatherly advice, assistance and guidance of Mr. Harris Dick. Mr. Dick resides with his family at 838 South Ashland boulevard.

LAWNDALE CIVIC CENTER

The Lawndale Civic Center was formed in the summer of 1915 after public meetings had been held in the Douglas Park Refectory to discuss the need of a center for social, educational, recreational and civic activities in the Lawndale district.

The first offering of the Center to the people of Lawndale was a course of lectures held in the Venetian Room of the Douglas Park Auditorium, beginning October 7, 1915, with a lecture by Dr. Jenkin Lloyd Jones on "Who Are the Cultured," and ending March 2, 1916, with an address by Professor Samuel N. Harper of the University of Chicago on "The Russian Government and Conditions." Other speakers were Clarence Darrow, Judge Marcus Kavanaugh, Arthur B. McCoid, Miss Grace Abbot, Dr. Shmaryah Levin, Dr. Albert Yudelson, Judge Uhlir, Judge Fisher, and others. One week a month a debate was held on some important current question, the subjects being "Shall the Saloons Be Closed in Chicago on Sunday?" "Is the Chicago Board of Education Justified in Prohibiting the School Teachers From Belonging to the Federation of Labor?" and "Is the Present Preparedness Program Justifiable?"

JUNIOR ASSEMBLY, B. S. T. I.

On February 12, 1916, Congregation B'nai Sholem Temple Israel, Fifty-third street and Michigan avenue, tendered a banquet in its Community House to all its post confirmants, whom it sought to organize into an association for young Jewish people. Addresses were made by Dr. Gerson B. Levi, Mrs. I. A. Grossman, Mr. Charles Loeb and Mrs. Samuel Schweitzer. Membership cards were distributed and signed. Lewis Newman was elected president and Miss Marion Eichman, secretary. The first year's affairs included an invitational dance given March 18 to introduce prospective members. May 21 another dance was given.

The first birthday anniversary of the assembly was celebrated at the meeting in February, 1917. A dance given April 28, 1917, was a huge success. June 2 the year was closed by a banquet in honor of the 1917 confirmants.

TEMPLE JUDEA WOMAN'S CLUB

One month after the founding of Temple Judea, in January, 1914, under the leadership of Dr. George Zepin of Cincinnati, the Temple Judea Woman's Club came into being, to further the interests of the Temple morally, financially and socially.

The first officers of the club were: Mrs. S. Metcoff, President; Mrs. H. Moment, Vice-Chairman; Mrs. Chas. Cohen, Recording Secretary; Mrs. George Kurtzon, Financial Secretary, and Mrs. I. Fogel, Treasurer. Under their able leadership the organization grew quickly to a membership of seventy-five. The Temple Judea Sabbath School was organized and taken care of largely by the women, and chiefly by Mrs. Metcoff, who acted as superintendent of the school. At the end of the first year the Woman's Club had donated some $600 to the Temple Building fund, also a Sefer Torah and curtains for the ark, and had helped with a Purim and Chanukah festival for the Sabbath School, which had enrolled a membership of over 200.

The officers for the second year were Mesdames S. Metcoff, President; H. Salzberg, Vice-President; Mrs. S. Piser, Treasurer; George Kurtzon, Financial Secretary; Chas. E. Cohen, Recording Secretary, and Abe Simon, Corresponding Secretary.

The organization was young, and had heavy financial burdens to bear, yet it affiliated itself in its second year with the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, the Travelers' Aid Society and the Conference of Jewish Women's organizations and contributed $10 to the Palestinian Welfare fund and $15 toward the chaplain fund. Much of this money came from voluntary contributions.

In October, 1915, the Temple Judea Woman's Club made its first formal bow to the other Chicago Sisterhoods, through its Sisterhood Day, an occasion long to be remembered. The encouragement received from the other Chicago Sisterhoods added to the spiritual guidance provided by the Rabbi, Dr. A. J. Messing, acted as a powerful incentive to greater efforts on the part of the Woman's Club. Red letter days also during this year were the Conference Day on Nov. 16th, Chanukah festival and Purim Masquerade for the children, and the annual Ball in December, which netted the club over $1,000, which was immediately turned over to the Temple.

In this year also the first Community Supper, which has since become an annual affair, was held for the members and their friends.

In December, 1915, the following were elected to govern the club for the ensuing year: Mesdames Abe Simon, President; Geo. B. Kurtzon, Vice-President; S. Piser, Treasurer; H. Gershenow, Corresponding Secretary; H. Silverman, Recording Secretary; H. Moment, Financial Secretary. So active was their co-operation in the Sabbath School, so regular their attendance at Friday night services and monthly meetings of the congregation, and so vital a part did they take in all congregational matters, that to them was given the singular honor of representation on the Board of the Temple, an honor which at that time had been accorded to only one other sisterhood in the country. That they were also thoroughly alive to interests outside their own Temple is evidenced by the fact of their joining the Jewish Congress Association, and being among the first to send their per capita tax.

The Woman's Club conducted the successful ten-day open-air Bazaar, held in May, 1916, at which $10,000 was realized The physical handicaps were tremendous, and many a staid member of the Temple had to wield the shovel and the hammer before the mammoth tent was in place and the interior made a thing of beauty.

Additional money being badly needed, the annual ball was held in October, 1916, netting a profit of over $1,100, $1,000 of which was at once turned over to the building fund.

The financial burdens of the Temple Judea Woman's Club have lain very heavily upon it, yet sight has never for one moment been lost of the fact that a Sisterhood's still more imperative duty is to create and nourish among its members and the community at large a deep Jewish consciousness, and to awaken, in those who have drifted from Jewish ideals, a new love for our religion, and the principles which have kept our religion so vital throughout the ages. As a step toward that end, Mrs. Simon, the chairman, took upon herself the task of obtaining the speakers for the monthly open meetings, with the result that the Woman's Club has had the privilege of listening to the leaders in Jewish thought and endeavor in Chicago.

Plans are laid for great activity during the coming year along distinctively Jewish lines. A lyceum course on Jewish subjects —study classes for old and young, a festival dramatic club, story telling of Jewish folklore, a choral society—these are but a few of the activities planned by the women of the congregation.

Temple Judea Woman's Club has established itself as a potent factor for good in the Jewish Community of Chicago.

BERNARD HORWICH — A COMPLIMENT TO AN EARNEST WORKER.

The minority on the Board of Election Commissioners was never more ably represented than by the present incumbent Republican member, Bernard Horwich. One of Chicago's solid business men, with a record of unimpeachable integrity, the interests of Chicago's citizens are safely intrusted with him.

Mr. Horwich was born in Russia 52 years ago, but left that country when he was only 4 years of age and spent thirteen years in Germany, when he decided to come to this country. He came directly west and has witnessed the development of Chicago from the status of a fourth or fifth rate city to that of the fourth greatest city of the world. From the first he showed a public spirit, evinced a lively interest in the political and commercial business of the city, and soon gained a place for himself in the ranks of its substantial citizenship. Mr. Horwich has devoted his best energies to the organization of movements for the betterment and uplift of members of his race. He organized the Hebrew Literary Society, was chosen its first president and held the office for many years. The society is still in existence, having a building of its own at 810 Ashland boulevard. He also formed the first Zionistic organization in the United States and represented it at several Zionistic international congresses at Basle, Switzerland.

During the massacres at Kishinev, Mr. Horwich rendered splendid service to the oppressed members of his race by organizing and serving as chairman of the Kishinev Relief Committee, acting also as chairman of the Jewish Immigrants' Aid Society, formed to aid Jews fleeing from the pogroms. In this connection he was responsible for expenditures aggregating $100,000. In many other ways Mr. Horwich has been prominent in work of this kind. Few men have shown the earnest and unrelaxing interest in Jewish matters that Mr. Horwich has, and, as a result, is honored and loved by those who know him.

He organized the Federated Orthodox Jewish Charities, which raises $150,000 annually for the maintenance of twelve charitable institutions, and has thrice served as its president. He also organized and is now chairman of the West Side Jewish Relief Committee for war sufferers, which has already raised $200,000 for the relief of the war sufferers. He is engaged in the banking and manufacturing business.

LAWNDALE LODGE No. 179, I. O. B. S.

Lawndale Lodge No. 179 was organized May 9, 1915, with a membership of 40 men and 18 women. The present membership is 60 men and 40 women. The average age of the members is 27 years.

Members receive a sick benefit of $5 weekly, $500 death benefit and a shiva benefit (funeral expenses).

Officers are elected yearly, except the president and vice-president, who hold office for six months. Meetings are held every second and fourth Sunday afternoon of each month at the Liberty Club House, 3420 West 12th street.

BABY PROVIDENT SEWING CLUB

The Baby Provident Sewing Club was organized in December, 1913, with a membership of ten women, the purpose being to provide layettes to needy mothers.

At the present time the membership is 40 and to its original work has been added the giving of milk, ice and eggs, wherever found necessary. When delivering layettes, so many cases of children under school age in need of shoes and stockings were found that, last year the furnishing of these articles to needy children was undertaken. If funds permit this good work will be continued.

Clothing sent in by members is delivered. An investigating committee communicates with the Jewish Aid Society before any cases are assisted, and when aid is given a report is sent the Aid, thereby avoiding duplication.

The Club is of a social as well as charitable character. The money disbursed has been raised by means of dances, card parties, etc. Dues are 25c per month. Once a year a public card party is given. It is stipulated in the by-laws that all funds of the organization shall be used only for charity.

JACOB FELSENTHAL FAMILY SOCIETY

The Jacob Felsenthal Family Society is a testimonial to the strength of the family tie in Jewish life. It consists of the living descendents of Jacob and Gertrude Felsenthal who emigrated to this country in 1865 with their family of six sons and five daughters, all of whom married and made their homes in Chicago. The descendants at present number over 100, all of whom belong to the family society.

In addition to this organization there is a separate organization of the women descendants, numbering over 60, known as the Felsenthal Ladies' Society.

The married cousins of this remarkable family, numbering 40, have their separate organization also, known as the May Club.

Meetings of each of these organizations are held once a month, the members in turn acting as hostesses.

BARON HIRSCH CO-WORKERS

The Baron Hirsch Co-Workers is an organization of younger women, numbering about 200, who co-operate with the Baron Hirsch Woman's Club and promote several activities of their own, the most important of which is the Educational Fund, whose object is helping young women to earn adequate livelihoods. Through the Educational Fund many have been helped to become dentists, stenographers, etc. The chairman of the Fund is Miss Helen Schott. The Personal Service Committee of the senior organization is recruited largely from the Co-Workers, who provide for needy families and furnish entertainments regularly to the Old People's Home, the Home for the Jewish Friendless, the Winfield Tuberculosis Sanitarium and other institutions. Linens and table silver have been furnished to the Jewish inmates at Oak Forest.

Other activities of the Co-Workers include sewing classes at Leland and Stanford parks and the Maxwell Street Settlement, as well as subscriptions to the Infant Welfare Association, the Matzos Fund, the Visiting Nurses, Palestine Welfare, Jewish War Sufferers and the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness. The blind are also assisted in broom making.

The Co-Workers share the interest and the work of the senior organization in Rest Cottage, the convalescent home for Jewish men and boys at 3127 Calumet Avenue, founded by the Baron Hirsch organization.

JUDGE JOSEPH SABATH

Judge Joseph Sabath

Judge Joseph Sabath, one of the best known and most competent members of the bench of Cook county, has made an enviable record for himself since assuming judicial office.

He was born in Zabori, Bohemia, March 2, 1870, and came to Chicago when a lad, in 1885. He first worked as an errand boy and later became a salesman. In 1893 he entered the real estate business and began to study law in his leisure time. In 1897 he was admitted to the bar and first revealed his ability as a judge on the municipal court bench. He made an enviable record first in the Forcible Detainer Branch, then in the Morals Court, and later in the Speeders' Branch. In the two former divisions he was animated by a desire to help those who were brought before him and personally advanced money out of his own pocket to help them start anew and live better lives. In the Speeders' Branch he enforced the law to the full against those who endangered the life and limb of pedestrians and became known as a terror to the speed fiends. But he did more than punish the reckless to force them to discontinue their dangerous practices; he did constructive work in the form of a compilation of rules for safety in the streets. His work won for him the appointment of President of the Committee on Public Safety.

From the Speeders' Court he was advanced by former Governor Dunne to the Superior Court to fill the vacancy created by the death of Judge Burke. At the election held in November, 1916, he was chosen for the full term.

Judge Sabath is prominent in the Jewish Community, and is always ready to lend a hand and give liberally whenever his aid is sought in behalf of his people.

Judge Harry M. Fisher

JUDGE HARRY M. FISHER

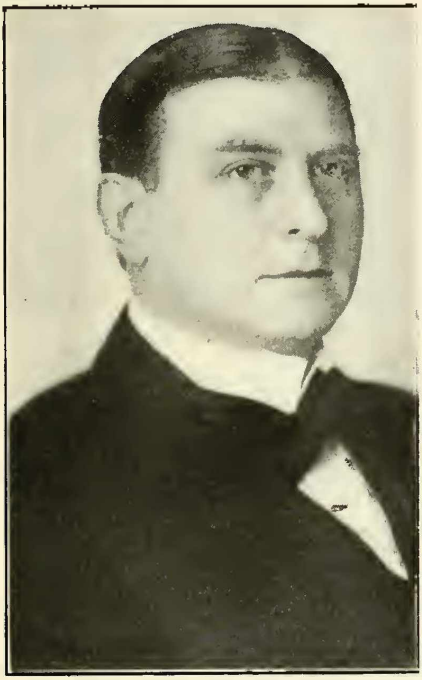

Judge Harry M. Fisher, a brilliant member of the Municipal Court, is one of the youngest men to be honored with the responsibilities of judicial office. His work has gained for him country-wide attention, and today he is known as an authority on the important problem of juvenile delinquency, particularly the boy delinquent. He is frequently called upon to address organizations and to give his views to the papers on this subject. He is president of the Juvenile Protective League.

Judge Fisher has been a prominent figure in the Lawndale district for many years. He helped to establish the Maimonides Kosher Hospital and served as its president, and he has been connected since the beginning with the Federated Orthodox Charities. He has also given much of his time to the upbuilding of the Lawndale Club, of which he is a director and chairman of the important Civics Committee, which looks out for improving conditions in Lawndale.

He is a member of the Chicago Bar Association, the Iroquois Club and several fraternal organizations. He lives with his family at 3247 Douglas boulevard

YOUNG PEOPLE'S JEWISH CONGRESS ASSOCIATION

Probably no Chicago Jewish organization has grown as rapidly as the Young People's Jewish Congress Association. It was organized on the evening of July 6, 1916, at the Hotel Sherman, where, six months before, the greatest Jewish convention held in the Middle West met on a democratic basis for the purpose of organizing the Jews of the Middle west to participate in the American Jewish Congress.

Believing that the Congress idea carried a peculiar appeal to Jewish youth and that their enlistment in the cause would be a great help to it, Mrs. Jacob G. Grossberg, a member of the executive committee of the Jewish Congress Association for the Middle West and vice-president of the Woman's Jewish Congress Association, interested a dozen young men and women, who organized on the date mentioned. At a second meeting, held shortly after, the attendance was over fifty all of whom promptly enrolled in the cause. Over 200 new members were added at a lawn party given in August, 1916, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Voynow, and fifty more new members joined at a Hallowe'en party held in the fall at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Pritikin. The membership at present is 350.

Credit for these splendid results is due Mr. Morris K. Levinson, first president of the organization, Mrs. Dorothy Wolfe Leviton, Miss Martha L. Somers, Ralph E. Grossberg and Robert Hattis, corresponding secretary, recording secretary, financial secretary and treasurer, respectively, of the Young People's since the beginning. These officials were aided by an unusually capable and hard-working executive board who have labored in perfect accord for the great ends for which the association was formed.

The Young People's has to its credit several brilliant affairs. In March, 1917, it participated in a huge banquet jointly with the Woman's Congress Association, and shortly after helped to stage a tableau of famous women in history at Orchestra Hall, which netted a handsome sum.

Besides its splendid work for the Congress movement, the Y. P. J. C. A. has supported educational endeavor of the finest kind. Prominent speakers have appeared at its meetings and have delivered notable addresses upon important developments in Jewish life.

Although the Congress movement has been established in American Jewish life, the junior organization intends to continue its activities along educational, artistic and social lines. The tableau showed the dramatic possibilities of the members, and plans are now under way to form a glee club and a dramatic club which will develop the members' talent.

CENTRAL BUREAU OF THE ASSOCIATED JEWISH CHARITIES

The Central Bureau was organized April 1, 1913. It serves as a clearing house of information for 133 organizations and institutions co-operating with the affiliated bodies of the Associated.

Representatives from each of the constituent bodies of the Associated and a few of the leading orthodox institutions receiving aid from the Associated are represented on the Executive Board of the Bureau.

The Bureau keeps a record of all cases handled, standardizes methods, holds case conferences, provides co-operation, gives attention to inter-related and community problems and furnishes general and classified information. During 1917 the Bureau sent information to co-operating agencies 219,000 times, giving definite items of interest in case work. Because of this, many special investigations were eliminated and efficiency developed to a marked degree.

A survey of about 30 registration bureaus throughout the country, including those in New York, Boston and Philadelphia, shows that the cost to the Chicago Central Bureau is 50 per cent less than the lowest figure quoted elsewhere.

The Central Bureau is represented on committees working in the interest of the public at large, thus representing the Jewish Community in the broader field of social activities.

Miss Minnie F. Low is the bureau director, and Miss Julia B. Stern is registrar. The office of the Bureau is in the Administration Building, at 1800 Selden Street.

B'NAI JEHOSHUA AUXILIARY

B'nai Jehoshua Auxiliary is the junior society of B'nai Jehoshua Congregation. It was organized in 1910 at the suggestion of Rabbi M. Weil who desired that the younger members be encouraged to take an active and recognized part in the congregation's life.

A group consisting of E. Pollock, E. L. Lederer, O. S. Klein, F. Asherman, S. Scharf and M. Laxner organized the Auxiliary and are its charter members. Mr. Pollock served as the first president.

In 1913 a membership campaign was conducted under the direction of Mr. E. Blasdek, president of the senior society of the Temple. This campaign resulted in an increase in members amounting to 250 per cent, the numbers growing from 35 to 120.

At present the Auxiliary is in good condition and is doing effective work along the lines of education, charity and sociability.

The presidents of the Auxiliary since its organization have been as follows: E. Pollock, Gus Kohn, E. L. Lederer, O. S. Klein, A. E. Taussig. Mr. Pollock has served several terms as president. He was elected to succeed Mr. A. E. Taussig.

Past presidents of the Auxiliary become active members of the Board of the Temple.

INDEPENDENT MICHAEL HEILPRIN LODGE

Independent Michael Heilprin Lodge was organized by Jewish residents of the northwest side. Two of the charter members, Messrs. J. Borovik and S. Berlin, are still on the membership list.

The first charter was obtained in 1895 from the now defunct Order Somech Noflim which was disbanded two years later. The lodge then identified itself with the Improved Order B'nai Brith which also less than two years later went out of existence. In 1899 it affiliated with the Independent Order Bnai Abraham, with a membership of 30; its present membership is 550.

May 10, 1917, connections with the I. O. B. A. were severed and a charter was obtained from the State of Illinois, under the name of the Independent Michael Heilprin Lodge. The membership then had grown to 1,056.

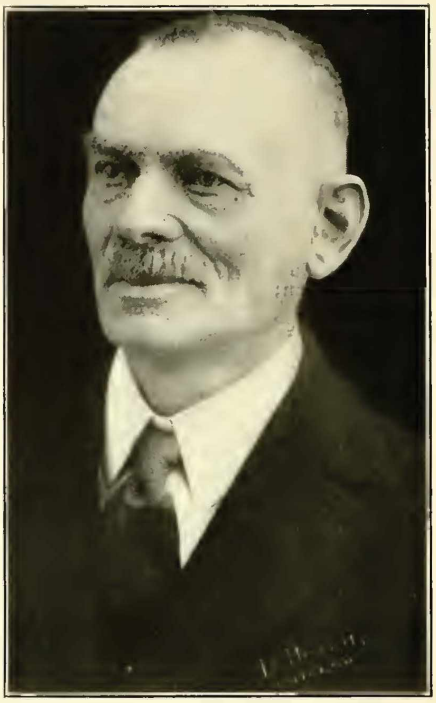

The objects of the lodge are social, fraternal and beneficiary. Members receive sick and death benefits, dependents of deceased members are looked out for, and various institutions in the community are given aid from time to time.

LADIES' AUXILIARY, INDEPENDENT MICHAEL HEILPRIN LODGE

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Independent Michael Heilprin Lodge, organized as The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Michael Heilprin Lodge, No. 206, I. O. B. A., was formed February 15, 1914, by Mesdames Lena Nathan, Flora Schwartz, Fanny Voynow, Bertha Hoffman and Rose Levy, who were interested in organizing an auxiliary consisting of the wives of members of the Michael Heilprin Lodge, with the object of visiting sick members, comforting mourners and alleviating the distress of their less fortunate sisters.

The first organization meeting was held March 1, following, at the Douglas Park Auditorium. Mrs. Fanny Voynow and Mrs. Lena Nathan were elected temporary president and secretary, respectively. Thirty-two members were enrolled at the first regular meeting, held March 15, at which Mrs. Flora Schwartz was elected president.

Regular meetings were held the first Sunday of each month at Cedric Hall, Kedzie boulevard and Linden place. Election of officers is held the first Sunday in May. Officers are installed in June. All officers are chosen for one year.

INDEPENDENT WESTERN STAR ORDER

The Independent Western Star Order was formed February 13, 1894, by 38 members of the American Star, a Jewish fraternal order with headquarters in New York, who withdrew to form an independent order working along the same lines in the West. In 1895 the first convention was held in Chicago and the Order was incorporated June 3 of the same year under the laws of Illinois.

Soon lodges were in existence in Milwaukee, St. Paul, St. Louis, Kansas City and smaller towns. Later the East was invaded and lodges were formed in the New England states, New York, Pennsylvania and elsewhere. At present the Order is represented in Los Angeles, Cal., and in Alberta, Canada.

The Western Star was the first Jewish organization to take in women on an equal footing with men. All between the ages of 18 and 45 are eligible for membership.

The Order at present has 155 lodges in 19 states and 70 cities, with a membership of 19,000. There are 37 lodges in Illinois, 25 of these being in Chicago.

In the 23 years of its existence over $1,000,000 has been paid to widows and orphans and to sick and distressed members. It has also aided Jewish hospitals, old people's homes, orphan asylums and schools. Each member is furnished with a $500 disability policy, payable in the event of loss of hand, arm, foot, leg or eyesight, as well as a $500 life insurance policy payable within 60 days of approval of claim, and $50 funeral expenses.

The Western Star has its own cemetery in Chicago.

CHICAGO ASSOCIATION OF JEWISH RELIGIOUS TEACHERS

The Chicago Association of Jewish Religious Teachers was the outcome of a dinner given by the Ladies Society of Temple Sholom in the spring of 1912 and to which all the Sabbath School teachers of the city were invited.

According to the constitution the object of the organization is "to further the improvement of the Jewish Religious Schools of Chicago, and to promote the co-operation of the teachers and officers thereof."

This improvement has thus far been chiefly along the lines of providing the Jewish Sabbath teacher with information which would enable him to impart more comprehensively our Biblical literature from an historical standpoint. Previous to the fall of 1916 lectures on the various periods of Jewish history were given by the rabbis of the congregations affiliated with the Association. A series of lectures on the same subject was also given by professors from the Teachers' Institute of the Hebrew Union College. For the benefit of those who remained in the city during the summer the Teachers Institute held sessions here in 1915, 1916 and 1917.

During the past year the work of the Chicago Association of Jewish Religious Teachers was conducted in the nature of a seminar, each group of teachers teaching the same historical period in the various Sabbath Schools coming under the leadership of one of the rabbis of the city.

monthly. Thus each group of teachers was more thoroughly informed in his own period of history than would have been the case had all the members listened to a thorough presentation of one historical period throughout the year.

For the coming season the program of the organization will deal with ethical subjects.

Besides being of benefit to its members, the Chicago Association has formed the "Help a Child" League, an organization which uses the money contributed by the Sabbath School children on the first Sunday of each month to purchase crutches, braces and apparatus for the crippled Jewish children who live in the congested districts of Chicago.

The meetings of the Chicago Association of Jewish Religious Teachers are held on the first Monday of each month. All interested in the work are always welcome.

INDEPENDENT ORDER B'NAI B'RITH

The Independent Order B'nai B'rith was organized November 1, 1843, in New York City and is today the strongest Jewish fraternal organization in the world. In the summer of that year, twelve earnest and loyal Jewish men were called together by Henry Jones for the purpose of finding some platform on which all Jews in America could unite, regardless of doctrinal differences, so as to aid the ever increasing number of co-religionists who were coming from Europe, chiefly Germany. The central thought was a "Union of the Sons of the Covenant." The important idea was union, to which all other ideas were secondary, so as to secure "a dignified representation of the Israelites in America in a religious and social point of view and the elevation of the masses in a moral and intellectual direction." This was an epoch-making event, for it was "the first effort in the history of the Jews to organize—on lines not exclusively religious or local." (Leo N. Levi Memorial Book, p. 56.)

On October 21, the constitution was prepared and on November 1st New York Lodge No. 1 was organized, with Isaac Dittenhofer president and Henry Jones secretary. Rev. Dr. L. Merzbacher gave the Hebrew title to the new organization, which name it still bears.

On February 11, 1845, Zion Lodge No. 2 was organized. It is interesting to know that the same handful of men who organized the Order also at this time started a Congregation with Dr. Merzbacher as Rabbi. It was called Temple Emanu-El and today is one of the leading Congregations in America.

In 1851 there were eleven lodges with about 1,000 members, and on October 25th of that year the Constitution Grand Lodge was called to order. Henry Jones became Grand Saar. About this time the Order, which until then had conducted all its meetings in the German language, accepted English as its official tongue. Since then the growth of the Order has been steady and constant.

In 1868, at a Convention held in New York, the present Constitution was adopted. At that time the Order had more than 20,000 members. Julius Bien of New York was elected President, which office he held until 1900, when he retired to become Chancellor, and the lamented Leo N. Levi took his place.

The Order, as now constituted, contains seven districts in the United States, as follows:

District No. 1—New England and New York.

District No. 2—Colorado, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Missouri, New Mexico and Ohio.

District No. 3—Delaware, New Jersey, Pensylvania, West Virginia.

District No. 4—The Pacific Coast States.

District No. 5—The Southeastern States.

District No. 6—Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin.

District No. 7—South and Southwestern States.

Canada is divided between Districts 1, 4 and 6.

In 1885 the Order organized its first European Lodge in Germany. These trans-Atlantic lodges are divided as follows:

District No. 8—Germany.

District No. 9—Roumania.

District No. 10—Austria-Hungary.

District No. 11—Bulgaria, Egypt, Palestine, Servia, Syria and Turkey.

Many philanthropic institutions have been founded by and are now supported by the Order, including homes for the aged, hospitals for the sick, and orphan homes. At the suggestion of the Order, Benjamin F. Piexotto represented the United States as Consul in Roumania in 1878 to influence that government to afford protection to its Jewish subjects. The Order covered the financial burden, as no funds had been provided by the United States Consular Department.

The lamented death of Leo N. Levi was a great loss to the Order, and Brother Simon Wolf of Washington, D. C., held the supreme office until Adolf Kraus in 1906 was elected president, which office he still holds.

The Order has been prominent in many national movements. Notable among these is the great help it rendered in 1911 in abrogating the Russian Treaty. Liberal sums of money were sent to Galveston in 1906 and also at the outbreak of the present European war. The Independent Order of B'nai B'rith aims to be the common meeting ground for all men in Israel, and its purpose is to emphasize agreements. It seeks to bring men into the same lodge room, regardless of their religious and ceremonial practices.

In 1913 a most important work was undertaken by the Order to combat various forms of religious prejudice. The Anti-Defamation League, with Sigmund Livingston chairman of the executive committee and Leon L. Lewis, secretary, has organized a chain of committees in every city of the country where a lodge is found. Most successful work has been accomplished in cleansing the stage and the press and presenting the Jew in his true light to Americans.

Another new chapter in the work was instituted in 1915 at the Constitution Grand Lodge in San Francisco, when the Social Service Department was organized. Rev. Dr. Rudolph I. Coffee of Pittsburgh, Pa., was called to undertake this very important work.

At the present time there are almost four hundred lodges in America, with almost 40,000 members.

There are three lodges in Chicago: Ramah, 33; Oriental Hillel, 72, and David Fish, 130.

ORDER KNIGHTS OF JOSEPH

The Order Knights of Joseph was founded in Cleveland, O., in 1906. Messrs. I. B. Heller, L. H. Cohen, D. J. Zinner, I. Ettinger, Dr. D. B. Steurer, A. Jacobs and H. Anthony were the incorporators. The charter was obtained from the state of Ohio February 6, 1896.

The order was established to promote the interests of Jews and to labor for the establishment of benevolence, liberty and justice throughout the world. The original membership numbered 16. The membership throughout the United States March 1, 1917, was 16,492. All Jews, male and female, of good health and moral character, between the ages of 18 and 45, are eligible to membership.

The affairs of the order are conducted by an executive board elected by representatives of the subordinate lodges who meet biennially in international convention. All past commanders are eligible to election as delegates to the convention.

Seven hundred fifty-four thousand five hundred dollars have been paid out in mortuary benefits; $500 is paid on the death of a member in good standing. Sick benefits, funeral expenses and disability benefits are also paid the members.

The home offices of the order are in Cleveland, Ohio.

SARAH LODGE, SISTERS OF HUMANITY

The Sarah Lodge, Sisters of Humanity, is one of the oldest organizations of Jewish women in Chicago. It was founded thirty-five years ago, in May, 1882. It was formed first to promote sociability among its members, but soon it was realized that there was much to do among the poor of Chicago, and the Sarah Lodge put its own ease and good times aside and proceeded to do more than its "bit." It has helped hundreds of deserving cases within the past thirty years.

Typical of its work is the case of a man, well-educated and of good family, who was reported to the Sarah Lodge as going blind. He was provided with funds, sent to Milwaukee to a specialist and supported while there, until, as a result of the skilled and timely treatment and care he received, his eyesight was saved. This man is now in comfortable circumstances and is a member of the society which proved a true friend to him in his time of dire need.

Other helpful efforts of the Sarah Lodge include the furnishing of artificial limbs for the lame, contributions of $10.00 monthly to families in need until they are able to take care of themselves, a yearly contribution to the Matzos fund, and a contribution of $5.00 monthly for the benefit of the war sufferers.

The procedure of the Sarah Lodge is in accordance with modern ideas of philanthropy. All cases are carefully investigated by the Board of Directors before aid is given.

The Sarah Lodge is solicitous of its own members as well as of those having a rightful claim to its humanity outside the organization. In return for the membership fee of $3.00 annually, members are entitled to a sick benefit of $4.00 weekly for a period of six weeks, and in case of death, bereaved families of members are paid $75 towards funeral expenses.

In all it does, the lodge is ever guided by the truest humanity.

The charter members were: Rachael Bernstein, Sara Markowitz, Yetta Bley, Lena Schwartz, Mary Stern.

Past Presidents—Rosa Foster, Rosa Burger, Emma Weinfeld, Rosa Unger, Theresa Goldstine, Laura Brandstetter, Rachael Bernstein, E. S. Horowitz and Fanny Weitzenhaffer.

LADIES' AUXILIARY, P. O. W.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, Progressive Order of the West, was organized Saturday, January 16, 1916, by the following sisters of Chicago City Lodge, P. O. W.: Mesdames N. Diskin, Schmitz, I. Horlick, Ida Baron, Aberman, Moskowich and Bender.

The object in forming the Auxiliary was to bring together the women members of the subordinate lodges of the order in Chicago, visit the sick and give material assistance to any sister or brother in distress.

A charity fund is maintained, the Nathan Diskin Fund, which gives assistance not only to needy members, but to those not affiliated with the order.

The membership at present is 95. Monthly dues are $25, in return for which members enjoy a $3 per week sick benefit.

Meetings are held the first and third Tuesday of each month at the Liberty Club House, 3420 W. 12th street.

CHICAGO JEWISH RELIEF COMMITTEE FOR WAR SUFFERERS

The Chicago Jewish Relief Committee for War Sufferers was organized in the winter of 1915, as a part of the movement throughout the United States initiated by the American Jewish Relief Committee (formed in Temple Emanu-El, New York City, October 25, 1914) to raise funds for the dire needs of the Jewish war sufferers of Europe. Dr. Emil G. Hirsch was elected president; Moses E. Greenebaum, treasurer, and William J. Mack, secretary of the Chicago Committee. Mr. Mack was succeeded by Mr. Samuel Hirsch, and he, in turn, by Mr. Marcy L. Berger.

The labors of the Chicago Committee were brought to a focus at a huge mass meeting held May 18, 1916, at the Auditorium Theater, addressed by Dr. J. L. Magnes of New York, at which over half a million dollars was raised. By the end of June, the $600,000 mark was reached, and by the close of the year $750,000 was raised.

The Auditorium Theater meeting of 1916, which did its share towards raising $5,000,000 throughout the United States during 1916, was surpassed by a meeting held in Sinai Temple, May 20, 1917, when a campaign to raise $1,000,000 as Chicago's share of a fund of $10,000,000 being raised throughout the United States, was initiated. The Sinai meeting alone netted over $525,000, and a whirlwind campaign throughout Chicago, conducted by a Firing Squad led by Chas. Rubens, soon brought the amount raised close to the million mark.

Officers, 1917-18

President—Dr. Emil G. Hirsch.
Vice-Presidents—Max Adler, A. G. Becker, B. Horwich, A. D. Lasker, George Pick.
Secretary—Marcy L. Berger.
Assistant Secretary—Edna Harris Berger.
Treasurer—M. E. Greenebaum.

Directors

M. Born, James Davis, Gustave Freund, Dr. A. Hirschberg, Adolph Kraus, Judge Julian W. Mack, William J. Mack, E. F. Meyer, S. Phillipson, Julius Rosenwald, B. J. Schiff, Philip Stein.

FEDERATED RELIEF SOCIETY

The Federated Relief Society gives immediate relief to the orthodox Jewish poor of Chicago, in the form of coal, food and cash. When the Federated Charities was established, the West Side Ladies' Aid Society and the Lechem Loravim, also engaged in furnishing relief, were combined into the Federated Relief.

Last year 691 families were assisted, 195 with coal and 496 with food and cash. Disbursements were $6,123.40.

The offices of the Society are in the Palace Opera House Building, 12th street and Blue Island avenue. The work is in charge of Mrs. A. Goldenberg, chairman, and Mr. L. A. Rivkin, investigator.

Officers

President—N. H. Bolotin.
Vice-President—Mrs. Max Udelowich.
Treasurer—A. Brody.
Secretary—Mrs. H. Gordon.
Chairman Relief Committee—Mrs. A. Goldenberg.
Investigator—Mr. L. A. Rivkin.
Directors—Mrs. F. Abrams, Mrs. L. Benjamin, Mrs. N. H. Bolotin, H. Chapman, S. Cohen, Mrs. M. Greenwald, A. Eisenstein, Mrs. L. Levin, Mrs. Levitan, Mrs. H. A. Perlman, Mrs. L. G. Preaskill, Mrs. P. Pritikin, S. Rosenthal, I. Schor, Max Shulman, A. Siegel, Mrs. S. Steiner, Mrs. E. Schiffman, M. Udelowich, Mrs. E. Zussman.

CO-OPERATIVE LEAGUE OF CHICAGO

The Co-operative League of Chicago operates a non-sectarian home for working mothers and their children at 4206 Ellis avenue.

The League was founded in 1909. The first home was on Madison avenue. The quarters becoming too small, the home was moved to 5131 Calumet avenue. The Bensinger branch of the league was opened in 1914 at 2217 Calumet avenue in the home of the late Mrs. Moses Bensinger, mother of Mrs. Joseph Fish. For a time the League was at 4501 Forrestville avenue, from which it was moved in 1916 to its present quarters.

At present 15 mothers and 22 children are cared for. Each family has a separate room. Children from 2 to 12 years only are admitted. Those of school age are sent to school and the younger children are in the care of a trained kindergartner.

A Woman's Auxiliary and a Junior League co-operates in the work.

Officers, 1917-18

President—Mrs. Joseph Fish.
Vice-President—Mrs. James E. Greenbaum.
Financial Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. Jacob Marks, 6221 Rhodes avenue.
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Julius Stone.
Monitress—Mrs. Marie Schlessinger.

SISTERS OF FIDELITY

Seven women answered the roll call of the Sisters of Fidelity at its organization, November 20, 1880. The membership now numbers 225. Only one surviving charter member remains, Mrs. Esther Stern of Cincinnati, Ohio. The first president was Mrs. Mary Veit. She was followed by Mrs. Bertha Aaron, Mrs. Julia Gottlieb, Mrs. Bertha Kohn, Mrs. Carrie Stickler, Mrs. Henrietta Blum, Mrs. Francis Sandels, Mrs. Theresa Quittman, Mrs. Pauline Kohn, Mrs. Agusta Dans, Mrs. Henry Hahn, and Mrs. Tillie Jacobs.

The organization was formed to promote sociability among the members, make visits in times of sickness, provide for burial and accompany the remains to their last resting place. The organization has paid over $20,000 in death benefits, in which husbands of members share.

Social affairs follow the regular meetings and once a year an elaborate function is given for members and friends. The close of the year's work is also observed with a pleasant affair.

Silver weddings of members are marked by gifts presented in the meeting-room.

It was the practice in previous years to make cash contributions to various institutions, particularly towards building funds. This has been discontinued owing to the increase of demands for help. Instead, a relief committee extends aid to needy families. Members report cases to the relief committee, which makes an investigation before it takes action. The relief committee works with the Jewish Aid Society.

Officers, 1917-18

President—Mrs. Tillie Jacobs.
Vice-President—Mrs. Carrie Levy.
Treasurer—Mrs. Esther Finkel.
Secretary—Mrs. Pauline Kohn.
Guide—Mrs. Annie Gerstle.
Chaplain—Mrs. Tillie Hahn.
Trustees—Mrs. Josie Fox, Mrs. Fannie Brown and Mrs. Jennie Wolff.
Pianist—Mrs. Hattie Hoefeld.

JOCHANNAH LODGE No. 9, U. O. T. S.

Jochannah Lodge is one of the oldest of Chicago's Jewish women's organizations. It was instituted in 1874. Since its beginning its activities have been marked by a most beautiful sisterly and humanitarian spirit.

Its record is one of consistent community improvement. It has shown the way to better things and bravely undertaken the burden of support until the community has come to realize the importance of the reforms urged.

It was the Jochannah Lodge which demonstrated to Chicago the need of penny luncheons which it supported until the Board of Education took over the work. Another piece of advanced endeavor is in connection with the Public School Art Society which the Jochannahs have helped to promote. Through this society, loan collections of beautiful pictures are left in the poorer schools of the river districts to preach their silent message of beauty. This has roused the schools to work to secure a collection of their own and has stimulated the artistic impulses of the children and the neighborhood.

The Jochannah Lodge has also engaged in extending soup kitchens, kindergartens and public baths throughout the city.

One of its recent endeavors is the establishment of the Mary G. Haas Loan Fund which is drawn from to give financial assistance to those needing it and deserving it.

Through its affiliation with the Scholarship Committee, aid is given to worthy students to secure a higher education.

The membership of the Chicago Jochannah Lodge at present is over the one thousand mark.

It is affiliated with the Conference of Jewish Women's Clubs, Immigrants' Protective League, Juvenile Protective Association and the Travelers' Aid.

Officers, 1917-18

Monitress—Mrs. Martin Barbe.
President—Mrs. M. B. Lochman.
First Vice-President—Mrs. Frank Rubovits.
Second Vice-President—Mrs. Joseph Berolzheim.
Treasurer—Mrs. Fred Ascher.
Financial Secretary—Mrs. Hugo Hartmann.
Recording Secretary—Mrs. Arthur Schiller.
Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. William Friedman.

ZERUBOVEL GATE, F. Z. S. M. W.

Zerubovel Gate, Federated Zionist Societies of the Middle West (formerly Knights of Zion), was founded in 1907. Its membership is composed of the younger Jewish element of the northwest side.

Close touch is kept with the work of the national Zionist body, as well as the sectional Zionist organization with which the gate is federated. A special officer, the Culture Director, keeps the members acquainted with the latest efforts in the Zionist world. The Shkolim Committee works to secure shekel payers among non-Zionists and arranges campaigns towards this end through the year. The Bezalel Committee gives special attention to supporting the Jewish schools in Palestine. The National Fund Committee gathers moneys for the Jewish National Fund.

Much of the success and standing of Zerubovel Gate is due to Mr. Edward H. Harris, who is serving his fifth consecutive term as president.

The organization's headquarters are at the Jewish Educational Alliance, 1243 N. Wood street.

Officers, 1917-18

President—Edward H. Harris.
Vice-President—Miss Gussie Reingold.

ONLY BALLROOM PLAYING TWO ORCHESTRAS
(Cavallo's and Elgar's Creole)

? When we say "ballroom" we don't mean an ordinary "dance hall" but a large, magnificent dancing pavilion giving the public the maximum of service.

RECEPTIONS MON., WEDS., THURS., SAT. AND SUN. EVES. AND SUN. AFTERNOONS

Right place to learn to dance. Classes every Mon. and Wed. evening, under direction of Prof. John A. Driscoll—100 instructors assist.

See Prof. DRISCOLL'S Dreamland Fox Trot and New Dream Waltz. Exhibitions every session.

Hall can be rented Tuesdays and Fridays and any afternoons for Weddings and Social Affairs. Finest ballroom in the world.

so clean, rich and good. Because it is handled with such painstaking care! Because each step in its transmission from sunny hillside pastures to your doorstep is surrounded by countless sanitary safeguards. It is a

WONDERFUL FOOD FOR YOUNG OR OLD

Think of it as a food. Not simply as a drink! A quart of milk not only equals in food value 32c worth of eggs or 50c worth of chicken, but is a better balanced food! Try eating less meat and drink more milk for a change. See how much better you feel! And, note the saving on your grocery bills.

SOUTH SIDE TIRE CO.

—CHICAGO—

TIRES WITH SERVICE

No. 61
E. Garfield Blvd.

No. 1520
Hyde Park Blvd.

No. 6714
Sheridan Rd.

PHONE: ENGLEWOOD 314

Our obligation to a customer does not cease with the sale of a tire. We agree to look after that tire and render the service in time of trouble that you yourself would have to do.

The patrons of this company never worry about tire trouble because when it occurs a phone call quickly brings a South Side Motorcycle repair man on the scene.

Get your next tire from the South Side Tire Company and with it the little Metal Tag that brings South Side Service to you in time of need no matter where you are. It is rendered free.
