Westfield

Temple Emanu-El of Westfield. Reform Cong affiliated with UAHC. Rel Servs; Sisterhood; youth groups; Men's Club; Rel Sch; library; 14 chavurot groups; Nursery Sch; Friendship Club; Bar/Bat Mitzvah; Confirmation. 800 families. The first meeting for discussing the est of the Temple was held on Feb 16, 1950 with 31 families represented at the meeting. Money was the major problem. The women thought that a women's group was the likely choice to organize social activities for the essential fund raising purposes. The Sisterhood was organized in 1951. When the J com applied for a bldg permit, a cttee of neighbors objected to the creation of a place of worship, & prepared to circulate a petition to be presented to the town council. In the beginning, servs were held in private homes. Later, they were offered the use of a church. When an elder fr the church was presented with the petition, he was opposed to it saying the J are good friendly people. The petition was never presented to the council. In 1953 the temple was formally dedicated. In 1954 the Sisterhood joined the Natl Fed of Temple Sisterhoods. The Men's Club was est in 1953. Adult Edu consisted of an arts & crafts workshop, & an extra curricular activity for chil was a social dance class for 6th graders. In 1955 the first youth group was organized & a cradle group was also organized to see that pre-schoolers enjoyed holidays through party celebrations. In 1955 there were 267 stu in the Rel Sch. In the mid 1950's an Adult Edu Cttee was formed. Home discussion groups were formed. A com forum was est by the Temple to bridge the gap between the J com & the non J world. In 1956 ground was broken for the new sch bldg. In 1957 a Nursery Sch was opened under the sponsorship of the Temple. In 1958 the Golden Age Club was est & in 1959 renamed the Friendship Group. Temple activities were growing & a temple bulletin was distributed to the mems of the Temple. The Rel Sch bldg was dedicated on May 3, 1959. In the early 1960's the Rel Sch innovated a prog for 9th graders with mems of the Cong lecturing on J subjects of interest. A class for retarded chil was started on Sat mornings, open to any chil in the Union Cty area. A new temple was dedicated on Oct 7, 1966. During the mid 1960's the Rel Sch became more structured. Report cards were standardized, a formal curriculum was est, & Heb was mandatory. Confirmation was extended to tenth grade thereby increasing the total num of yrs of rel edu. The sch received accreditation fr the UAHC. A craft show was initiated as a fund raising proj. The Temple joined the J Com Council of Westfield-Mountainside. On the High Holy Days or at a Sisterhood Sabbath, the pres of the Sisterhood would sit on the binah. In 1970 women started to receive aliyaot. Women started wearing a tallit on the bimah. In 1974 the Chavurah movement was started. In 1976 a Sat morning minyan began in the Lehr Library. On Sept 10, 1978 the Temple library was named in memory of Fritz Lehr. Congregation Beth Hillel & Beth Israel, Inc. To promote J among its mems, to maintain a prog of ongoing edu in J. Rel Servs; adult & youth edu; chevra kadisha; Sisterhood; cultural prog. 600 mems. The origins of Cong Beth Hillel began in 1939 when Samson Schmidt, a former resident of Munich, & a friend of the Chief-Rabbi of the liberal J com of Munich, initiated discussions with other former Munich J in NYC on organizing a new cong. The new cong started with the High Holy Day Servs of 1940, which were held in a rented hall. The hall was filled close to the seating capacity of 800, & three Torah scrolls fr Germany were dedicated. Rel orientation, syn servs, melodies & rituals were those of S German, conservative J. Sermons were given in German. Social progs were offered to mems; a Heb sch was started with 20 chil; a Sisterhood was organized & a bulletin was pub. In the early 1940's a youth group & Chevra Kadisha were started. The first burial plots were purchased in Cedar Park Cemetery. Over the yrs, the Cong membership grew. Membership increased fr about 200 families in 1940 to 750 in 1948. In 1943, the bulletin was enlarged & English appeared in its pages. A two story bldg was purchased in 1946. In 1947 the upper floor became available for the Heb Sch & weekday servs. During 1948 the sanctuary was constructed. The syn was dedicated on Sept 26, 1948. A Shabbat Youth Serv was initiated in 1949. In 1950 a Class Lernen was begun. A Young People's League was started in 1950 & the first com Seder took place in 1951. Concerts, bazaars, holiday festivities, dinner dances, youth group & Heb Sch presentations & progs were sponsored annually. Guest sermons & lectures were given by visiting rabbis & scholars. The Heb Sch consisted of six grades, post grad courses & a yearly enrollment of 80 to 130 stu. The Parent Assn gave strong support to the sch. The bulletin increased in size & English became the predominant language. German alternated with English sermons. In 1957 the first annual Kristallnacht Memorial Serv was held. In 1961 the Family Club was started. Membership started declining fr 730 families in 1962 to 450 in 1979. Enrollment in the Heb Sch in 1960 was about 120; by 1970 the Sch, Youth Servs & Parent Assn ceased to exist. The Cong adapted to the changing conditions by intensifying older progs & moving into new areas. The Cong also increased their role in com activities. In 1969 major reconstruction of access to the lower social hall was carried out. Cong Beth Is of Washington Heights was started by Cantor Jack Schartenberg when he arranged for & led High Holidays Servs in Oct of 1948. Heartened by the popularity of the Holiday Servs, many of the worshipers expressed the desire to est a permanent cong. On Nov 30th, with an initial membership of 66 people, the Cong was f. A place to hold servs was rented. On Jan 29, 1949 the dedication took place & by that time membership had already doubled.

Membership rose to 600 mems. Beth Is gave its mems the opportunity to practice in a Kehillah life such as experienced & practiced in the European congs of old. A Heb Sch was f which grew fr 7 stu to an enrollment of 150. Cemetery grounds were purchased. A Chevra Kadisha, Sisterhood & Parents Assn were est. To strengthen the Cong, regular shiurim & study groups were maintained, sermons & lectures were delivered, a library of J literature & of film-strips was est, a newsletter was pub, & for youth, a Sun Morning Breakfast Club, recreation evenings, Oneg Shabbos, youth groups & an annual Youth Shabbos were organized. In Jan 1955 the Syn on 181st St was dedicated. A nation wide trend of city decline & moving to the suburbs affected the membership of the Cong. Membership started to decline & in Jan of 1979 Cong Beth Hillel & Beth Is joined together for weekday servs. Subsequently, the congs merged. Pub Habayit (4 times a year); Rabbi News Letter. A basic task of the Council was to help unorganized coms which wanted Feds to est them. Within a few yrs, that mission was accomplished. The Council's membership rose to 200. In 1936 the Fed leaders committed themselves to help the German J to leave Germany. Whem WWII ended, the Fed immediately started to rebuild the shattered coms for those who wanted to remain in Europe, & to resettle the others. In order to help do this as effectively as possible, CJF set up an Ins on Overseas Studies. It brought in experts fr govt & univs to make independent appraisals of needs, current policies & servs, especially in Is, & to advise on how Am J aid could be used for greatest results. In 1944 the CJF organized the Natl J Com Relations Adv Council. CJF leaders took part in the economic conf in Jerusalem in 1950 which set the future framework of financial aid to Is. It included the est of Is Bonds. Around 1960 CJF est the Natl Foun for J Culture & the Natl Council of Cultural Agy. In 1966 CJF helped to merge the J Agy in the US with the United Is Appeal. CJF set up a special cttee & staff in 1967 to help Feds of every size to est endowment funds. In 1969 CJF had a main role in proposing designing & staffing the Conf on Human Needs. In 1970 CJF est a fund to finance innovative campus based projs. In 1971 CJF joined with others to help reorganize the Natl Conf on Soviet J. In 1973, after the flood in Wilkes-Barre & the surrounding areas, CJF sent in leaders & staff to assess the needs, to help the J com obtain govt & gen aid, to coord the assistance of other natl J bodies. After the Yom Kippur War, CJF mobilized a special fund to make possible public information progs. The CJF est the Washington Action Off in 1976. Around 1980 CJF embarked on a prog to assist Feds in developing com support systems to strengthen the J family. CJF has given natl leadership in planning, providing guidelines & aiding in developing specific servs such as apts for the elderly. The major link between CJF & its mem Feds is a yr round delegate system comprised of about 700 local leaders, elected annually by their Feds, who determine the Council's policies, progs & finances, & help to implement them. Est in 1846 by a small group of immigrant J who came largely fr Germany. The Cong took the name of Bnai Yeshurun, which later in its hist was changed to Bnai Is. The Cong remained intact until 1868, during which it worshipped in various rms. In 1868, due to disagreement, the Cong split. Nineteen of the mems withdrew & organized the Cong of Bnai Is in 1870. For the purpose of erecting a place of worship, a lot was purchased. The mems of the original Cong who had formed the separatist group, now rejoined, making a total membership of 33 people. The cornerstone was laid in 1870. The Temple accommodated 300 persons. For 30 yrs this temple satisfied the needs of the Cong. During this time the membership grew until it almost reached the 100 mark. It then became evident that a larger syn was necessary. The bldg was sold in 1901 & a lot was purchased. While the new structure was being built, Servs were held at a church. The cornerstone was laid in 1903. In 1904 the temple was dedicated. The new bldg accommodated 750 people. Eagleville as a health servs ins was f in 1909 when a few families fr the J com in Phila raised funds to create a tuberculosis sanatorium. The need for Eagleville's tuberculosis beds diminshed in the mid 1960's when the natl epidemic of tuberculosis was coming under control. The idea of alcoholism as a field of work was introduced. Eagleville opened in its new mission in Jul 1966. Within a couple of yrs, the agenda of the Hosp was broadened to include drug addiction & drug abuse. Over the course of several yrs, out patient facilities, halfway houses, transitional progs, & a variety of special progs & com based servs were created. Many of its progs were honored by being used as models throughout the country. One of Eagleville's unique contributions was to take a generic approach to the problems of substance abuse by finding the common elements in alcoholism, heroin addiction & other substance abuse problems. Temple Anshe Hesed. Reform Cong affiliated with the UAHC. To further the ideals of J through liberal interpretation. A full gamut of congregational activities; library. 252 mems. In 1855 there were enough J settlers residing in Erie to form the first rel org. This org was called The Anshe Hesed Soc. The Soc was inc in 1862. The Soc had no rabbi until 1861. The Cong held servs in rented halls until a syn was purchased, but it was soon resold. The Cong had the dilemma in common with most J congs – the conservative element opposed the Reform movement & the progressive element was attracted by it. The Cong aligned itself with the Reform movement with the org of the Anshe Hesed Reform Cong in 1875. In 1882 the cornerstone for a new temple was laid. In 1884 the temple was completed & dedicated. Due to its need for space, the temple had many remodelings & in 1924 a plan was adopted to form a cttee to report on a site for a new temple. A lot was chosen. Several adjustments were made in this temple to conform to the needs of a growing cong. The Curruck Memorial was added in 1958 & the beautification of the sanctuary took place in 1970. After careful consideration, it was decided to completely renovate the sanctuary & add a passageway. Rabbi Bradley N. Bleefeld; Pres: Dr James L. Maintenance & upkeep of bldgs, grounds, personnel in keeping with the Touro Syn, & to maintain the premises in their character as a Natl Historic Site in accordance with the designation of the US Dept of the Interior, March 5, 1946; provides for raising & allocating funds for the printing of articles, booklets & material on Touro Syn; commemorates each yr, on or about August 19th, the pronouncement by George Washington on rel liberty in his letter to the Hebrew Cong in Newport August 19, 1790; receives manuscripts, relics, pictures & other articles of interest to further the objectives of the corp for preservation, information & use of the public. The Sephardic J Cong of Newport was f in 1658. Rel Servs were held in homes or rented bldgs. In 1677 the Newport J bought a cemetery plot. In 1763 the syn was dedicated. The Cong chose the name Yeshuat Is. After the Revolutionary War, the city of Newport declined. Many of the inhabitants left including the J com. At the end of the 18th century the syn was closed. In 1822 Abraham, the son of Reverend Isaac Touro who had officiated at the syn dedication, died & left a $10,000 fund for the care & preservation of the syn. His brother Judah, who died in 1854, left another $10,000 for the salary of a minister & for care of the cemetery. In 1883 the syn was permanently reopened. New immigration fr Central & Eastern Europe had again brought J to Newport. The com took the name Cong Jeshuat Is & maintained continuity with its predecessor. This Cong also follows the Sephardic tradition. The syn is open to visitors. Guides provided by the Soc of Friends of Touro Syn are available to lead tours. Congregation B'nai Jacob. Rel Servs; Men's Club; Ladies Auxiliary; Chevra Kaddisha. The origins of Cong B'nai Jacob date back to 1890 when a minyan was held at the home of Julius Nearman. Num increased & Servs for the High Holidays were held in a rented hall. In 1894 the frame temple on State St, built by the Hebrew Edu Soc, was vacated, & the Orthodox Cong rented it. A cong was organized with 17 charter mems. The following yr, the Temple was purchased & moved around the corner to Court St. By 1908 the Cong had grown to 60 mems. The Cong purchased the State St Methodist Church & the Syn functioned as an Orthodox Syn. There was a steady increase in membership. In 1934–36 the downstairs of the shul was remodeled to provide a social hall. A new brick addition was built on the Court St side for the whole length of the bldg which provided three classrms, off, library & a Beth Hamidrash. The membership grew fr 225 in 1931 to 408 at the close of Sept 1949. At the end of the 1940's the Cong erected a new syn. Congregation Emanu-El B'ne Jeshurun. Reform Cong. To function as a catalyst for spiritual growth through servs & progs that encourage the widest possible pursuit of truth. Rel Servs; Rel Sch; Sisterhood; Brotherhood; Adult Confirmation Prog; Adult J Studies; spiritual, edu, cultural & social progs. Cong Imanu-Al, f in 1850, & Ahabath-Emuno, f in 1854, joined together on Oct 5, 1856 to become Cong B'ne Jeshurun. Its liturgical ritual was the same as that used by Rabbi Isaac Mayer Wise's Cong in Cincinnati. Membership totalled 70 families. The Cong soon settled into its first syn bldg. In 1859 the Cong built a new syn & B'ne Jeshurun & Anshe Emeth, f in 1855, merged. The first Confirmation Serv was introduced in 1859 & mixed seating began. Almost all sermons & business meetings were conducted in German. In the late 1860's B'ne Jeshurun was the only cong in Milwaukee. This caused many struggles between the proponents of Reform J & the traditionalists in the Cong. This led to the breakaway of 35 mems who est Cong Emanu-El in 1869. B'ne Jeshurun built a larger syn in 1869 which was rebuilt in 1872. By the mid 1920's B'ne Jeshurun membership stood at 350 families. Cong Emanu-El, which stood for Reform J ritual & practice, held Servs in Field's Hall until the Cong erected its first bldg in 1872. The Cong added to the syn, central heating in 1881, electric lights in 1896, & a new com house & complete remodeling in 1892. Emanu-El remained at its E side site for 50 yrs. In the early 1920's membership stood at 250 mems. On Mar 30, 1923 the Cong held its first Servs in its new temple. In the 1920's B'ne Jeshurun began to liberalize its customs & practices. By the mid 1920's many of its mems were leaving the W side location for Emanu-El's more convenient site. When B'ne Jeshurun land was earmarked for the bldg of a courthouse, plans were made for the merger of the two congs. The merger was completed in 1927 & Cong Emanu-El B'ne Jeshurun became the official name of the combined syns. The membership now stood at 600 families. The memorial windows of the temple were installed in 1931. In 1948 a full time cantor joined the staff. Fr 1947 to 1970 membership grew to 1,300 families. In 1972 the Cong sold land that it had purchased about 20 yrs earlier as a possible site for a new bldg. The proceeds of the sale were set aside for a Prog Servs Dev Trust. In 1974 the Cong broke ground for an edu bldg addition & a remodeling of the syn. Between 1970 & 1980 the membership grew to 1,550 families. In 1981 the Cong held its 125th anniversary celebration. Over 1,000 families. The forerunner of Shaarei Shomayim was an informal minyan held for 10 yrs in a private home. In 1928 the minyan, now called B'nai Jacob, was formally organized. In 1931, because of a conflict among the mems, part of the Cong withdrew & rented facilities in a house owned by the Brunswick Talmud Torah. The Cong, at first named the Hillcrest & later given its present name, remained at the Talmud Torah site until 1936 when it purchased land & began the construction of the syn. High Holiday Servs were held in the basement shell in 1936. On May 2, 1948 the cornerstone of the syn & Talmud Torah was unveiled. The sanctuary was ready for use by the High Holidays of 1948. The formal dedication took place on the weekend of Nov 25–27, 1949. As the J com moved northward, land was purchased farther N. Construction of the new syn, at its present site, began in Sept of 1964 & was completed in Sept of 1966. Servs continued at the old site until 1970 when the bldg was sold. F in 1962 with the org of an afternoon Heb sch in a private home. Later, a four rm cottage was purchased. By 1967 the syn became too small for the 100 families, the sch, & the youth & adult activities held there. In 1967 land was bought for a new larger syn. In 1968 High Holiday Servs were conducted in the new bldg. In the fall of 1970 the Heb Foun Sch became a full day sch. By 1973 the existing sch facilities became overcrowded & a new sch bldg was added. In 1975 a second story was added to the sch. Ten yrs later, the Cong est Montreal's first Heb afternoon sch. As the Cong grew, the need to erect a permanent syn became apparent. On Jul 12, 1859 the cornerstone of the first Ashkenazic house of worship in Canada was laid. The bldg seated 150 men & 50 women. As the Cong again increased in num & the J com moved westward, newer premises were needed. On Oct 25, 1885 the cornerstone at the McGill Col Ave Syn was laid. The name Shaar Hashomayim was applied to the new syn. Again the Cong needed more spacious facilities, a new syn was built, & on Nov 10, 1921 the bldg was dedicated. There was rm for 1,500 people, a dozen sch rms for the Heb classes, a lecture hall seating 600, & a dome-capped salon for the Ladies Auxiliary. In 1967 Shaar Hashomayim was expanded to hold 2,000 in the sanctuary, a kitchen was built to serve up to 1,000, a library & mus were added, & a rose garden was planted. It is the largest syn in Montreal. It is one of the few Conservative congs to have separate seating. Rabbi Wilfred Shuchat; Asst Rabbi Robert D.
