Introduction

This book is based on the records of the Benjamin and Vladka Meed Registry of Jewish Holocaust Survivors. The Registry is a computer database that lists more than 170,000 names of Holocaust survivors and some members of their families.

The American Gathering of Jewish Holocaust Survivors first established a national registry in 1981 to document the lives of survivors who came to the United States after World War II. That registry was created to help Holocaust survivors search for relatives and friends. In April 1993, it was transferred to the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington, D.C. The Benjamin and Vladka Meed Registry of Jewish Holocaust Survivors—the only registry of its kind in the United States—is located on the second floor of the Museum in the Wexner Learning Center, where visitors can use touch-screen monitors to access the database. The Registry is open to the public seven days a week from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Visitors can obtain basic information about survivors' prewar and wartime histories including photographs supplied by the registrants. Information in the database is cross-indexed to allow for searches by maiden name, wartime alias, etc., where these have been provided. It also is possible to search by place of birth, prewar residence, or location during the war. The Registry serves as an important resource for researchers, scholars, survivors, and their families. Many survivors have been reunited as a result of contacts made through the Registry.

The Holocaust was the systematic murder of European Jews; therefore the names listed in the Registry are predominantly those of Jewish survivors. However, non-Jews who were displaced or persecuted by the racial, political, or ethnic policies of the Germans and their allies, and who survived until the end of the war in camps, ghettos, hiding, partisan units, or by other means, also are registered.

The Registry includes the names of Holocaust survivors who are now deceased, but does not indicate that they have passed away. This information, as well as the addresses of the living survivors, remains in the files of the Registry and is kept confidential. To ensure the privacy of those registered, no addresses are published or released to any third party without express permission.

While the Registry database often includes the names of survivors' children and grandchildren, this published version only includes information about the survivors based on their individual files. The Registry encourages survivors or their family members to check their listings for errors and submit any changes or additions.

This publication consists of four volumes.

Volumes I and II:

Alphabetical Listing of Survivors

In these volumes, survivors are cross-listed under all names provided, including those used before and during the war. The main entry, however, appears next to the survivor's current name. Names in parentheses indicate a name previously used by a survivor (e.g. prewar name, maiden name, or alias). The number that follows each entry refers to the file maintained by the Registry at the Museum. If provided, prewar and wartime locations appear next, and if both are listed, they are separated by a semicolon. Countries and regions appear only if more specific information on localities was not submitted.

Volume III:

Place of Birth and Town Before the War

Volume III lists survivors by birthplace and residence before World War II. Towns are listed alphabetically regardless of country. Where the place of birth and town of residence before the war differ, the survivor is listed under both localities.

Volume IV:

Location During the Holocaust

This volume lists survivors by their location during the war. Survivors who were in more than one place (ghettos, concentration camps, places of refuge, etc.) are listed under all locations supplied on their registration forms.

In order to maintain continuity and consistency between Volumes III and IV, town names as they were known before the Holocaust are generally used. The names of countries and regions do not appear in the alphabetical listings of place names except in the case of survivors who did not provide more specific localities.

A Note about Names Listed in the Publication

The names and historical information in this publication were submitted by Holocaust survivors, their family members, and others. The United States Holocaust Memorial Museum cannot, therefore, verify all information submitted. The testimonial nature of the Registry reflects the wide variety of Holocaust survivors' experiences. Thus it includes not only the names of former inmates of concentration camps or ghettos, but also those who escaped death in hiding, assumed false identities, or Jews from the former Soviet Union who fled to the Soviet interior to escape the German occupation.

A Note about Place Names Listed in the Publication

The testimonial nature of the Registry has necessitated extensive review and editing of the names of towns and other localities, which were in many cases submitted with phonetic spellings. Despite our best efforts, many location names have not been verified and consequently are included as they were provided on the registration form. Readers are encouraged to propose corrections (see Registry address below) as the Registry is a work in progress.

A Note to Holocaust Survivors and Members of Their Families

This book is based on tens of thousands of registration forms entered into the database through March 1, 2000. In an effort of this scope, errors, duplications, and omissions are inevitable. Survivors or members of their families who wish to expand or amend their own listings, are encouraged to contact the Registry at the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, 100 Raoul Wallenberg Place, SW, Washington, D.C. 20024-2126, or by e-mail at Registry@ushmm.org. Survivors who are not yet listed are encouraged to write to either the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum or the American Gathering of Jewish Holocaust Survivors (122 West 30th Street, Suite 205, New York, NY 10001) for a registration form.

This publication will be distributed at no charge to public libraries and Holocaust-related institutions upon request while supplies last. Please send requests, on institutional letterhead, to the Registry at the above address.

We thank the Conference on Jewish Material Claims Against Germany, Inc., for their cooperation and financial assistance.

We also wish to express our appreciation to the following for their help in preparing this publication: Nonie Akman, Ina Altman, Hilda Baez, Mae Bullock, Warren Faierstein, Karen Friedman, Irina Furman, Luis Gonzalez, Carol Jones, Norman Kaufman, Peter Lande, Daniel Lednicer, Max K. About the Benjamin and Vladka Meed Registry of Jewish Holocaust Survivors

Throughout the fifty years that have passed since the end of World War II, survivors have continued to search for relatives and friends lost during the Holocaust. The Benjamin and Vladka Meed Registry of Jewish Holocaust Survivors has been a valuable tool in assisting them in that endeavor.

The idea of establishing a registry was conceived at the first international gathering of survivors in Jerusalem in 1981. Two years later, at the first meeting of the American Gathering of Jewish Holocaust Survivors in Washington, D.C., a list of names of 50,000 survivors and their immediate relatives was created. Thereafter, the Registry quickly developed into a large-scale attempt to list all survivors living in the United States.

The Registry was developed by Benjamin and Vladka Meed, former members of the Jewish underground in the Warsaw ghetto. They have devoted their lives to preserving the memory of this unique tragedy through documentation, commemoration, and education.

During the war, Vladka and Benjamin Meed lived under cover on the Polish side of Warsaw working for the ghetto resistance movement. Vladka was instrumental in smuggling firearms into the ghetto in preparation for the Jewish uprising in 1943. She also organized shelters for Jews who had escaped from Warsaw and other ghettos. Benjamin was in charge of constructing hiding places, called "bunkers," where Jews fleeing the Nazis could hide.

The leadership of Vladka and Benjamin Meed in the cause of remembrance over the last half-century is well known and appreciated by Holocaust survivors and the community at large. It is through their efforts that the Registry of Jewish Holocaust Survivors has become an important documentary resource for the present generation as well as for generations to come.
