DEDICATED to the men and women composing the various organizations that helped to build up an ideal Jewish Community in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Good Teeth--Good Health

WHEN you were a child, your parents did all they possibly could for your welfare. In those days Dentistry was not so well known, but most folks today realize the intimate relation of good teeth to good health, and in spite of this knowledge many continue to neglect not only their own teeth but those of their children.

¶ Surely you do not wish your children to grow up as you did suffering with toothache; now is the time to save those precious pearls, and at a small expense. Your Dad had an excuse, you haven't any.

¶ You young folks, you older ones too, can improve your health and appearance if you will devote a little more time to your teeth, ask your physician.

¶ We do not practice Dentistry, but for fifty-four years have preached the gospel of it and supplied the dentist with his many necessary appliances, which today compare favorably with the most scientific developments.

The Preface

With the conclusion of the disastrous World War marked a new epoch in social life everywhere. Thousands of war-weary soldiers, eager to forget scenes of bloodshed and carnage, donned civilian clothes and entered into the community life with a vim and vigor unprecedented.

It is an unmistakable characteristic of the American Jew to contribute his time, service and support toward any worthy endeavor, perhaps more so that any other people. He believes in social activity. He finds comfort in assisting the needy. He bends every effort toward giving the children all the necessary education. He loves his religion. He has faith in his brethren. The spirit of brotherly love, all in all, is evident in every form and phase of endeavor.

Increasing outbursts of anti-Semitism the world over; desire to unify and fortify the Jewish people against the insidious propaganda of Jew-baiters; the approach of the realization of the Zionists' age-old dream; immediate need of help by their starving, persecuted co-religionists in Eastern Europe and elsewhere, and ideals of ancient Hebraism—these, in substance, are some of the potent reasons why the Jewish people have banded together into every imaginable form, striving and toiling daily to carry out the things they hold dear.

Then it is these three factors—the War, inherited tendencies and present-day conditions whose combined strength have created the unity of things, the many organizations that keep the Pittsburgh Jewish Community in a dizzy whirl of doing, thinking and appealing.

With this knowledge in mind came the need of a Jewish Community Book for Pittsburgh. At least half of the fifty-five thousand Jews in Pittsburgh are actively interested in one or more organizations. The necessity and convenience of such a directory finally reached the point where it was beyond question.

Social, educational, religious and charitable endeavor is at its greatest heights today. The work of community uplift and the advancement of the Faith has the whole-hearted attention of thousands. Several new rabbis have come into the Pittsburgh field. Others have joined in the work. The building of synagogues is more than a dream. Their foundations are already being laid. This, in itself, is worthy of special mention.

Anyone may at a glance ascertain by reading this volume the full importance of the welfare work in Pittsburgh. It is intended to show not merely the object of each organization, but its officers, trustees and membership as well.

What are the various synagogues in Pittsburgh? Who are the rabbis and leaders? What nationalities do they represent, and when were they organized?

How about the clubs and different charities, the fraternal and other organizations? All these interesting facts are contained in this book.

Such a directory, it is self-evident, can be utilized in many ways. We have tried to insure its authenticity in every respect. Names and addresses were taken from the books of the various organizations. Therefore, confident of its value and trusting that it will be of service in the advancement of the Cause, we offer this volume—the Pittsburgh Jewish Community Book—to Pittsburgh Jewry.

History of the Pittsburgh Jewish Community

There are no reliable records of the beginning of the Jewish Community of Pittsburgh; but it has been ascertained that between 1838 and 1844 a small number of Jews, mostly from Baden, Bavaria and Wurttenburg, Germany, settled in and around the city. These were joined by others in 1847, and by still others in 1852, who included in their numbers the real founders of the Jewish communal life in Pittsburgh. The first Jewish service was held in the autumn of 1844, while the first attempt at organization was made in 1847, when a mere handful of men combined with the hope of forming a congregation. The inception, then, of public divine service among the israelites of Pittsburgh and vicinity commenced in the year 1847. Prior to that time there were not sufficient members to organize a service.

In the year 1847, the following well-known persons held the first religious services. Eph Wormser David Strassburger, William Frank, Nathan Gallinger, Jacob Klein, Emil Klain, Moritz Kraus, Eiseman Kahn, Reis Bros. Stein Bros., Louis Morganstern, Henry Silverman, Alex Fink, etc. They engaged the Rev. Manheimer as chasan, (Cantor) and their first meeting place was in a room on Penn street, near what is now Thirteenth street. The Israelites in those days were few in this part of the country and coming here strangers without any means, it required time and perseverance to establish a permanent place of worship and those who did come and locate here at that time came to promulgate their religion for themselves and their posterity, because most of them had been living in small villages isolated and no opportunity of worshipping their God, according to their own dictates. This was the principal reason for their gathering in a large city.

About 1847 they removed their place of worship to Liberty street, where the Jenkinson cigar factory now stands and changed their chasan by electing the Rev. Sulzbacher, who officiated until 1853. There were a few members added during the time: Isaac and Charles Bierman, Joseph Meyers, C. D. Arnsthal, L. Hirschfield, Louis Fleishman, Jacob Silverman, Joseph Morganstern, Michael Streng, Mr. Sheyer, Mr. Alexander, Ben Oppenheimer and a few others whose names are not accessible. After the year 1853 the place of worship was transferred to the hall over old Vigilan Engine House on Third avenue. The Rev. Mr. Marcuson was engaged in place of the Rev. Mr. Sulzbacher. He officiated two years. Up to this time the congregation underwent many changes as doctrines of dogma and reform created more or less strife and other congregations were formed.

The organization was not known then as "Rodeph Shalom." It came later. It was organized about the year 1854, a majority of the members of the first organization constituting the mainstay of this later body including Fraunefeld Bros., A. Gluckenheimer, Samuel, Emanuel and Isaac Wertheimer, Louis Myer, Alex Greenwald, M. Hanauer, Simon Zugsmith, M. Rosenthal, Klee Bros., Jes. Jacob and Simon Kaufman, I. Kann. H. Rosenbaum, Henry and Moses Oppenheimer, G. Kann, J. Rothschild. Simon Marks, S. Trauerman, S. Prager, Moses Good, L. Berkowitz, Jaroslawski Bros., Z. Eisner, G. Grafner, Jacob Rosenthal, Max Arnold. Chas. Zeugschmidt, H Rosenbach and some others became members of the new congregation. Max Arnold was elected the first President and assisted the Chasan during the holiday services. The Rev. Wm. Armhold was chosen Chasan and German Teacher, and the place of worship was again removed to a hall on Third Avenue, opposite the old Vigilant Engine house where they worshipped about two years; from there they went to (St. Clair) now Federal street, in the hall of the Irish building. In 1866 Josiah Cohen was elected English teacher by the congregation, he remaining with them in this capacity until his admission to the bar.

In 1860 efforts were first started to build the Temple on (Hancock) now Eighth Street. After hard struggles the small band of reformers striving for improved and modern ritual succeeded, and have been worshipping in their own Temple since 1865. Rev. L. Naumberg was elected after Rev. Wm. Armhold resigned. and he officiated in the Temple until Rabbi, Rev Dr. L. Mayer was called in 1871.

In 1879 Congregation Rodeph Shalom purchased the West View Cemetery. In 1884 the synagogue was enlarged, but it was subsequently torn down, and the building, under erection during 1900 and 1901, was dedicated on September 6 and 7 of the latter year. Among the early readers and teachers of Rodeph Shalom were Sulzbacher and Marcuson. In 1854 William Armhold took charge of the congregation, remaining until 1865, when he went to Philadelphia. During his administration the congregation erected the Temple on Eighth Street; and in conjunction with Josiah Cohen, he conducted a school which was maintained from 1860 to 1868. From 1865 to 1870 L. Naumberg was teacher and reader, and in his day the Reform movement was considerably advanced. The first rabbi of the congregation was Lippman Mayer, who came from Selma, Ala., in the spring of 1870. He successfully guided the congregation along advanced Reform lines until his retirement as rabbi emeritus in 1901. By that time he had seen his congregation grow from a membership of 65 to 150. He was succeeded (April 1, 1901) by J. Leonard Levy, who was called from Reform Congregation Keneseth Israel, Philadelphia. In the later years Rodeph Shalom has grown considerably, and it is worthy of record that on the day after the dedication of the new temple (September 8, 1901), the congregation contributed a sum of money which not only liquidated a debt of nearly $100 000, but left a subplus of over $30 000.

Rodeph Shalom ,which during the past sixteen years had been presided over by Abraham Lippman since 1901, issued for the use of its members and others: "A Book of Prayer" for the Sunday services; "A Textbook of Religion and Ethics for Jewish Children;" "A Home Service for the Passover;" "A Home Service for Hanukkah;" "The Children's Service;" "Sabbath Readings" for each Sabbath of the year; and three volumes of Sunday lectures. The congregation distributes these Sunday lectures weekly in pamphlet form to all who attend the services and also furnishes gratuitiously a special edition to non-Jewish residents of Allegheny county.

The Ez Hajjim congregation worshipped for a time in a hall in the Dennis block on Second Avenue and Ross Street. It has prospered, and is an active force in Jewish congregational and communal life. Among its ministers may be mentioned: A. Crone (1874-81); A. Bernstein (1881-91); F. Salinger (1891-97); Michael Fried (Since 1898), the present (1905) incumbent, a graduate of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. Ez Hajjim belongs to the school of progressive conservatism, and now has family pews and confers the rite of confirmation. It has inaugurated Friday evening services and has a Ladies Auxiliary Society, a flourishing religious school and a growing alumni association.

Pittsburgh is notable in American Jewish history on account of the conference here in 1885, and is also well known as a general support of all national Jewish movements, notably the Hebrew Union College and the Denver hospital. Pittsburgh's local Jewish philanthropies are many, and a brief history of each is contained herein. There the more than twenty-five Orthodox congregations in Pittsburgh proper. At least twelve have up-to-date synagogues. Three are planning to build. It is thought more than one million and a half dollars will be spent by Pittsburgh Jews for synagogues by next year.

The Y. M. H. A. and the Y. W. H. A. Campaign for $500,000 was a success, and building plans are nearing completion.

The Concordia Club fosters Jewish social life in Pittsburgh. The Council of Jewish Women is the largest womens organization in Pittsburgh. The consolidation of the three lodges of the B'nai Brith indicates a greater stimulation of activity on the part of that famous order. There are two weekly papers, one in English, "The Jewish Criterion" of which David Alter is proprietor, and Charles H. Joseph, editor, and one in Judaeo-German, "The Volksfreund," published by J. S. Glick.

Since 1882 there has been a steady increase in the number of Jews in Pittsburgh, due to the coming of thousands of Jews from Eastern Europe. Russian, Roumanian and Hungarian Jws have come in large numbers, and are displaying an appreciable interest in public affairs. There are scores of organizations in addition to the synagogues. Leading rabbis are Rabbi Aaron M. Ashinsky, who came here in 1901; Rabbi M. S. Sivitz, Rabbi W. A. Kochian, Rabbi B. A. Lichter, Rabbi Sol B. Friedman, Rabbi A. H. Kahn. Rabbi Samuel Zahler left for Palestine in 1920, after a successful career here.

Pittsburgh Jews strongly sympathize with the Zionist Movement, having a large number of Zionist Societies.

Rodeph Shalom Congregation

RODEPH SHALOM TEMPLE

The History of the Jewish Community at the beginning of this volume, gives a detailed story of the Rodeph Shalom Temple up to the year 1907

In 1907, the congregation completed its new Temple building in Fifth Avenue, near Morewood Avenue, one of the most pretentious synagogues in the country. The first services held in the Temple were in the Autumn of 1907. The Congregation grew rapidly under the guidance of the late Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy, who died "in the harness" in April, 1917. The membership now exceeds the thousand mark. The Rev. Dr. Samuel H. Goldenson succeeded Rabbi Levy, entering the pulpit for the first time August 1, 1918.

At the present time the following organizations are part of the Congregation:

The Sisterhood
Men's Society
Students' Body
The Alumni
Falk Memorial Committee
Junior Federation
Committee of Temple Organizations

The seventieth anniversary of the Congregation was celebrated a number of years ago, at which time the present building was dedicated.

The Motor Car Achievement

THE advent of the Ace marked the first practical and proven elimination of the unmechanical from the gasoline engine. The epoch-making "Guy Disk-Valve Motor" found only in the Ace eliminates every objectionable feature of the poppet-valve motor and embodies the virtues of the slide-valve type with improvements which far overshadow it, Examine this motor car achievement. Ride in it. Study its every detail. As its name implies, it is the highest development of modern motor vehicle.

Approaching The Ideal

IN the Skelton we present what we believe to be a nearer approach to the ideal in a car of moderate size and price than has ever before been attained. Skelton design is the result of close analysis of the public taste and is not an arbitrary creation of draftsmen and engineers. Skelton cars, both in mechanical structure and appearance, really reflect those qualities which the public has sought, but until now, failed to find in satisfactory measure.

Tree of Life Congregation

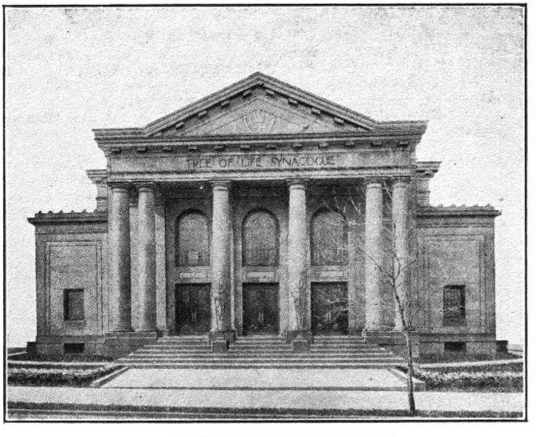

CRAFT AVENUE

The organization of the Tree of Life Congregation came about in June, 1864, and with the election of Alexander Fink as President, September 28, 1872, began a new epoch in its progress. In 1881, the congregation was left without a place of worship. In 1882, a committee was authorized to buy a Lutheran church at Fourth Avenue and Ross Streets. Rabbi Michael Fried succeeded the Rev. Crone as minister of the congregation. Rapidly expanding membership necessitated larger quarters at that time, and in 1905, the building was sold, and the property on Craft Avenue, the site of the present synagogue, was purchased for $16,000.

Congregation Beth Hammedrosh Hagodol

WASHINGTON PLACE

In a private house on Liberty Avenue in 1869 began what is now known as the Beth Hammedrosh Hagodol Congregation, the oldest Orthodox organization in Pittsburgh. It is known as the "Mother of Pittsburgh Orthodoxy." The membership was fourteen at its beginning, and in the following year it had increased to forty. The Gusky auditorium at Third Avenue and Market Street was used by the congregation, then known as the B'nai Israel. In 1876, with a membership of eighty, the congregation purchased a building in Grant Street and remodeled it for a synagogue. The present structure located on Washington Place, near Fifth Avenue, was erected in 1892, when the name of the congregation was changed. The spiritual guide of the congregation is the well known Rabbi Aaron M. Ashinsky who was called from Montreal in the year of 1901. The Rev. Abraham Kantor is cantor of the congregation.

B'nai Israel Congregation

NORTH HIGHLAND AVENUE AND RIPPEY STREET

The increasing population in the East Liberty section soon necessitated the organization of an East End congregation for the Orthodox followers, and hence came about the incorporation of the B'nai Israel Congregation. For years services were held in a building on Penn Avenue. Finding these quarters inadequate the congregation soon moved to the Masonic Temple, Collins Avenue. These quarters were used until the property at Highland Avenue and Rippey Street was purchased. Rabbi S. M. Neches presided over the congregation until the coming of Rabbi Benjamin A. Lichter, native Pittsburgher, from Far Rockaway, N. Y. In 1912, the Ladies' Auxiliary was founded. The coming of Rabbi Lichter has brought about a decided change in the prospects of the B'nai Israel. He has injected new enthusiasm into the members. The Latovah Society, an organization of Young People started by Rabbi Lichter, is making a name for itself in Pittsburgh.

Rabbi Benj. A. Lichter

Adath Jeshuran Congregation

MARGARETTA AND ST. CLAIR STREETS

The history of the Adath Jeshuran Congregation of the East End began three years ago when it was organized by a group of prominent East Enders who believed the establishment of another congregation in that section was necessary to suffice the ever-growing population.

The congregation worshipped in the Cameraphone Building for four months, when the property at Margaretta and St. Clair Streets was purchased. It has since served as a house of worship and meeting place for residents of the North Negley district. The membership has grown considerably, and plans are being laid for the erection of a synagogue. A large sum has already been gathered for the purpose.

The Sisterhood and Young Peoples' Society play an important part in its progress. Rabbi Aaron M. Ashinsky has been called to work with the officers and he has accepted.

Beth Shalom Congregation

Forbes Street and Murray Avenue

The Beth Shalom Congregation of Squirrel Hill a promising organization, came into being early in 1918, when the Jewish population in that section was negligible. Its membership increased rapidly as more Jews settled in the Squirrel Hill district, and at the present time it exceeds 150, with indications that it will be doubled within four months.

Rabbi A. H. Kahn was called to the congregation in November, 1920, and he has the situation well in hand. His work has already assumed concrete appearance. At the last membership meeting, the recommendation of the Board of Trustees to purchase the site at Shady Avenue and Beacon Street was adopted. A synagogue and community house will be constructed.

Beth Jacob Congregation

Townsend and Epiphany Streets

The organization of the Beth Jacob Congregation took place in 1882, practically simultaneously with the organization of the Beth Hammedrosh Hagodol Congregation, then known as the B'nai Israel. Twenty-three pioneers formed the Beth Jacob, securing a room on the fourth floor of the building on the corner of Elm Street and Wylie Avenue. The first officers were Philip Cohen, President; Lazarus Levy, Vice President; D. H. Bloom, Treasurer, and D. Goldman, Secretary; and three Trustees, J. Martin, L. Marks and M. Lazdersky. On October 6, 1883, a charter was applied for and was granted by Judge Edwin Stowe a year later.

In 1884, larger quarters were obtained at No. 512 Wylie Avenue. In 1891, the congregation began to seek still larger space. A lot and building at 73 Logan Street was purchased and the structure remodeled. The membership at that time was fifty-five. In 1901, the rapid increase in membership brought about the purchase of the old Sixth Presbyterian Church at Townsend and Epiphany Streets which is still used. The present membership is over three hundred. At that time Rabbi A. M. Ashinsky was called to guide the congregation and he accepted. He has since contributed his valuable services and the prosperity of the congregation is credited in part to his interest and work.

The congregation is conducted on a modern Orthodox basis, and is a community center in many respects. The Lechem Aneum Society (Bread for Poor) was recently organized and sixty or more baskets are distributed in the community Friday nights. N. Goldstock, Israel Nervis and Charles Abrams are in charge of this work. A number of organizations meet in the Synagogue free of charge.

Gates of Wisdom Congregation

TOWSEND STREET

RABBI M. S. SIVITZ, Minister

One of the most attractive synagogues in Pittsburgh is the Gates of Wisdom or Shara Torah in Townsend Street. It has had a long and honorable career in this city, and is still destined to play an important part in the religious life of the Hill Section.

Rabbi M. S. Sivitz was called here from Baltimore to take charge of the congregation in 1890, and the congregation grew rapidly. A Methodist church was used as temporary quarters, and thirteen years ago the building was torn down to make way for the present edifice, the home of the Shara Torah Congregation.

Dr. Sivitz has been active in local charitable endeavor, and has been instrumental in the founding of the Talmud Torah, the Montefiore Hospital, Bichur Cholim and others. He is an author of some note.

Poale Zedeck Congregation

CRAWFORD STREET

The Poale Zedeck Congregation was brought into existence under the name of Austro-Hungarian Congregation Poale Zedeck November 6 1881. At its origination the membership was close to forty, and with the renting of a hall in Grant Street the membership increased. A house on Federal Street was remodeled and used by the congregation for some time. In 1901, the present synagogue building, 129-131-133 Crawford Street was purchased. The interior of the synagogue is now being beautifully decorated.

Mr. Adolph Greenberger has served as principal of the Hebrew School for eighteen years. The Sisterhood was organized in 1911. Mrs. Mendoza is president. A Ohedra-Kadisha branch now consists of 150 members. Mr. Jacob Weinberger is (Gabai) or chairman.

Rabbi Sol Zebalel Friedman, a graduate of the Rabbi Isaac Elchanan Theological Seminary, Baldwin Wallace and Columbia Universities was called to assume the spiritual leadership of the Poale Zedeck Congregation early in 1920. He has already impressed the community with his organization ability and eloquence.

Machsike Hadas Congregation

WYLIE AVENUE AND GRANVILLE STREET

This congregation was organized twenty-four years ago, with only a handful of members of whom the following were the most active: Samuel Hausman, Joseph Reichman and Jacob Fassberg.

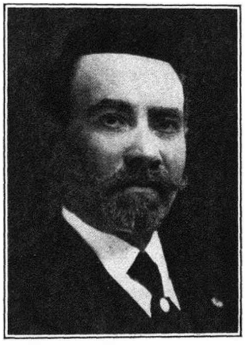

Ten years ago the young element started a movement for a new synagogue, and with the election of a new administration which consisted of Louis E. Engelberg. President; E. Mallinger, Vice President; David Kellesman, Treasurer, and B. Fassberg, Secretary, the unanimous assistance of the entire membership was obtained. After a period of struggling and severe economy, the present structure at Wylie Avenue and Granville Street was erected Rabbi Samuel Zahler who was spiritual head of the congregation for seven years, left for the Holy Land about a year ago.

Congregation Beth Israel

EAST STREET, NORTH SIDE

The Beth Israel Congregation was organized in 1907 by a handful of Orthodox Jews who settled on the East North Side. The premises at East and Foreland Streets was purchased, and the building was remodeled into a modern synagogue. The late Herman Jacobs was its first president. The membership today includes nearly every Jewish family on the East North Side with a well attended daily and Sunday religious school under the direction of the Rev. H. Tolochko, 1311 Boyle Street, who is rabbi of the congregation since its organization.

Congregation Beth Jehuda

OF MANCHESTER, N. S.

The Jewish congregation of Manchester dates back some odd twenty-eight years ago from a few Jewish families who settled in this district. A minyun was started. Its originators were Jehuda Solomon. Casper Klein, Benjamin Patz, Samuel Saul, Bear Reinwasser, David Hirsh and Hyman Helfaut. The increasing Jewish population necessitated the purchase of a house of worship in 1913. The congregation was named Beth Jehuda in memory of Mr. Jehuda Solomon, one of its founders. In June, 1915, the congregation purchased the property at Nixon and Atmore Streets, and the building was remodeled.

Bnai Zion Congregation
of Homewood

Plans are in the making for the construction of a synagogue in Homewood, and members of the B'nai Zion Congregation are displaying an indisputable interest in the work. A membership campaign has resulted favorably, and the member now totals close to seventy-five, with indications of another large increase. The congregation at presents meets in the office of the Belmar Moving Company, 519 Homewood Avenue. The enrollment of the Hebrew School continues to grow. A Building Committee is at work.

Hebrew Institute of Pittsburgh

WYLIE AVENUE AND GREEN STREET

One of the most successful institutions of its kind anywhere is the Hebrew Institute of Pittsburgh. The school, the purpose of which is the teaching of Hebrew and Judaism in its traditional form, was organized and incorporated under the laws of Pennsylvania, December 29, 1913. It was dedicated November 1, 1916.

The founder was Rabbi Aaron M. Ashinsky, a leader in Orthodoxy and through the generosity of the late Louis I. Aaron, the building of the Institution was made possible. His large contribution was given in memory of his wife, Mina Aaron.

The building then constructed at a cost of $105,000, now is estimated to be worth $250,000. Its annual contributors, including members of the Ladies' Auxiliary, numbers 1800. The building covers an entire city block. Its features include a library, playroom, chapel and playground, one of the popular spots of the Hill District.

Prof. Israel A. Abrams, who has served as principal of the Institution since its inception, writes:

"The Hebrew Institute is the real center of Jewish educational activities. Within its walls the children receive their Hebrew training—the parents as well attend the lectures, make use of the library and gather to discuss Jewish problems—all these activities give a Jewish atmosphere to the Institute."

In the past three years the Institution has attracted the support of the leadgrs of the Pittsburgh Jewish Community. A number of the younger men are taking an active interest. The board of directors includes the most prominent Jewish men in Pittsburgh.

AGUDATH KEHILLATH

(UNION OF ORTHODOX CONGREGATIONS)

At a meeting of all Orthodox congregations of Greater Pittsburgh represented by their presidents and six members, held at the Poale Zedeck Synagogue, December 27, 1920, was organized the Agudath Kehillath. Nearly thirty congregations have affiliated with the Union. The purpose of the organization is to promote, strengthen and solidify all the forces of Traditional Judaism in Pittsburgh and vicinity. It is indicated that the move, unprecedented in Pittsburgh religious history, marks the beginning of a new era in Orthodoxy here, and will help greatly in the advancement and perpetuation of the Faith.

The Federation of the Jewish Philanthopies

The Federation of the Jewish Philanthropies of Pittsburgh was effected early in the year 1912 with objects as follows:

"To collect, apportion and distribute its receipts among Jewish charities and philanthropic organizations, and as the Board of Trustees may direct, the Beneficiaries to be such charitable or philanthropic organizations as, upon application, the Board of Trustees may elect; it being the intention to include all the Jewish charitable and philanthropic organizations in the City of Pittsburgh, and such others outside of said city as have heretofore received regular assistance from the general membership of The Federation; provided, such organizations make application, to and are accepted by, the Board of Trustees as proper Beneficiaries entitled to receve a portion of the funds collected. To remove the evil of indiscriminate and unauthorized forms of solicitaton, together with ticket-selling, bazaars, benefits, fairs and the annoyances incident to frequent and constant appeals; to insure an ever-increasing sum of money to be devoted to the furtherance of the work, and an amount commensurate with the dignity and liberal spirit of this community; to assure a fair and equitable distribution of the funds collected, to the end that the greatest number may benefit in the largest possible measure; to grve a full and detailed accounting of the distribution of the funds that shall be collected, and to enable the Beneficiaries and those in control thereof, to give their work, by removing from them the necessity of raising funds; to provide an organization to represent the community in its various spheres of philanthropic endeavor."

Aaron Cohen, Pres.

Dr. Ludwig B. Bernstein accepted the office of executive director of the Federation some months ago, and the work of the organization seems destined to spread and affect every form of social, educational and charitable endeavor here.

Chapel for Services

SINCE the year 1860 we have been engaged exclusively in the Undertaking business in Pittsburgh. And all through this period we have consistently maintained a standard of service that has made the name "Willison" synonymous with efficiency and dignity.

The representative Jewish families as early as 1860 employed "Willison" and today their children and children's children find it to their advantage to employ "Willison"

Determining Intluences

THE Qualities you want in the chassis of your motor car are found predominant in the chassis of the Stephens Salient Six. Power; Reliability and Safety; Convenience and Economy. The combination of these points, with the Stephens' phenomenal overhead valve engine, and the Beauty and distinctive fashion of Stephens bodies, makes the Stephens a truly Salient Car.

ADMIRATION may be quickly won, but Confidence requires years of building. Differing Salient features influence purchasers, but the main influence must be the utmost Confidence in the Ability and Reliability of the Builders. People have learned to put their trust in the Stephens Salient Six and the Institution building it.

United Hebrew Relief Association

WASHINGTON TRUST CO. BUILDING

The United Hebrew Relief Association is an amalgamation of the Hebrew Benevolent Association, and the Hebrew Ladies' Aid Society, the latter organization having been formed when the local Jewish community was very young. The Association dates back to 1864. In late years the need for a social worker was recognized and Mr. Charles I. Cooper was given this position. Offices were established in the Washington Trust Company Building.

Irvin F. Lehman, Vice-President

Mrs. Josiah Cohen, Vice-President

The Hebrew Ladies' Aid Society really dates back to the Civil War. In 1880, this group consolidated with the Hebrew Benevolent Society, forming jointly the United Hebrew Relief Association. Besides feeding the hungry and sheltering the homeless the United Hebrew Relief Association today is doing constructive social service work and is bringing into play many devices contrived for the rehabilitation of families. Mrs. Eva R. Weil is acting superintendent.

Montefiore Hospital Association

CENTER AVENUE

The movement for the erection of the Montefiore Hospital began in 1888. Agitation for a Jewish hospital for members of the Faith developed sufficiently strong to draw the support and interest of numerous wealthy Pittsburgh Jews, and the hospital, located at Center and Herron Avenues, was finally completed.

J. M. Gusky Hebrew Orphanage and Home

PERRYSVILLE AVENUE

Thirty years ago Mrs. Esther DeWolf Gusky founded the J. M. Gusky Hebrew Orphanage and Home of Western Pennsylvania, in memory of her husband, Jacob M. Gusky, Pittsburgh merchant. The Home building was erected at Perrysville and Riverview Avenues. Seven years after its organization, Mr. Aaron Cohen built a large annex in memory of his wife, Bertha Rauh Cohen. In 1911, Mr. Philip Hamburger opened the Fannie H. Hamburger Dormitory in memory of his wife. Children of Joseph and Lydia DeRoy recently presented to the home a vast stretch of land and two large buildings, adjoining the Orphanage. A seven-room bungalow was recently erected for the use of the superintendent. There are more than one hundred children in the home. One of the latest improvements is the Dental Clinic installed by Mrs. Enoch Rauh in memory of her husband, Enoch Rauh.

IRENE KAUFMANN SETTLEMENT

The real organization of the Irene Kaufmann Settlement was April 27, 1900, and then it was known as the Columbian Council School. The first resident director was Miss Julia Schoenfeld, who was followed by Miss Sadie Levy, Miss Yetta Baumgarten, Miss Addie Weihl, Albert Baron, Miss Elizabeth Neufeld and Samuel Leff. In 1914, Miss Schoenfeld again took charge, to be succeeded by Sidney A. Teller, the present Resident Director. In 1909, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kaufmann erected a new building for the settlement as a memorial to their daughter, Irene Kaufmann. It has grown with each succeeding year, and its activities have spread into numerous and diverse channels. Mr. Teller has brought the Irene Kaufmann Settlement before the public, and its beneficial work in the Hill District is prominently known.

Jewish Home For Aged

BRECKENRIDGE AVENUE

The Jewish Home for Aged was founded by Rabbi A. M. Ashinsky, and the corner stone for the Home was laid in 1906 under his guidance. The first meeting at which plans were laid for its construction was attended by Rabbi Ashinsky Henry Jackson, Simon D. Rosenfield T. I. Sablowdowsky, David S. Osgood J. Kornblum,

Henry Jackson, President

J. Kornblum, Vice-President

J. Silberg, Nathan Fineburg, Simon Fischer, Max Tapolsky, E. L. Miller and Jacob Shapero.

The comforts of the Home are open to aged and infirm Jews of Western Pennsylvania Eastern Ohio and West Virginia who required aid. The old Jones' homestead on Center Avenue was purchased ten years ago. The house has 16 spacious rooms, including a chapel, dining room, kitchen, reception room, library, superintendent's office and dormitories. The Rev. J. Alexander Neuman was the first resident superintendent, and he held the office until the arrival of Mr. Max Shapiro, of New York, who has assumed charge of the Home. The Home for Aged is now affiliated with the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies, eliminating its membership.

Young Men's Hebrew Association

3134 FORBES STREET

The Young Men's Hebrew Association of Pittsburgh was organized October, 1910. Its progress has been marked with various changes, on the whole steady and hopeful. The most important event in its history was the recent half million dollar campaign for a building, which was a complete success. Plans are now going ahead for the erection of a new home which will mean a new epoch in the life of the Y. M. H. A. of Pittsburgh. For the past year the Y. M. H. A. has been located in

Aaron Olbum. President

Forbes Street, near Coltart Square. The greater portion of its membership has stood by the "Y" and with the coming of the new building the prospects of a larger membership, including every young man in Pittsburgh, are bright. Nearly a score of literary, social and athletic clubs are associated with the parent organization, and meet at the temporary headquarters.

Labor Lyceum, Inc.

Miller Street

The Labor Lyceum was organized in 1907, and after ten years of effort they succeeded in raising the necessary funds to start erection of the building which they now occupy on Miller Street, ownership of which is vested in The Labor Lyceum, Inc., stock to which was subscribed by the people at large. The house-warming took place February 4, 1917. The organization now has a membership of 1250. The various activities housed in the building include a Dramatic club, choir, public library and a Yiddish school. It also housed the Workmen's Circle, Pittsburgh Branch with a membership of 1600 and fifteen sub branches. The Circle operates a Sanitary Consumptive Hospital at Liberty, New York. Its official organ is the Friend, a monthly. During the war and since, it has collected about $75,000 annually for Jewish War sufferers. During the winter season, Lecturers and speakers are sent out the National Headquarters to the various branches.

Montefiore Aid Society

The Montefiore Aid Society was organized by the late Mrs. Freda Davis Seegman in 1909. Its chief aim was originally to maintain and care for the Children's Ward of the Montefiore Hospital, and at the same time extend a helping hand to every cause of charitable basis. It is also an exponent of Zionism. The membership at present is one hundred and ninety, most of whom are in the business and professional field. The Society meets on the second Sunday in every month at the Hotel Chatham.

KOMO

The Milk You Will Like

What is more annoying than to find, when you are busy preparing a meal, that you are entirely out of milk?

What could be simpler than reaching to your kitchen shelf, taking down a package of KOMO—the scientifically skimmed milk—adding the water which has been removed, and having, in a moment's time, a fresh supply of good liquid milk?

If you have not tried KOMO there is a delightful surprise in store for you. Ask your neighbor what success she has in using KOMO for cooking, baking and drinking.

If your grocer or druggist does not sell KOMO please send us his name and address.

THE COFFEY CLUB
1815 Bluff Street

The Coffey Club was organized in 1910, as an athletic organization with an initial membership of nine young men. The club early earned a name for itself in athletic circles and as far back as 1913 the team won the Junior championship of Pittsburgh, which it held for several years. At present it has a club house of its own and a membership of forty. Its Tuesday night basketball games are attended weekly by crowds. Out-of-town it has earned a reputation for fair play that may well excite envy. During the past few years the club has also entered into social activities.
