Bridges
Accepting every person
Forever bound together
We all stand in unity.

Bridges
Jews around the world
Yerushalayim our homeland
Mashiach's time is almost here.

Bridges
Over crashing waves
The mighty hand of Hashem
Keeping us afloat.

כל העולם כולו

והעקר לא

Bridges
Over flowing water
Never stays the same
Only strengthens over time.

Bridges
Through the generations
Always getting longer
To encompass all it can.

Bridges
Connecting precious friendships
A tether to love and caring
Growing sweeter every day.

Message from Rabbi Abraham Kelman

It is a pleasure to extend congratulations to you, the graduates of 5756 and to your families. We have enjoyed your stay at the yeshiva; you have been a good class, innovative, hardworking and helpful in many ways. You will leave the school with a fine reputation and hopefully, with many pleasant memories. We will follow your progress with a great deal of interest and confidence which will not be hard to do, since almost all of you will be with us in the high school.

Your topic this year is a challenging one. What does "bridge" have to do with graduation? As usual, one finds an answer to many issues and problems by looking at the sedrah of the week. These words are being written the week of parshas Vayigash. The Torah tells us that Yaakov, before going to Mitzrayim, sent Yehudah ahead of the family; l'horos l'fonov. Our sages explain that Yehudah went ahead to establish a center for learning and study, a yeshiva, so that the children and grandchildren of Yaakov would not come to a place barren of Torah. In other words, Yehudah built a "bridge", a safer way for the children of Israel to enter the new land.

In a deeper sense, every generation and every individual should look upon himself as a bridge from the past to the future. How do we pass on the collective wisdom, the learning, the traditions preserved so lovingly over centuries? How do we make sure that it will remain the heritage of our people in years to come?

Sometimes we stand amazed to see our familiarity and feelings of closeness with the prophets of the past, with the chachmei hatalmud. Rabbi Akiva and the Rambam and others are not figures of a remote past, barely visible to us. On the contrary; we converse with them and about them, question and analyze their words as if they were sitting in our presence.

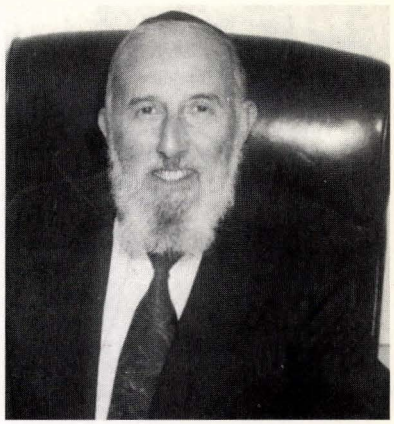

Very few nations, if any, have achieved such a relationship to forefathers and scholars of generations ago. How did this happen? It happened only because of bridges that each generation built, leading from the past to our children and eventually grandchildren. They are not bridges made of steel. One may call them "paper bridges", but they have proved to be more enduring, more solid, than the heaviest steel structures.

It says of Yaakov, as he returned to his father's land, that he crossed the river Yabok alone to bring back things left on the other side. Rashi comments that he made himself like a gesher, a bridge. He stood in the middle and moved these items from one side to the other, a symbol of what needs to be done in every generation. Like the bridge, we receive on one side and complete our task when it is safely carried to the next generation.

May you be blessed with hatzlacha, good health, long life and be a constant source of nachas to your families.

בס"ד

בנות יקרות, עמו"ש

בשם הנהלת ישיבתינו וחבר המורים, הנני מביע לכן מסימות יקרות, את ברכותינו הכי לבביות והכי חמות לרגלי חג הסיום שלכן. אמנם אין השם חג "הסיום" מתאים לחגיגה זו, כי הוא רק שלב הראשון בסולם, והוא רק החולי"ה הראשונה בשלשלת חייכן אך לא סיום.

על סולם הראשון למדנו מן התורה מחלום יעקב אבינו וז"ל "סולם מוצב ארצה — וראשו מגיע השמימה". אדם באמת משול לסולם שאף על פי שהוא מוצב ברגליו ארצה ומוכרח להתעסק בענינים ארציים, גשמיים, בכל זאת "ראשו מגיע השמימה", ובזמן שהוא עושה את עבודתו לשם שמים, הרי הוא מגיע עד לשמי שמים.

יעקב אבינו לקח "מאבני המקום וישם מראשותיו" — אבנים זה לשון רבים ומלמד שאפשר לחיות חיי תורה בכמה אופנים, כי לכל אדם יש אופי שונה, וכל אחד יכול למצא דרך החיים המתאימה לו ולטבעו. אדם רגיש יכול לעבוד את ה' כמו חסיד, אדם רציני ושקט יכול להיות מתנגד. כל הדרכים השונות מקובלות לה' אם "ראשו מגיע השמימה" אם תכלית הדרך היא מופנת לשמים ולה'.

תפקידכן בנות יקרות על ידי למוד התורה, עשיית המצוות, וגמילות חסדים לעלות על סולם הנ"ל. ובעזרת השי"ת תצליחו לעלות במעלות החכמה והיראה וללכת מחיל אל חיל.

We, the faculty, wish that you have "Hatzlocha" in all your endeavors. May your future bring you rich harvest of both spiritual and material wealth.

בברכת מזל טוב להוריכן היקרים.

Message from Mrs. Arlene Klestzick

Dear Graduates,

It is always a pleasure to extend congratulations to our graduating class, especially to you my dear graduates. It is an interesting theme that you have chosen for your yearbook ... "Bridges."

You have completed the first part of your educational career and are about to cross the bridge and embark upon the next level. You have also completed eight years of intensive learning, enjoyable times and challenging moments. We have tried to give you the foundations of Jewish values and midos, coupled with academic excellence. This should be a guide for you throughout your life.

As you cross over the "bridge" and leave us, we hope you will remember all the wonderful things that you did during your years here at Prospect Park Yeshiva.

Come back and share with us some of your joys and accomplishments.

Fondly,
MRS. ARLENE KLESTZICK
PRINCIPAL, SECULAR STUDIES

תלמידות יקרות ו

חכמינו ז"ל הורו לנו (ברכות ל'א) "אל יפטר אדם מחברו אלא מתוך דבר הלכה שמתוך כך יזכרהו"

לפי זה נראה שאסור להפרד זה מזה, אך אם לפעמים נאלצים להפרד, אז הפרידה מותרת רק מתוך "דבר הלכה". אפשר ללמד מכאן עד כמה גדולה מעלת האחדות שמתוך "דבר הלכה" יזכרו.

כדי שנשאר באחדות יש לזכור מה שלמדתן, שמעתן וראותן בישיבה בה חייתן יום יום במשך תקופה של שמונה שנים.

"מעשי אבות סימן לבנים", דוגמא אחת אופיינות היא התנהגותו של יוסף הצדיק, אע"פ שנפרד במשך תקופה כה ארוכה וחי בארץ מצרים הטמאה והאלילות, לא שכח יוסף הצדיק את ההלכה והתורה שלמד מפי אביו והיא זו שקישרה את הבן האבוד עם האב היקר.

יוסף הצדיק בכל הזדמנות הפגין בגאוה את אמונתו באלקים וכפי שרש"י מסביר על הפסוק "וירא אדניו כי

ה' אותו" ראה ששם שמים שגור על פיו.

כך גם אתן בנות יקרות, מטרה אחת ויחידה לפניכן להאיר את העולם בנר מצוה ותורה אור, עד כי נזכה לאחדות האמיתית לקבוץ גויות, לאור הגדול, אור הגאולה ולביאת משיח צדקנו בב"א ו

הצלחה וברכה באהבה רבה ו

Message From The Faculty

"Ode to our Dear 8th Graders"

The lake was on the other side,
The pedal boats, the sun
The children's zoo, the skating rink
A joyous day of fun.
Yet, she feared to go across the bridge
Her terror was acute
Inexplicable demons gripped her
She stood there irresolute.
The child's mom cajoled and begged
But she still refused to abide
So they lifted her up against her will
And carried her to the other side.

Don't fear the crossings that will come
Take each one in your stride
Tackle your demons, face them down
Report back to us with pride.
And if the going does get rough
With turbulent waters below,
Know that Hashem will lift you up
And comfort you as you grow.
Let the Torah be your guiding light
Have friendships bridge your way,
... With all our love and best wishes
On your graduation day!

Dear Seniors,

Can you believe it? The yearbook is finally in print! You can't give in your ads anymore, take retakes, or change your blurb if you don't get the jokes. We'll miss all those yearbook periods (a.k.a. free periods). But most of all, we'll miss our times together. Remember Rena Dora ... our six month "color war" ... Kol tzefardaya ... and Morah Kuessous's sub^2 'Forever one we'll always be the greatest class in history ... ' -you know the rest!

Love,
Racheli
Sara Chaya,
Sarah

P.S. Congratulations - you deserve it!

THE BRIDGE OF HOPE

A shot rang out
For a moment all was still
Then everyone sprang into motion
The innocents in the van were hit
While a car with successful terrorists drove away
Once again we witnessed the hatred in the world
We were reminded of our differences
That bridge of destruction was dedicated to the child
Who remains a reminder
To never forget generations of hurt
We dedicate this yearbook to Ari Halberstam
His name lives on to show us who we are
To show us the way across the bridge
The bridge between us, the different ones
To the hope on the other side
The hope that will guide us through out lives
A bridge of understanding
A bridge of renewal
Until Moshiach comes to set us free

PAST, PRESENT, FUTURE:

He stood before the old, flimsy bridge. Its rotting, decaying, wooden boards held his future. It was going to determine whether he was going to live or die. If the bridge stayed with him for this last journey across, he would live. If it would finally crack and splinter apart, he would be sent down hundreds of feet to his death.

As he took his first few, precise steps, his life flashed before his open, alert eyes. All the wonderful memories gave him extra strength and courage to finish his hike across the old bridge. He came close to the middle, and he put out his hands to steady himself for the other half of the journey. He had come too far to give it all up by falling; he had to get to the other side. He finally took his last steps. With his eyes filled with tears of joy, he carefully and slowly made his way off the bridge. Just as his left foot reached the dry mud, the same ancient bridge that he had just crossed over, came tumbling down to its end.

Shani Szmulewicz

Strong waves wash two shores
There is no contact between the cities.
One day a bridge spans the water,
Connecting land, connecting people.

Two girls stand quietly in a sea of people.
No contact made, each stands alone.
One day, a smile spans the silence,
Words follow, connecting friends.

Husband and wife, hurt and angry,
Stand apart, uneasy and upset.
An apology, a smile, a hug,
Connecting and strengthening ties.

A mother and son in two lands,
Separate but still bound by love.
One day, a letter bearing news,
Connecting through miles two hearts.

Bridges-tall, strong, frail and thin.
Smiles, hugs, words, kisses,
Wood, steel, rope — all sorts.
Whatever the size, the sort, or the place,
Bridges CONNECT.

The Man on the Mountain

The porch of his dark cabin
Is filled with grime from age
And the twists and sharp turns of the mountain
Hold him like the steel bars of a cage
Voices of yesteryear speak to him
Of old and ancient things
His life as a young man
The balls with ladies and kings
His dreams in the twilight
Make him moan into night
And his mountain becomes a fortress
Cutting off all hope of light
Here he sits in isolation
Cut off from the world below
As he sits by his cabin
Staring at mountains topped with snow

HUMAN OBSTACLES

She picks up the fruit, softly fingering its fuzzy skin. She brings it to her nose, smelling the sweet fragrance, and giggles as it tickles her. Slowly and carefully she makes a loud bracha and bites into the juicy peach. She takes her pudgy hand and swiftly wipes the juice that starts trickling from her mouth. A triumphant smile spreads across her face and her eyes twinkle.

Chavie isn't any ordinary child. She is a Special Child. To make a bracha is a hardship for her. She must first cross a bridge with many obstacles on the way. But when Chavie finally gets to the other side, her struggle is well worth it.

BRIDGES

A bridge connects from land to land
From coast to coast
From sand to sand
Are you complete without that touch?
To cross that bridge, it's not too much.
To open up, to lend a hand
To tell someone, "I understand",
Through the years we sat
Through the years we learned
We understood, we strove
We yearned.
We had our share of good and bad
The times of laughter
The times of sad.
We all learned clearly how to see
However different you may be
A bridge connects from soul to soul
You're not alone, no, not at all.
This surely isn't quite the end
There's so much more around the bend
But we can smile and proudly say
We finally made it all this way.

CAPTURE THE MOMENT (IN MEMORY OF RUCHY WEISS)

It was the day that I found out about the death of Ruchy Weiss that I finally appreciated life. I was told that Ruchy woke up in the morning, brushed her teeth, and then felt chest pains. She was later nifter at the age of seventeen, a beautiful twelfth grader with outstanding traits. Born with heart problems, each day for her was a gift to her family and friends.

I never realized how precious years, hours, minutes even seconds could be. I took it for granted that every morning I woke up, went to school, came back home, did my homework, and went to bed again. I never really recognized how precious my parents, my grandparents, siblings, friends and neighbors are to me.

Today, I love my family even more. I try to use my time more wisely. I want to be a better person, do more good deeds, appreciate what I have, and not desire more.

At night, I say "Krias Shima Al Hamita" with more concentration, and pray that Hashem stops the plague of sick people and brings the final Geula to Klal Yisroel.

THE LASTING BOND

It was a dark, rainy night thirty years ago. I remember it as if it were yesterday. I looked out the window of the apartment in Rechavia searching for the white and red ambulance. Finally I heard ambulance sirens on the way. I ran outside, frantically waving to get their attention. The ambulance screeched to a halt in front of me. The attendants rushed out of the ambulance and wheeled in my charge. He looked so tiny on the large hospital stretcher. His breathing was getting more faint by the second. Finally I saw the welcoming letters of Shaare Tzeddek Hospital in the distance. The nurses ran outside and wheeled little Aharon into the large emergency ward.

Now little Aharon is a father of seven young children. I attended his Bar Mitzvah, his wedding, and the Brissim of his children. I looked at this little toddler standing before me. "If not for me, you wouldn't be here now," I thought. "I am the reason for your existence.

REUNITED

She had been awake since dawn. Only one more hour and he would be home at last. She wrung her hands anxiously. He had been gone for so many years. How would he look? Would he still maintain a firm hold on his beliefs and past learnings? Maybe he was sick? Maybe ... ...

She rocked her chair impatiently. Finally the moment she had been waiting for, for ten years, arrived. The door swung open and in the doorway stood a tall handsome stranger. Was this the little boy she had sung to sleep? Was this the boy she had sent to yeshiva so many years ago? He was so handsome in his tailored suit. Could this be the boy she had waved goodbye to as he left for war? She took a close look at his face and with a strangled cry fell into his arms. Her boy was now a man.

The man held the shriveled old woman in his arms. Tears flooded his eyes as he thought of the cold nights at the war front. Lonely, dark nights he had spent hunched before the dying fire, trying to warm his frostbitten fingers, all the while yearning for home, and he clutched his mother tighter.

Across the alley, in a small apartment, their neighbor stood at the window. She, too, had been waiting and watching. When she saw their joyful embrace, she smiled. How lucky she was to catch a glimpse of a rare sight, a mother reunited with her son!

BRIDGES

It was four a.m. The phone was ringing. Why bother answering it? It must be the wrong number. Then, at four twelve A.M. it rang again. This was it. We picked it up, and heard someone in the background crying. We stayed on the line until we heard the person say Baruch Dayin Emes. Our hearts sank. Our minds began to wonder. We just couldn't think who it could have died. Then the person said to my father "It's your father". That very reaction my father had to those words will be installed in my heart forever. He was not sick although he was blind. Well now he is in Gan Edin, and can't talk to me I hope he will always think about me. I hope that the bridge that connected us when he was alive, is still connecting now.

Malkie Svei

They stood there crying,
Did they make the right choice,
Why wouldn't their son speak?
What was wrong with his voice?

They had gotten married, ready for a child,
But tests had shown their chances were mild.
They longed for a daughter or son with whom to play and speak,
So they davened to Hashem every day of every week.

Finally they were given the chance to adopt a son,
They took him willingly as their dear one.
As they went home they cried tears of joy,
They now had their very own little boy.

As a baby the boy was really yummy,
They hugged and kissed him, they played with his tummy!
He was one year old, learning to walk,
But their child could not yet talk.

When their boy was three years old, they cut his hair,
They bought him a yamulka and tzitzis to wear.
He was now ready for first grade - a blackboard and chalk,
But to his parents he still wouldn't talk.

He had all his supplies ready for first grade,
He still had some fear, he was still afraid.
He learned his table manners; he ate with a fork,
But the little boy still wouldn't talk.

He grew and grew and finally he was Bar Mitzvah age,
Now he was entering another new stage.
He had a seuda with all of his friends,
But to speak to them he would not bend.

His parents were confused; they couldn't figure it out,
Did their son have nothing to talk about?
There was no speech connecting parents and son,
There was a gap in the bridge between one and one.

Then they realized they had made the right choice,
Even if they couldn't hear their son's own sweet voice.
Without them he'd be alone forever,
The bond of love was too strong for them to sever.

THE BOND

The connection between two sisters is something that can never be broken. A sister is someone you can share secrets with, laugh with, and fight with. There is an invisible rope that ties sisters together. The ties are now in a permanent knot. At times there are may be straining at the rope, but hold on tight.

You can compare this bond between sisters to magnets. A pair of sisters attract to each other. If they fight, and the magnets are reversed, they are pushed apart. But they still go together after one little twist - if one of them says they are sorry.

By The Water With Mama

She stood there by the water,
A long figure in the night,
She came to pour out her troubled heart,
To the water, glistening with light.

The sun had slipped behind the trees,
And then twilight had come,
And now she stood there, finally,
Her moment now had come.

Her body racked with silent sobs,
Her lips uttered a silent cry,
Tears for Mama, never forgotten,
Though years had gone by.

She sat gazing at the water,
So calm and serene,
It had a soothing effect in her,
Her calmness could be seen.

Here sitting at the water,
She suddenly felt strong love,
She felt a bonding with Mama,
Smiling down at her from above.

The Bridge Of Hope

She sits down by her window
And faces the scenery outside
The sun shines brightly on her face
But she cannot take pride.

The sky started to get dark
But she just sits and doesn't mind
For the world is always dark to her
This poor little girl is blind.

The doctors say there is no hope
But she has hope in her heart
For she and the window outlooking nature
Can never be far apart.

Each day she struggles with her life
She never gives up hope
But at times when she really wants to see
It's hard for her to cope.

She's traveling on the bridge of hope
Which she travels on each day
Each time she gets a little further
All she can do is pray.

TORAH CONNECTIONS

Learning Torah makes a person complete
They connect every time they meet
The special bond that occurs between them
Is from where Ahava and Achva stem.

Torah can connect with how you feel
It can help a person's Neshoma heal
Torah to each person is a dear friend
And this beautiful friendship will never end.

Torah is a person's guardian in life
Together they are like husband and wife
Spending each day through life together
Making a person better and better.

It is that day we await to come
When all Jews will connect with Torah, Ad olom
Learning together in the times of the Geula
We dearly wait for that Yeshua.

BRIDGES

I see a bridge above me
How it stands so tall!
The cars that travel on it,
Seem so very small.
At night, the bridge sparkles
Like diamonds upon the sea,
I admire its beauty and splendor,
And it seems to call to me.
But, tragedy can strike,
And this bridge can be blown down.
Everything collapses into the water,
Most of the people drown.
But there's a bridge that won't fall
Through fire, water, and wind.
It's a bridge that holds
Even when they've sinned.
It holds B'nei Yisroel together,
It's everlasting and strong,
And if B'nei Yisroel always travel upon it,
They will do no wrong.
It leads to the life of Torah,
It connects every Jew,
It cannot be taken away,
It can't be torn in two.
It's resisted annihilation,
Though other nations have dared,
For as long as we are steadfast,
Our bridge will always be there.

Nomi Dayan

THE SPECIAL BOND

There's a special bond beneath the heart
That draws a bridge between each part
From limb from soul to soul
We are forged together as a whole.
This bond is lit with an enormous ray of spark
It holds us together as a primary part
This bond is strong - it shall not break
It stands on truth through our faith.
You may do wrong, you may sin
But this bond will stand and not fall in.
This is the special bond between each Jew
To stand beside each other through and through
Through the burning of the Bais Hamikdash as tears filled our eyes.
As we only hope and pray that someday it will again arise
As, everything we've ever had has been taken away
Except for our Torah that we will forever obey.
People have tried to break the bond between us
But have never succeeded because of our trust
Our trust in Hashem that remains soaring in each soul
To be Zoche to come out of this galus our ultimate goal
As we seek for that we must obtain to survive
We will continue to wait for Moshiach to arrive!

Michal Feld

He stood at the water's edge,
By a bridge so old and torn,
A narrow path of wood and rope,
A bridge that was very worn.

Many people have come and passed,
Many stood out there to die,
And it still stood long and narrow,
Of many years of treading by.

And one passed there,
Through a storm so fierce and long,
And when the waters calmed and peace reigned,
He turned and out of happiness sang the very same song ...
That many people through the ages,
Many people through the years,
Sang this very song of praise,
And which this man sings at this moment to a G-d who always hears.

The Eternal Link

"My child,
don't be persuaded
don't be dissuaded
and always remember
what is the eternal link"
A father on that fateful night
about to embark to the world above
The child still in this world is linked to his father through ancestry and tradition.
If he throws off the yoke,
the yoke which unites the hearts of every true Jew,
he's lost at sea-
of individuality.
Thus the father forewarned
for temptation does linger that though a new era has sprung, a Jew is a Jew-forever just that.

"The Bridge of Friendship"

In the midst of all my savings and junk, I saw an old bracelet made out of different colored string. At first glance, I dumped it together with all the other garbage I was getting rid of, but a second thought stopped me. This bracelet, completely worthless, held the memories of the early, carefree years of my life.

My best friend, Chani, had given it to me as a good-bye present when we graduated elementary school. When I look at it, it reminds me of the snowball fights we had, the vacations we spent together, the trips and walks we went on, the studying we did together, all the fights we had and how we made up, the phone conversations, the tears and laughs, and just about all the times we shared together.

When she gave it to me, it was of little importance, and I thought of it as just a silly present. Now that same bracelet means a great deal to me, for it tells the story of my friendship with Chani.

Rivki Opoczynski

It's a cool brisk morning. On one side of the bridge a girl approaches. She is approaching the bridge because she feels hurt. She has lost someone close to her heart. She sees someone else from a distance. She feels better knowing she will meet someone in the middle of the bridge.

On the other side of the bridge is a girl who is leaving her past behind her and starting anew. She is scared and worried about what her new life will be like. She feels alone and she too feels calmer knowing she will meet someone on the way.

They both take their first steps. They are nervous and scared. They are both in need for someone to lean on.

They meet in the middle of the bridge. They look at each other - one with caring eyes and one with scared eyes. They hold hands and they feel close. They walk together forever on the bridge of friendship.

It bridges worlds together,
It bridges dreams together,
It bridges hearts together,
The possibilities are endless.

Do we fully understand what it means to connect?
Just think of the outcomes, just think of the effects,
Reach out, call out.

To a crying person, a hurting person, be a helping hand.
Be a friend, a guide, or just understand.
Can you ignore the yell, cry, the plea
Of a person like you and me?
Connect your heart to a friend's
The possibilities might never, ever end

What a wonderful emotion
To feel as if you've given full devotion and that you are linked.
Friendships blossom, bloom and grow
But we might never know.
If we reach out, and answer a common call
We will end up being connected with the most Holy One of all.

"Everlasting Friendship"

I sat down on a bench in the park and watched my children climb and jump, laugh and play. My mind suddenly flooded with memories of my childhood. I closed my eyes and began to remember ...

I had such a carefree childhood, filled with fun. I remembered when I was in school and in camp. I remembered the slumber parties and Shabbos afternoons. Then, I remembered my best friend, Suri.

We were inseparable. We did everything together. We shared each others happiness and comforted each other when we were sad. We did projects and homework together, went to camp together, and went to the same high school. We solved each others problems and strengthened each others confidence. I did nothing without Suri's approval and she did nothing without mine. Our friendship never weakened; it only strengthened as the years went by.

I remember how excited I had been when Suri got engaged. Little did I know that soon would come the time when we would have to part. Suri married someone who lived in England, while I married someone from our neighborhood. The picture of the plane disappearing between the clouds is still very clear in my mind.

This was not the end of our friendship, however. Distance did not separate us. We continued to send each other letters and birthday cards. We called each other up frequently to ask for advice, share some good news, or just to chat. Though Suri wasn't with me physically, I carried her with me in my heart. It didn't matter that we were separated since our bond of friendship was too strong to break.

Miles away, Suri sat down on a bench in the park. She watched her children frolic in the sunshine, laughing and playing. Her mind flooded with memories of the past. She closed her eyes and began to remember ...

Bridge of Faith

What is a bridge? Something made out of wood or metal built in order to help us reach a designated place - to connect us with that place.

A Tefila. What is a Tefila? Something that was created to help us reach a desired level of Kedusha - to connect with Hashem.

Bridges and Tefila have many similarities. Both are made to help us reach a designated place or level.

When you drive on a bridge, you must pay attention. If you don't, you may lead yourself to somewhere you don't want to be. You can fall off into the water.

So too, with Tefila. When you daven, you must pay attention and have Kavana. If you don't, you may end up on a Madrega you don't want to be at, or even worse, Chas Vshalom, it will lead you to stay off the Derech.

So next time you open up a Siddur and Daven, remember: one wrong move and your "off" the bridge. Believe me, it'll be hard to get back on.

Chaya Leah Scholar

The lighting flashes, the thunder explodes, and the rain crashes against the rocks and cliffs. Through the fog an elderly man can be seen painstakingly making his way across a narrow rickety bridge that sways dangerously over the angry water below.

The old man stops and stares at the rickety bridge that he is afraid to cross, yet he longs to reach the other end.

There are many different bridges for us to cross in life - some old rickety, some strong and new. No matter how hard it is to cross one of these, we must always remember that without attempting to cross these bridges we'll surely not reach our destination.

When people have to cross these bridges, they look to all their friends and neighbors for encouragement and help. Klal Yisroel has a much more powerful source of encouragement, Hashem. During all our hardships and tragedies we know that there is always someone watching over us and seeing us through, and knowing this, our faith and hope is built up and we can find the strength to continue on with life.

If you look closely you see the elderly man smiling on the other side of the bridge in brilliant sunshine.

As he stands there he thinks about his past, when he looked to Hashem for help and Hashem answered him.

Idy Perl

How lucky we all are! We live in a world where we have all our needs: warm clothes, healthy food, terrific schools, summer camps and other wonderful luxuries.

However life wasn't always like this. When my grandmother was a young girl, her life was very different. After going to Bais Yaakov in the morning and Public School in the afternoon, she would have to work to help her family make ends meet. However, she enjoyed Shabbos Bnos groups and looked forward to the summers where she went to camp with Bnos friends.

Then one day her life was shattered. No longer could she go, come and do as she pleased for now her life was controlled by the ruthless soldiers of Hitler Yimach Sh'mo.

As she was taken to working camps and to Bergen-Belsen concentrations camps her Neshama was striving to live. She went through many years of hardships and Tzaros. Fortunately she survived and never gave up hope in Hashem.

In 1949 she was liberated. Like many others she began to rebuild her life. She then married my grandfather Alav Hashalom who also was a survivor and never gave up hope in Hashem. They left Europe and came to America, where they began their family.

My grandparents were zocheh to continue the bridge of Yideshkeit that their parents had built in Europe. Having children, grandchildren and great grandchildren they have rebuilt the bridge that Hitler had tried to destroy. But Klal Yisroel throughout all the generations has always rebuilt bridges that their enemies have tried to destroy but never succeeded.

As long as we have our bridge of faith Hashem will protect us from destruction.

"גשר החיים"

ברכה רודווסקי

החיים עוברים כמו מים בנהר. המים זורמים לאט ולפעמים סוערים, אנשים הרוצים לעבור את הנהר, את זרם המים החזקים עלולים לטבוע. הגשר עוזר להם לעבור בשקט ובשלוה את המים וכמו כן את החיים.

הגשר הוא המסורת שהיא דרך החיים העומדת על היסודות החזקים של התורה והמצוות. דרך החיים הזאת היא הגשר החזק ביותר. והיא האמונה בה'. כמו שהגשר בנוי מחלקים המחוברים יחד ומאחד את שני הצדדים של הנהר הזורם, כך הם הדורות. הדורות ההולכים בדרך ה' השומרים את התורה ואת המצוות הם חלקי הגשר המאחד את כל הדורות. ההסטוריה הארוכה של עם ישראל היא זרם החיים וכל זמן שבני ישראל הולכים על הגשר ושומרים את המצוות הגשר שומר עליהם והם קימים לנצח.

בכל יום, בכל מקום, ובכל זמן. זה אצלנו, זה בתוכינו וזה לא רחוק. זה היה קיים בכל חיי אבותינו. זה מזכיר לנו את הכל. מהו הדבר החשוב הזה? זו התורה. "התורה" היא לא רק מילה. התורה היא לא רק דבר. התורה היא הצרך בחיינו. איך אנו יכולים לחיות בלי התורה? משתמשים בה בכל ימי חיינו. כל שנה שלומדים את התורה, לומדים עוד מפרשים. עוד ספרים. ועוד דברים מעניינים. אין סוף בלימוד תורה.

התורה, היא לא רק חמישה חומשי תורה- התורה היא יותר. היא עמוקה, ומעניינת- ולשמע אותה- זה מאד נפלא.

התורה היא דבר שממשיך לעולם. התוכן של התורה מלמד אותנו הרבה לקחים על החיים שלנו. הרבה דברים שאנו יכולים ללמד.

ולכן התורה נקראת "הגשר לנצח". הגשר ממשיך ולא מפסיק. ובקיצור, זה המשך לנצח.

"גשרים"

לאה סאסקין

כשאדם נולד יש לו נשמה נקי'ה. ה' נותן לו בחירה, אם יעשה טוב או רע. אם חס ושלום אדם בוחר ברע אין לו חלק בעולם הבא.

אבל איך יגיע האדם לעולם הבא?

האיש צריך לעשות מצוות, להיות יריא שמים, שומר תורה, איש אמת ובעל מידות טובות.

התחלת הגשר היא בעולם הזה. אנו מתחילים משם וממשיכים עד סוף הגשר. בדרך אנו משלמים מכס. המכס הוא המדות שאנחנו עושים. כל החיים שלנו אנחנו צריכים לעשות הרבה מצוות כדי שנוכל ללכת עד סוף הגשר. בסוף הגשר יש עולם חדש- עולם הבא- שהוא התכלית שלנו.

כשאיש מת הוא גומר לעבור את הגשר. הוא בצד השני של הגשר-בעולם הבא. בעולם הבא הוא יתחיל חיים חדשים וטהורים והנשמה שלו תנוח שמה אצל שכינת ה'.

"גשרים בונים עולמינו"

לאה בער-גער

מה הוא גשר ? מה תפקידו בעולם ? גשרים הם הדברים שעושים את חיינו שלמים. בלי גשרים לא היו קשרים ומעברים בין אנשים, ולא היו בינה ואהבה.

יש גשרים גופניים - הם מקשרים לנו הזדמנות לעבור מיוחד שנקרא טלפון. זה למקומות שמעבר לימים. הם נותנים בשביל עסקים. גם כן יש גשר אל אנשים שגרים במקומות אחרים . הם מאד חשובים ממקום אחד למקום אחר - בלי לנסוע אפילו. מקשר קולות אנשים שאינם גלויים לעין. הם גשרים של אהבה שקושרים הורים לבניהם. יש גשרים של דעת המקשרים מורים להפרדה. הגשרים האלו הם גשרים שבונים קשר מהלב - שאי אפשר לכרות - אפילו עם הפרדה. כולם הם קבועים בגלל שנכסים ודברים גשמיים אפשר לגנב, אבל אי אפשר לגנב דבר שהוא בלב איש.

אחד בשביל השני.

יש קשרים בין יהודי אחד לשני - "כל ישראל ערבים זה לזה". אבל הגשר הכי חשוב בעולם הוא הגשר בינינו לה'. ה' אבינו ואנו בניו - גשר חזק מכל דבר. אנו אוהבים את ה' בלי גבול.

אז כמו שאתם רואים, גשרים בונים את עולמנו!

רחלי לשנסקי

הגשר מאפשר תקשורת בין יבשות, איים או מדינות. כדי שנוכל להתקרב ולהגיע למקום היעד, הגשר צריך להיות מאד חזק, ולכן תמיד אנו צריכים לתקן, ולשפר אותו . פעמים רבות סוגרים נתיבים מפני שפוצים, ולמרות שזה לא כל כך נח, ואנחנו חסרי מורכב מגוף ונשמה. הגוף והקב"ה כמו שתי יבשות. הגשר שמקשר ביננו אנחנו עצבנים, רוטנים וכועסים על הפקק, צריכים להתמודד משום שבלעדי הגשר יהודי הנשמה. אפילו אם לפעמים לא נח לנו וזה לא כל כך שהחזק זה הנשמה. תמיד מוכרח מצוות, למוד תורה, השקפה ומוסר כדי שיכים להמשיך לעולם. שהנשמה ברוך הוא - לבקש את משאלות לבנו ולהודות לקל עליון. היא את המסורת כדי הקדוש ברוך תחלש. הנשמה מאפשרת לנו תקשורת בין הקדוש ברוך הוא, ודרכה אנו זוכים להתמלאות ברוחניותו מקרבת אותנו נפשית להקדוש ברוך הוא, ודרכה אנו זוכים להתמלאות ברוחניותו וקדושתו - אמן סלה!

כאשר אני הייתי קטנה גרתי בלוור איסט סייד, בנוי יורק סיטי. משפחתי היתה עניה כי לא היתה עבודה שאפשרה לאבא שלי לא לעבוד בשבת. אז הוא עבד כרוכל. גרנו במשכנות עוני עם עשרה אחים ואחיות, סבא וסבתא, ואמא ואבא שלי. בגלל העוני שלנו לא קבלנו מתנות או בגדים יפים, אבל קבלנו דבר מאוד מאוד יפה שישאר עמנו עד סוף ימינו.

כל שבת הסבתא שלי לקחה אותי ואת האחים והאחיות שלי על גשר „ברוקלין," וספרה לנו ספורים מגדולי הדור בעבר, וגם ספורים שהסבתא שלה ספרה לה. שמענו את הספורים עם עינים פתוחות וזכרנו כל מילה שהיא אמרה.

הסבתא שלי היתה בעלת חסד. היא נתנה צדקה לכל עני אף על פי שהיא היתה עניה. היא בקרה את החולים כל יום ושמחה את החולים. אני יכולה לכתוב ולכתב על מה שהיא עשתה אבל אין מילים שיכולות לתאר את מעשיה.

היום אני סבתא של הרבה ילדים, ואני לוקחת אותם על הגשר אבל לא גשר „ברוקלין", אלא על הגשר של מעשים טובים של הסבתא שלי והסבתא לפניה - המעשים טובים שיגשרו אותם לעולם הבא.

"גשר התקוה"

מיכל פעלד

יום ראשון ט"ז באב תשנ"ג - אני זוכרת אותו יום שהיה לפני שנתיים. אותו יום, נראה כל כך ברור כאילו הוא היה אתמול. בתי היקרה חנה היתה רק בת שלש, ביום שתאונת הדרכים קרתה לה.

זה בדיוק שנתיים מאז שחנה שכבה ללא הכרה בבית חולים. זה היה היום הנורא ביותר בחיים שלי ושל בעלי. דברתי עם חברתי והסרתי עיני מחנה בתי רק לשניה. ואז האסון קרה. חנה רצה לרחוב ואוטו פגע בה! אני הרגשתי שזו היתה אשמתי.

חנה היתה ילדה מאד מיוחדת בפרט שהיא נולדה לנו לאחר שמונה שנים של צפיה. ואז סוף סוף ה' נתן לנו את חנה. היא היתה הדבר היקר ביותר לנו, והיא היתה תוכן חיינו. ועכשיו הסיבה היחידה שהמשכנו בחיינו היא התקוה שה' ירחם עלינו וחנה תחזור אלינו שוב. אבל עד היום, הלילות שלנו היו לילות של תפילה בקשה וצפיה לישועה. השתדלנו לזכור את הימים השמחים שהיו לנו לפני התאונה!

כל זמן שאני יושבת ליד בתי בבית חולים ומחזיקה בידיה, האמונה שלי מתחזקת ואני מחכה ליום שהיא תפתח עיניה או שיהיה ממנה סימן אחר של חיים. וכשאני מחכה אני רק יכול הלקוות שה' יעשה נס וישמע לכל השעות של תהילים שאני מתפללת ואני מבטיחה שאם בתי תחזור ותחיה כמו ילדה רגילה, אני אקבל עלי עול מצוות נוספות.

ועכשיו אני מביטה בפנים השקטות של בתי ומחזיקה בידיה ואומרת מכל הלב, "קל נא רפא נא לה" עם תקוהשתפילתי תגיע השמימה.

מסביב שקט מוחלט. שעתיים בלי הפרעה.... ופתאום אני מרגישה לחיצה קטנה בידי - לחיצה שנתנה לי תקוה, ואז הבנתי שזה הגשר של תקווה שנתן לי את הכוח לעמוד בניסיון זה - להתפלל - שה' ישמע לתפילתי.

כבר שנים רבות שחנה ואני חברות טובות ומיוחדות. במשך שנת הלמודים ישבנו באותה כיתה ובקיץ הלכנו לאותו מחנה, ואפילו ישנו באותו אוהל.

יום אחד, בתחילת חודש יוני ישבנו ושתינו תחת עץ במחנה וקראנו ספרים. אחרי זמן הבחנתי שאינני קוראת ואינני יכולה להתרכז בספר אשר בידי אפילו שהוא מעניין. הרבה מחשבות רצו בראשי . חשבתי על סוף הקיץ.

"שורי! שורי!" שמעתי את קולה של נחמה.

"סליחה, אני מצטערת, לא שמעתי אותך".

"שורי!" אמרה חברתי "מהרגע שדברת עם אמא שלך בטלפון את לא מפסיקה לחלום ולחשוב. מה קרה לך?"

"כלום" עניתי "באמת כלום לא קרה!"

בימים שאחרי כן נראתי מוטרדת במחשבות. חברתי, שהיתה מאד קרובה אלי, דאגה מאד ואחרי שבקשה, ספרתי לה מה שמפריע.

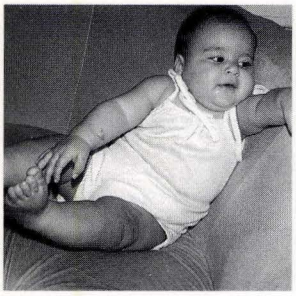

"אני ומשפחתי עוברות מפה. אנו עוברים לגור בצד השני של הגשר ", אמרתי לה בקול עצוב. נחמה לא ענתה. שתקנו ולא דברנו על כך יותר כל היום.

שבועות עברו ומחנה הקיץ נגמר נפרדנו אחת מהשני"ה בבכי רב. שתינו ידענו כי יעברו עוד ימים רבים עד שנפגש שוב.

שנים עברו מאז ואני כבר לא בת 13. אני כבר בת שלשים. לא עבר יום אחד מבלי שחשבתי על נחמה חברתי. החלטתי לעשות משהו. החלטתי לעבור את הגשר ולעבור לצד השני. לא אהבת את הגשר שהפריד ביננו. חזרתי לשכונה בה גדלתי לפני שנים רבות. שם, פגשתי את נחמה שהתחתנה בינתיים וילדה ילדים.

הפגישה היתה מאד מרגשת. רצנו אחת לקראת השני"ה. נפלנו אחת על צואר השני"ה ובכינו. הבטחנו כי לעולם לא נתן לגשר להפריד ביננו שוב.

We entered the mindless machine of teachers and classes. Most of the time, we became very similar. However, some of us kept our own obsessions.

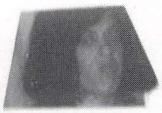

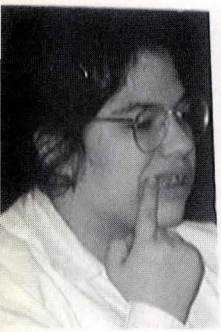

Yet another group of people set themselves aside with those habits of theirs ...

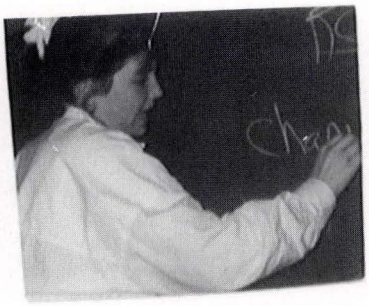

Although we are all the same, some of us feel the need to express our creativity in our own fabulous fashion statements ...

And we also express our creative abilities in our creative hairdos ...

And, of course, there are our hallowed teachers with their own habits, since they are so holy, we just love to emulate them ....

Our elementary school reunion of 2020, organized by S.T., was held at the home of F.M. The food, of course, was ordered by Z.S. (from M.S.'s father). O.M. drew a stunning "Welcome Back" sign, which was beautifully displayed on the front door.

The program began with a D'var Torah prepared by B.S. and her father, and an accompanying Peirush given by L.K. The program ended on an enjoyable note with a grammen written and sung by R.E.

As the meal was being served, A.Z. made a grand entrance. While we nibbled on our "Chap A Nosh" specials and O.P. munched on some fruits, S.F. combed out S.R.'s straight shaitel. E.F. then lectured us on the nutritional value of the chicken we were eating. Suddenly, I.P. entered and proudly announced, "The Pizza is here!" We were all disappointed, because our Fleshig mouths were watering for pizza! S.C.B. thoroughly lectured us on the dinim of Milichig and Fleshig. To cheer everyone up, A.R. played the flute.

Since it was obvious that most of us had put on a little weight over the years, J.A. and I.M. decided to hold an entertaining aerobics class. ShaD. couldn't handle the stress and strain of the exercises, but most of us were doing pretty well. However, before we knew it, D.M. collapsed, but thanks to Z.K., Snapples were distributed.

As the party began to wind down, L.P. and AR.M sat down for a "kumzitz". AD.M gave out fresh dill pickles, while P.Y. kissed everyone goodbye. The reunion was much enjoyed by the entire graduated classes of '96, except Y.Y. who decided to skip it.

MICHAL FELD

The Prospect Park Address

A half a score or ten years ago our parents brought forth onto this holy institution a new league of their own conceived for scholarship and dedicated to the proposition that students are not created equal to teachers.

Now we are engaged in a great battle testing whether that class or any class so conceived and so dedicated can long endure. We are met on the battered field of our holy institution. We have come to dedicate a portion of ourselves as a final resting place for those who have failed to gain knowledge in our institution. It is altogether fitting and proper that we do this.

But in a larger sense we have come to dedicate, we have come to consecrate, we have come to hallow this institution for future generations. The brave students who have struggled here through ten years of hardships have consecrated it far beyond anyone else's power. The faculty will little note nor long remember what we say here, but they can never forget what we did here. It is for those remaining who will hopefully continue in our footsteps, to be dedicated here and complete the unfinished work which we have nobly left behind. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us.

We here highly resolve that P.P.Y. under the future seniors will have a new reign: and this school of the students by the teachers, for the parents shall not perish from the Earth.

Sarah Rose and Esti Szmulewicz

Dear Diary ....

6th Grade:
We were mixed up for the first time .... We made new friends .... Dance competition for tea .... Mrs. Zimmerman and the magic diary-Chess tournament with Leah and Chaya! .... Mazel Tov Mrs. Bergstein had a baby boy .... We spent more time on logic puzzles than anything else with Miss Schorr .... Welcome Yeeta, Chayala, Fayge, and Orit!

7th Grade:
Was a great year .... Big sister, little sister .... Major play-Malky, will you ever get your three lines right? .... Emergence of Dawn .... Mama's Bank Account .... Leah Press, what class are you really in? .... Welcome C.D.T. .... What a memorable chagiga! .... Philadelphia! .... Leah finally stopped sucking her thumb! .... Oliver, Bezalel .... Mrs. Horwitz came .... and left .... We gave Mrs. Lichtenstein our undivided attention .... And Morah Friedman's countless cups of water .... We passed 7th grade, and from here on we're in charge!!

8th Grade:
We're seniors were finally on top ... Mazel Tov Morah Kuessous ... Miss Hirsh left ... Miss Twersky came Morah Schlesinger left ... Miss Pearl came ... Mrs. Garfinkel left ... Miss Jeramias came. Is there something wrong with our grade Nice color war breakout! n-i-c-e-t-r-y ... Congratulations Sasha and Borris ... can we get a ride? ... Washington ... GRADUATION ... Don't worry we'll always be careful on the trains ...

Yours Truly,
SENIORS

FAD CITY

A FAD=Frustration, Anxiety, & Depression
1ST GRADE:
"If you let me use your markers I'll be your bested friend" (for the day at least). In 1st grade cups were no longer used for drinking. Marker and glue dried on the bottom of the cup=what we considered a work of art. Sheesh! What on earth were we thinking?
2ND GRADE:
"Slap, slap, slap"-didn't we have anything better to do with our lives? (Like for instance: play with Barbie dolls.) Those pointless, ridiculous slap bracelets that came in all sizes and colors. That "slap 'r us" company probably made a fortunate off of us! What will they think of next? (Dolls that grow hair?)
3RD GRADE:
Well guess what? They sure did! Those dolls sure made a hit in our third grade classrooms.
4TH GRADE:
Shave, shave, shave. (you're probably thinking: Don't you think you were a little too young to do that??) No-it's eraser shavings! Our little hands got sore from all that constant shaving. What obsession! (What ever did happen to that shaving anyway??)
5TH GRADE:
"Listen, O.K. fine it's a sea. I'll trade you my carebear stickers and heart stationary for your clown stickers-you know the ones that glow in the dark!!" I think you get the point.
6TH GRADE:
"Cool! Are you serious?" Cool, cool, cool. Wasn't it ever warm? (ha, ha) Our vocabulary really extended that year. We learned new words and the school will never forget it.
7TH GRADE:
V-e-s-t. Vests. They were "in."
8TH GRADE:
We are the fad!

TO AURA AND ADINA MILLER

At graduation of our special twins,
We give our thanks to Hashem above,
Who e'er completes what He begins,
And shares with us His precious love.

Through trials and tests, we watched them grow
These daughters, doubled in beauty and midos;
To reach a standard which now we do know
Is filled with knowledge, with Torah and Tznius.

Proud we are, Your parents dear;
With Tzivia Bracha, Esti and Hanan.
Bubbie, Zaidy, Granny, so far so near Yosefa Nechama, Nicssy and Gilan.

Bless them both with love unending,
And grant them both health and understanding.

THANK YOU

We would like to extend gratitude to the following people who helped to make our yearbook what it is: Thank you Rabbi Kelman, Rabbi Price, Mrs. Klestzick and Mrs. Aberbach for all your help and support. Thank you to all our teachers for bearing with us when we had to be out of class.

Thank you Mrs. Shain for overseeing the entire yearbook from head to toe: for getting us started, for leading up step by step through layout, ads, photography, literature ... We could go on forever!

To our dedicated yearbook helpers

What can we say? You were always there when we needed you. Thank you, Shira Davis - for putting together all the ads.

Adina Miller - for putting together the ads and for typing up all the Hebrew.

Sarah Tusk - for helping type feature and literature.

WE COULDN'T HAVE DONE IT WITHOUT YOU!
